AND ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS and THTOAT are positively curable by nhalation, which conveys the remedies to be eavities in the lungs through the air passes, and coming in direct contact with the disease, neutralizes the tubercular matter, allays the cough, causes a free and eavy expectoration, heals the lungs, purifies the blood, imparts renewed vitality to the nervous system, giving that tone and energy so indispensable for the restorative of health. To be able to state confidently that Consumption is curable by inhalation, is to me a source of curable by inhalation, is to me a source o unalloyed pleasure. It is as much under the control of medical treatment as any othe formidable disease; ninety out of every hundred cases can be cored in the first stages dred cases can be cured in the first stages, and fifty per cent. in the second; but in the third stage it is impossible to save more than five per cent., for the lungs are so cut up by the disease as to bid defiance to medical skill. Even, however, in the last stages, inhalation afterds extracrdinary relief to the suffering attendirg this fearful scourge, which ennually destroys ninety five thousand persons in the United States alone; and a correct calculation shows that out of the present population of the earth, eighty millions are destined to fill the consumptive's grave.

Truly the quiver of death has no arrow so fatal as Consumption. In ull ages it has been the great enemy of life, for it spares neither age nor sex, but sweeps off alike the brave, the beautiful, the graceful, and the gifted.—By the help of that Supreme Being, from whom cometh every good and perfect gift, am enabled to offer to the affleted a permanent and speedy cure in Consumption. The whom cometh every good and perfect gill, in me nabled to offer to the afficted a permanent and speedy cure in Consumption. The first cause of tabercles is from impure blood, and the immediate effect, produced by their disposition in the lungs, is to prevent the free admission of air into the air cells, which causes a weakened vitality through the entire system. Then surely it is more rational to expect greater good from nedicines entering the cavines of the lungs than from those administered through the stomach, the patient will always find the lungs free and the breathing easy after inhaling remedies. True, inhalation is a local remedy, nevertheless it acts constitutionally, and with more power and certainty than remedies administered by the stomach. To prove the powerful and direct influence of this mode of administration, chloroform inhaled will entirely destroy sensibility in a few minutes, paralyzing the entire nervous system, so that a limb may be amputated without the slightest pain; inhaling the ordinary burning gas will destroy life in a few hours.

The inhalation of ammonia will rouse the system when fainting or apparently dead.—

system when fainting or apparently dead.— The odor of many of the medicines is per The odor of many of the medicines is per-ceptible in the skin a few minutes after being inhaled, and may be immediately detected in the blood. A convincing proof of the constitutional effects of inhalation, is the fact that sickness is always produced by breath-ing foul air. Is not this positive evidence that proper remedies, carefully prepared and judiciously administered through the langs, should produce the most happy results? Du-ring eighteen years' practice, many thousring eighteen years' practice, many thous ands, suffering from diseases of the lung-and throat, have been under my care, and and throat, have been under my care, and I have affected many remarkable cures, even after the sufferers had been pronounced in the last stages, which fully satisfies me that consumption is no longer a fatal disease.—My treatment of consumption is original, and founded on long experience and a thorough investigation. My perfect acquaintance with the nature of tubercles, &c., enables me to distinguish readily the various forms of disease that simulate consumption, and apply the proper remedies rarely being mistaken even in a single case. This familiarity in connection with certain pathological and miseven in a single case. This familiarity in connection with certain pathological and microscopic discoveries, enables me to relieve the langs from the effects of contracted chests; to enlarge the chest, parity the blood, impact to it renewed vitality, giving energy and tone to the entire system.

His shop is at the old stand, (too welknown to need further notice) where he may at all times be found, seated upon the bench of repentance, steadily drawing out the thread of affliction, hopeing it may in the end prove advantageous to him and his customers. Jas. A. Rudders, Esq.—Dear Sir: Yours of 2d inst. is at hand. The Cure arrived late last year and the difficulty in getting any one to try it was greatly increased from the fact that a remedy had been introduced which was growing in favor with the public, as being better than using Quinine,—not knowing I presume that the remedy they needed to escape taking Quinine, contained the DRUG ITSELF!

This remedy, (known as "Smith's Tonic.") would invariably BREAK an ague, but it did not CURE it, and it would often return with renewed vigor. The one circumstance I deemed in your favor, if I could institute a test comparison between it and your CURE. The following is the result:

PRICE TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

The Author of the above volume is a graduate of one or the first medical schools in the United States, and having devoted a quarter of a century to the study and treatment of Syphilis and kindred disorders as a speciality, he has become possessed of most invaluable information in regard to the same, and is able to compass into vade mecum compass the very quintessence of medical science on this important subject; as the result of the experience of the most eminent physician in Europe and America is thoroughly demonstrated in his own highly successful practice in the treatment of secret diseases in many thousands of cares in the City of Philadelphia alone.

The practice of Dr. Hunter has long boen, and still is literally unbounded, but at the earnest solicitation of numerous persons, he has been induced to extend the sphere of his professional usefulness to the community at large, through the medium of his "Medical Manual Hand-Book for the Afflic'ed."

It is a volume that should be in the hand of every family in the land, whether used as a preventive of secret vice, or as a guide for the alleviation of one of the most awful and destructive scourges ever visited upon mankind for the sins of sensuality and impurity of every kit d.

It is a volume that has received the unqualifor the sins of sonsuality and impurity of every ki d.

It is a volume that has received the unqualified recommendation of the first physicians in the land, while many clergymen, fathers, mothers, thilanthropsits and humanitariats, have most freely extended its circulation in all quarters where its powerful teachings would be likely to be instrumental in the moral purification and physical healing of multitudes of our people, among the young, volatile and indiscreet, otherwise the pride and flower of the nation.

The author argues particularly, most strongly against every species of self-defilement, and warns parents and guardians, in searching terms, to guard the young of both sexes from the terrible consequences concomitant of their ignorance of physiological laws and sexual multipurities and irregularities, whether exhibitent precocious development or arising from the purtues and irregularities, whether exhibitency precocious development or arising from the viscious and corrupting examples of their schoolmates or otherwise. To those who have heed already ensuared to the "paths that take hold on hell," a clear and explicit way is shown by which they may secure a neturn of sound health and a regeneration of the soul from its terrible nollution.

It is well known that thousands of victims are annually sacrificed at the shrin of Quackery—especially those suffering from Venereal or Syphilitic diseases—Strictures, Seminal Weakness, Nervous Debility, and the numerous maladies which spring directly or less remotely from the indulgence of carnal passions and secretivisations of Nature.

In view of these facts, and when it is also considered that about 100,000 persons die annualized may be in the United States of Conoumption—a large majority being the victims of the voluputous indiscretion of their progenitors, agreeably to the Scriptural enunciation, that the sins of the parents are visited upon the children, even to the third and fourth generation. The Author, imbuted with sentiments of enlarged philinthropy, will scarcely be censured for any effort to treatment the vices of the age, by the humble instrumentality of his Medical Mannal, One copy, securely enveloped, will be forwarded free of postageto any part of the United States for 25 cents, or 6 copies for $1, Address, post paid, COSDEN & CO., Publishers,

TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE,
There is an evil habit sometimes indulged in by boys, in solitude, and which, if not reformed in due time, not only begets serious obstacles to matrimonial happiness, but gives rise to a series of protracted, insidious, and devastating afflictions. Few of those who give way to this pernicious practice are aware of the consequences, until they find the nervous system shattered, feel strange and unaccountable feelings, and vague fears
