

PROCLAMATION.

Governor Pollock has issued the following Proclamation, appointing Thursday, the 26th of November, as a day of general Thanksgiving and Praise, in this State:

PENNSYLVANIA, ss: In the name and by the authority of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, JAMES POLLOCK, Governor of the said Commonwealth:

Fellow Citizens:—To tender to Almighty God, who controls the destinies of nations and men, the homage of devout gratitude and praise for His goodness and mercy, is the appropriate and solemn duty of a free and highly favored people. As the giver of every good and perfect gift we should ever recognize His hand in our mercies, and acknowledge our dependence upon His Providence; and although adversity may throw its dark shadows across our pathway, yet we should be assured of this, "that the Judge of all Earth will do right."

During the past year the bounties of a kind Providence have not been withheld from our Commonwealth. Our free institutions have been preserved, and our rights and privileges, civil and religious, enjoyed and maintained. The arts and sciences, and the great interests of education, morality and religion, have claimed attention and received the encouragement of an intelligent and liberal people. Honorable industry in its varied departments has been rewarded; and although recent and severe financial revulsion has filled with gloom, sorrow and distress, the hearts and homes of many of our citizens, yet no fear of famine, no dread of impending public or social calamity, mingles with our emotions of gratitude for past blessings, or weakens our trust for the future, in the Providences of Him who wounds but to heal, and "whose mercy endureth forever." A plentiful harvest has crowned the labor of the husbandman—peace, with its gentle and refining influence, and unwonted health with its benefits and mercies, have been vouchsafed to us.

In acknowledgment of those manifold blessings, we should offer unto God thanksgiving and pay our vows unto the most High; and call upon Him "in the day of trouble; He will deliver thee and thou shalt glorify Him."

Under the solemn conviction of the propriety of this duty, and in conformity with established custom and the wishes of many good citizens, I, James Pollock, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, do hereby recommend Thursday, the twenty-sixth day of November next, as a day of general thanksgiving and praise throughout this State, and earnestly request the people that, abstaining from their usual avocations and all worldly pursuits, they assemble on that day according to their religious customs, and unite in offering thanks to Almighty God for His past goodness and mercies; and while humbly acknowledging our transgression, and imploring His forgiveness, beseech Him, with sincere and earnest desire, to return and visit us again with His loving kindness, make us worthy of His bounties, and continue to us the rich blessings of His Providence and grace.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State at Harrisburg, this nineteenth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, and of the Commonwealth of the fifty-second.

By the Governor, JOHN M. SULLIVAN, Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth.

STEAMSHIP COLLISION.

Sinking of the Steamship Opelousas. NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 17.—The Texas steamship Opelousas, from Berwick Bay for Galveston, came in collision with the Galveston at midnight on the 15th inst. The Opelousas sank almost immediately, carrying down twenty-five of her passengers, including Gen. Hamilton, of South Carolina. All her officers and crew were saved.

The Opelousas and Galveston both belonged to the same line, and plied between Berwick Bay and Galveston. The Opelousas sank in about fifteen minutes after the collision. Eighteen of her passengers are known to be lost, including Gen. Hamilton, and the loss of life is probably more than this. There were fifty-six passengers on board.

The Galveston was somewhat disabled by the collision, but the captain and crew succeeded in saving the officers and crew of the Opelousas, and many of her passengers.
