Woking thus on a very large scale, and under a rigid system, they are able to secure a perfect and uniformity in the quality taroughout the year. This is the great Decideratum in Starch-making, and is realized now for the first time.

The very best starch that can be made, and no other, is always was ted by consomers, and while this will be supplied to them by the grocers, as soon as their customers have learned which is the best, and ask for it—therwise they would be likely to get that article on which the largest profit can be made.

Mr. Kingsford has been engaged in the manufacture of starch continuously for the ast 27 years, and during the whole of the period, the starch made under his supervision has been, becomd any questio, the best in the market. For the first 17 years, he had the charge of the works of Wm. Chigase & Co., at which period he invented the process of the manufacture of corn starch.
