THE BALLOT BOX.

No man in the State has any doubt of the success of the Democratic party at the coming election, if the strength of the party can be brought to the polls, upon the day of the election. We have the numbers, and if we lack any thing, it is the excitement of the We ought, however, to have a fixed and settled determination, independer of all outside causes, to sustain ourselves in the position we now occupy before the world; and to keep the good old Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in the line of safe precedents, and in support of the doctrines and measures upon which the presidential election was fought, and upon which the administration is now being conducted.

The State as well as the National issues are all in favor of the Democratic party, and that being the case, nothing is wanting at this time but our votes. Them it is our duty to give, and we cannot escape the responsibili ty of misrule; if we neglect now, to secure the blessings within our reach. We do not work for ourselves, we do not even live for ourselves alone; but individually and collectively we are responsible to those who shall follow us, as well as to our own consci-

No people under the sun, have the privilege of choosing their rulers, except ourty of a duty when we contemplate the immeuse importance of the issues involved .--Issues not only national in their results, but affecting for good or for evil the human race in all quarters of the world. Do you not see that in our hands, in the hands of the Democratic party is the book of truth, and the burning torch; by whose light the nations are endeavoring to read the glorious page inscribed, human rights.

Come forward then, and let them see that you appreciate the privileges you enjoy; and give them a lesson in self government, and the rights and duties men owe to each other. There is a weapon surer set,

A weapon, that comes down as still, As snow-flakes fall upon the sod; And executes a freeman's will, As lightning does the will of God.

And from whose force, nor bolts nor locks

Can shield them—'tis the ballot box.

THE TICKET.

In addition to the importance of coming out to the election, is that of voting the ticket from top to bottom when you do come. The organization of the party can only be maintained in its purity, when each member of the party, forgetful of self, works for the general success. We hope therefore that throwing aside every feeling of discontent and disappointment, the leaders as well as the rank and file of the party will go earnestly to work and secure a full vote, and a clean vote for the ticket.

The endorsement of a democratic conven tion ought not to be gainsaid; and no man who considers homself a democrat should decline to support a nomination. No opposition candidate can be so unexceptionable, as one of our own party friends, and it is a ing him our vote.

the polls. Let the rivalry, if any is to exist, be to see who can do the most for the success of the party; who can be most influentist in getting a heavy vote for the ticket.

Smith B. Thompson.

Now let the memory of Clay, Webster, Marcy, and Calhoun, sink away; and let the great party which used to arrogate to itself ali the "intelligence and respectability," hide its diminished head for-Smith B. Thompson is nominated for Congress. These are great times as well as "hard" times, when states men spring up like mushrooms fully formed in one night. Time was when men did talk some little about the finess of things, but this age is prolific in all things now. If any Democrat ever hesitated or doubted whether the indefatigable industry and high moral character of Leidy-the sagacity and shrewdness of McReynolds-the patriotic impulse and boldness of Wright-or, the clear, logical mind of Little-rendered these men fit for Congress: such skeptic need doubt no longer since Smith B. Thompson has been nominated for Congress by the opposition.

The Governor has called an extra ses sion of the Legislature. His pets, the banks, have got him into trouble, and he wants the model legislature to get him and them out. It will be the short session—five days—and in that time, no doubt, great things will be done. His course meets the approval of done. The Worcester (Mas.) Bay State says :-"We have the name of a gentleman who heard Senator Henry Wilson, when that individual was in Kansas tell Messrs. Robison and Kane, 'Do not vote at the October election! Let them form a slave State. Aid them to do so if you can without suspicion! That is all the cepital which we ask for the next Presidential election!"

This is a fair sample of Black Republican hypocrisy, and yet the people of this State community, and especially upon labor, in are asked to vote for David Wilmot, the very chief among the conspirators. The lives of and honor of the Commonwealth are consecurity of the Union are nothing, when capital can be made for the next Presidential election. Common Sense in a Money Pante.-Moneyed men are the veriest cravens on earth; so timid that at the least alarm they pull their head, turtle like, within their shell, and snughoused, hug their glittering treasure until all fear is removed. The consequence is, that a few days' disturbance of the monetary atmosphere brings on a perfect dearth of not only the precious metals, but of even paper money, their representative.

Moneyed men never adopt the tactics of nutual support; hence, as soon as a shot is fired into the flock, they scatter, each looking out for himself, each distrustful of the other, away in quest of work from the clothing and each recognizing only the great law of selfishness, which is, to take care of number one. Courage has saved many an army, even when ammunition was low, and many a foe for servant girls for some time past; soon has been scattered by one yell of defiance

Populty Against a Bank.

The case of the Commonwealth against the Houesdale Bank, to recover the primposed by the banking law of the for not keeping its notes at par in Philadel phia, was tried at Honesdale last week, and the Commonwealth. The spit was instigated about a year ago, and it was then given out as the intention of the Commonwealth officers to enforce this penalty against the banks that had neglected to comply with the provisions of the law requiring them to keep their notes at par in the cities of Philadelphia and Pittsburg, respectively; but instead then large; has since very greatly increased, tion and not the rule. Nine-tenths of the is sues of the interior Banks of the State which find their way to Philadelphia, are at a disequally disgraceful to the Banking institutions of the State, and the State authorities which permit this systematic infraction o the law. It is, we are aware, a matter o very large interest to the uncurrent money brokers, and in many cases to the banks themselves, which have agencies to buy up their notes, but it is a grievous tax upon the cerned. The counsel in this case, on the part of the Commonwealth-Hon. John C. Kunkel and Gen. William H. Miller-are able and experienced lawyers, and the former is reported to have won great credit by the ability and force of his argument before the jury. We sincerely trust he will not al epportunity to pass of adding still further to his legal reputation, bp bringing every delinquent Bank in the State into Court. A single conviction of a single institution, once in three years, amount to vance of the law. Justice demands the prosecution of every Bank that has violated the law, and unless this is done the State authorities will be held equally censurable with the Banks themselves.

The whole world is a lottery, in which the men and women are continually drawing blanks and prizes. Society would cease to have any excitement; life would have no charms were this not the case; for mankind must have something to hope for in order to exist. Commerce is based upon this necessity of man's nature; and all kinds of busisiness and trade are purely speculative, because nothing is certain. The establishment of lotteries has grown out of the knowledge of this principle, which operates so powerfully upon society; and they will always be sanctioned and supported, because they are truly beneficial to a large majority of the public, who crave excitement in matters of gain and desire to do so without being subjected to the injuries and loss of time incidental to gaming. They are strictly commercial as any other business where risks are indulged in; for chance rules every result where investments are made. Hence it is, that Messrs. Anderson & Son, of Macon and Savannah, Georgia, who are to draw the Jasper County Academy Lottery, on the 15th inst., are sucquarter of a ticket, and they send out more than one prize to every ten applications slighter investments can do so by enclosing a ticket in one of their small drawings, which take plach every Saturday throughout the

Convicted of Libel.

Joshua S. Fletcher, publisher of the Daily Sun, has been convicted in the Philadelphi Court of Quarter Sessions, of libel upon John P. Sanderson, Esq., editor of the Daily News This prosecution grew out of the publication Sun of the 23 of May last, of an article from a paper published at Lock Haven, Pa., charging that Mr. Sanderson had been bought with money to oppose the Republican ticket at the last election, and making similar aspersons against his integrity as an editor -Under the new law of libel in this State, the defendant might have given the truth in evidence to justify the publication, but he failed to do so, and rested his defence upon the verdict of guilty.

It would appear, from the result of this trial, that the reputation of an editor is still considered private property, which may not be assailed and destroyed with impunity. A few more examples of this kind would do

THE DECLINE IN SUGARS .- The New York and Boston papers bring to us the gratifying and boston papers that the sugar market, which had already greatly declined is still falling and there is a prospect of still greater decline. The fall from the highest point to which speculators had held is full three cents a pound, and already the losses are very The Boston Traveler estimates the loss on sugars throughout America and Europe at $50,000,000. No one will cry over this result except the speculators.

INCREASE OF BANKING CAPITAL.

We are pleased that the last Demo State Convention took strong ground against the increase of Banks. The banking capital of this county has been increased during the present year $1,200,000. This might have been well enough, if there had been any increase in the amount of specie in the county to warrant it. But when the stock had to be taken, and paid for in the notes of other banks, we cannot see any thing else but ruin to result from such expansion. Dur ing this same year the banking capital of Philadelphia has been increased by the acts of last session, $1,900,000, and the aggre-gate increase of banking capital in the whole te since the first day of January last, has been the enormous amount of $5,250,000 .-And yet we will venture to assert that all this immense expansion was based on less capt tal than there was in the State two year What need of refined theories about balance of trade to explain the cause of our present troubles?

The Coal Trade.

The Sunbury American in speaking of the coal trade, says that trade perhaps was never nore depressed than at the present time. Our operators in the Shamokin region have ot been exempt from this general depression Though economical and industrious, several firms, we regret to say, have been obliged to yield to the pressure of the times. Others are weathering the storm under adverse circomstances, with a view of the "better time coming." In Schuylkill county, we understand, the effects of this depression have been most disastrous, and that many of the mos energetic and industrious business men have been driven to the wall. The coal trade in this county has ever been of a most precarious character. This should not be, and why it is so, is, perhaps difficult to determine. It is a business that requires close attention an considerable capital, and should be more certainly remunerative .- Tamoqua Gazette.

Dauphin County Canvass.

A great battle is being fought in Dauphin ounty by national men, against those whose principles are sectional, and whose success would involve the dismemberment of the Union. We contend against those who, for-Union. We contend against those who, for-getful of the benefits of the Union, would risk our greatest good and happiness through a mistaken and exaggerated sympathy for the black man. We contend against abolitionism under whatever guise, and appeal to all true men, who have hearts large enough to embrace the whole country, to assist in the Ham Peter S overthrow of this fanaticism. The prospects are bright for the conservative men of Dau phin county-no matter the party to which they belong-are rallying to the support of national banners, and are fighting under flags Kirk Mary which are emblazoned with more than sixteen stars. The information from all quar ters is cheering; and we believe that it only requires a united and determined effort to se cure the important result of rescuing Dauphin county from the hands of men who are, at heart, abolitionists.

Critical Condition of the New York and Eric Railroad .- It is very manifest from the move ments of the New York and Erie Railroad Company, that that costly and expensive work is on its last legs. Mr. Moran, its $25,000 per annum President, cries peccavi. His call r a six million loan procured only tempora ry accommodation, from New York banks, onty 575,000 dollars. A million and a half of dollars were and are requested for the liabilities of the present month, and three illions or more within ten months. "Its labor," Mr. Moran says, "has not been regularly paid, and unless its owners come forward, there is imminent risk of ficiture." deed, it is generally understood that the Company's liabilities have been neglected for several weeks.
