Marry in Haste, Repent at Leisure.

Considerable interest is excited among the relatives of a certain Miss Jaquett, in Ches-ter county, in a subject in which the commu-nity at large is also interested. The lady in question has made application for a divorce, and the bill is about to come before the Sen ate. The circumstances of the case are pe-culiar. Miss Jaquett, about a year ago, was at a small party with a certain Mr. Bachtell, where the one publicly challenged the other to get married—by way of a joke. The banto get married—by way of a joke. The vanter was mutually accepted; the gentleman and lady jumped into a vehicle, posted off to a neighboring clergyman—the knot was tied —but the lady, having showed her spirit, declared she would carry the joke no further.
Both parties soon found they had carried the joke too far. Mr. Bachtell was a gentlemen of property in Ohio. He could no longer make title to his real estate. The young lady, who reigned as a rillage belle, soon found she had been trifling with a serious matter. It was an act of youthful indiscre-tion for which the law had provided no remedy.

It should be said in extenuation of the young lady, that her ignorance of the bind-ing obligation of the ceremony is not a matter of so much surprise, but it can hardly be doubted that Mr. Bachtell was well posted pp, and is therefore the party responsible for the act.

Another Mysterious Poisoning Case in Bos-ton.—The Boston papers contain an account of the supposed poisoning of Mrs. Lavinia Briggs, of Stoughton, and the arrest of het husband, Hossa Briggs, and a young woman, Miss Adaline Drake, as the supposed au-thors of her death. Mrs. Brigge' body was taken up, and charcoal tests were applied, which showed arsenic in the stomach and bowels. The case is now under examina-

AND ALI DISEASE OF THE LUNGS And THROAT are positively curable by inhalation, which conveys the remedies to the cavities in the lungs through the air passages, and coming in direct content with the disease, neutralizes the inhercount matter, allays the cough, causes a free-ward cost and compared to the couple, imparts renewed virgity to the network system, giving that look and sucryy so indispensable for the restorative of health. To be able to stale confidently that Consumption is curable by inhalation, is to me a source of unalloyed pleasure. It is as much under the control of medical treatment as and other formidable disease; ninery out of very family dred cases can be cored in the first stages, and fifty per cent. in the second, but in the third stage it is unpossible to save more than five per cent, for the lungs are so cut up by the disease as to/bid defiance to medical skill. Even, however, in the lest stages, inhalation affords extraordinary relief to the auffering attending this fearful scourge, which annually destroys ninety five thousand persons in the United States alone; and a correct calculation show that out of the present population of the earth, eighty millions are deciticated to fill the consumptive? grave.

Truly the quiver of death has no arrow so fatal as Consumption. In all ages it has been the grant enemy of hife, for it spares neither age nor sex, but sweeps off alike the brave, the beautiful, the graceful, and the gifted—By the help of that Supreme Being, from whom cometh every good and perfect gift, I am enabled to offer to the afforded a permanent and speedy cure in Consumption. The first cause of tabercles is from impure blood, and the immediate effect, produced by their disposition in the lungs, is to prevent the free admission of air into the bit cells, which causes a weakened vitality imough the entire system. Then surely it is more rational to expect greater good from medi-

by their disposition in the lange, is to prevent the free admission of air into the the cells, which causes a weakered visits, through the entire system. Then surely it is more rational to expect greater good from readi; actions entering the cavines of the lungs than 17, from those administered through the stomistic free and the breathing easy after tobaling remedies. True, inhalation is not a local remedy, nevertheless it acts constitutionally, and with more power andeertainty than remedies administered by the stomach. To prove the powerful and direct influence of this mode of administration, chloroforth inhalad will entirely destroy sensibility in a few minutes, paralyzing the entire servous system, so that a limb may be amputated without the system when fainting or apparently dead.—The odor of many of the medicines is perceptible in the skin a few minutes after being dishaled, and may be immediately detected in the blood. A convincing proof of the constitutional effects of inhalation, is the fact that sickness is always produced by heathing foul air. Is not this possive evidence that proper remedies, carefully prepared and judiciously administered through the langs, should produce the most kappy results? During eighteen years practices, many thousands, suffering from diseases of the lungs and throat, have been under my care, and I have affected many remarkable curse, even after the sufferers had been pronounced in the last stages, which fully astisfies me that consumption is no longer a latal disease.—My treatment of consumption is original, and founded on long experience and a thorough investigation. My perfect acquaintance with the nature of tubercles, &c., enables me to distinguish readity the various forms of diseases that atmuniate consumption; and apply the proper remedies rarely being mistaken even in a single case. This familiarily in connection with certain pathological and microscopic discoveries, enables me to relieve the lungs from the effects of countacted cheets; to enlarge the chest, purity th

During twenty years' practice, I have restored to bealth over seventeen thousand patients, who were suffering under the worst happiness, as they are the first cause of consumption, scrofula, &c., and should be a terror to all nations on the earth; for the disease is becoming so common, and treatment so little understood, that a permanent cure is scarcely ever effected, as a misjority of the cases fall into the hands of incompetent persons, who not only fail to cure the malady, but rain the constitution with corrosive sublimate—a dangerous poison, a preparation of mercury—which, with the remains of disease in the system, produces many of the above named affections, which finally terminate in consumption, and frequently a rapid

LOTTERIES;

THE well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRANCE & Co are the misangers, are chartered by the staje of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the inperiess of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing.—Another fact which the managers call stiention to, is, that all persons have a legal fright to send orders for teckets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is hamed, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of lickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent tilless the money for the same is febreived with the order. The drawings are tipon fits prisciple of one number on each ticket (after the Havan plan); and Ternary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100,000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawings mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.
