The New York Tribune.—1857-8.

The Tribune was first issued as a daily on the 10th of April, 1841. Its weekly edition was commenced in September of the same year; its semi weekly in May, 1845. It was the first daily in America to issue a double or eight page sheet at a low price, and it has kept at least even with the foremost of its rivals in the rapid expansion of Newspaper enterprise, which the great extension of Railroad, and the establisnment of the Telegraph system, have crowded into these last sixteen eventful years. No larger journal is afforded at so low a price as any quarter of the world; none in America, no matter at what price issued, pays an equal amount, weekly or monthly, for intellectual labor. It employs correspondents regularly in the leading capitals of Europe, and at the most important points on this continent, with a liberal staff of writers and reporters at home, regarding full, early and accurate information as first object of a Newspaper, and the timely and thorough elucidation thereof as the chief end of its editorials. In that spirit the TRIBUNE has been and will be conducted, extending and perfecting its correspondence so fast as the increase of the patronage will justify. Should the current attempt to connect the Old with the New World by the magnetic wire prove successful, we shall, very soon, at a heavy cost to ourselves and, we trust, a corresponding advantage to our readers, publish each morning a synopsis of the preceding day's occurrence throughout Europe, Northern Africa, and Western Asia, with regular reports of the markets, the monetary aspects and harvest prospects of hither Europe. With a good atlas beside him and his daily paper on his fireside table, the American farmer or artisan within a day's ride of the city may then study each evening the doings of the civilized world throughout the day preceding; and it seems hardly possible that any one who can read, but especially one who has children to educate, will longer deny himself the pleasure and profit of a daily journal. The same is true measurably of those who live further inland; though were mails are unfrequent, a semi-weekly, or even a weekly paper, may seem sufficient.

The TRIBUNE deals with questions of Political Economy, Public Policy, Ethics, material Progress and whatever may affect the intellectual, moral, social and physical well-being of mankind, dogmatic Theology alone excepted. Its leading idea is the honoring of honest, useful work in whatever sphere or capacity, and the consequent elevation of the laboring class in knowledge, virtue, and general esteem. It is necessarily hostile to Slavery under all its aspects, to Intemperance in whatever form or degree with its accessories, to War save in defence of Country and Liberty against actual invasion, and to every form of Gambling. Desiring to see production extended and encouraged, while wild Speculation and useless traffic are curtailed, it favors the policy of sustaining and diversifying Home Industry by a discriminating Tariff-a policy which, tends to increase the price of Grain to the farmer while diminishing that of Bread to the artisan by reducing the distances across which their respective products are exchanged and, of course, reducing the cost of their transfer.—Regarding Filibusterism in all its phases, and every form and device of National covetousness, with unqualified abhorrence as the bane of Republics and in their triumph the grave of Equal Human Rights, we seek by every means to woo and win the attention of our countrymen from projects of aggrandizement abroad to enter praise of development and beneficence at home, foremost which we rank a Railroad through the heart of our territory to connect the waters of the Atlantic with those of the Pacific. Believing that the goods of this life are not yet fairly distributed, and that no one ready to work should ever furnish in unwilling idleness, it lends an open ear to every suggestion of Social improvement which does not bountervail the dictates of eternal morality nor war upon that natural right of every one to whatsoever he has fairly produced or honestly acquired, whose denial must sink mankind into the chaos and night of barbarism and universal squalor. With a profound consciousness that idlers, drunkards, libertines and profligates can never be other (in the main) than needy and wretched, it bears aloft the great truth that Providence is better than Punishment—that the child trained up in the way he should go, will rarely in after years desert that way of the thorny paths of Vice and Crime—that a true Education—religious, moral and industrious as well as intellectual—is the most effective temporal antidote to the errors and woes of our race. Recognizing in the most degraded specimen of humanity, a divine spark which whould be reverently cherished, not ruthlessly trodden out, we have charity for all forms of evil but those which seek personal advantage through the debasement of our fellow beings. The champion of no class or caste, the devoted of no sect, we would fain be the interpreter to each other of men's better impulses and aspirations, the harbinger of general concord between Labor and Capital, and among those whom circumstances or misapprehensions have thrown into unnatural antagonism. A contemporary once observed that he never knew a hard, grasping, niggardly employer who did not hate the TRIBUNE, nor a generous, large-souled, kindly one, willing to live and let live, who did not like it. We ask no higher praise, no warmer attestation.

The circulation of the Tribune is at this time as follows: Daily 32,000 copies, weekly, 176,800 copies; semi-weekly, 16,000 copies; California and European, 6 000 copies; total 230,800 copies. That of the semi-weekly and weekly we believe to be exceeded by no other newspaper published in the world; that of the daily, falls behind some of our cotemporaries. Had our hostility to Human Slavery and the Liquor Traffic been more guarded and politic, our daily issues would be now some thousands heavier and our advertising far more lucrative; but of our patronage generally we have no reason, no wish, to complain.

Of late, a concerted effort has been made to diminish our rural circulation through the influence of the Postmasters, some of whom embark in it eagerly, others under political constraint; while a large number; we are happy, for the sake of human nature, to state, refused to be dragooned into it at all. Still, we have been made to feel the heavy hand of power, and have doubtless lost thousands of subscribers in consequence. Pretext which no individual in his private capacity would have stopped have been relied on to justify the stoppage of our papers within reach of their subscribers and rightful owners, and their retention in the Post Office 'till their value was destroyed. Postmasters have been schooled by rival Journals—several of them living on their self-proclaimed ability to serve as an antidote to the Tribune—as to their political duty to promote at our expense the dissemination of gazettes of adverse politics. We shall outlive this warfare, but we do not effect indifference to it. In the open field of discussion, we fear nothing; but in the tens of thousands of rural neighborhoods where the Postmaster can induce many of his quiet neighbors to take the journal he recommenes, we have already lost some patrons, and expect to lose more as our subscriptions for this year expire. We appeal, therefore, to the hearty, faithful, fearless advocate of Free Labor and Free Soil throughout the land to take care that this official warfare on our circulation be not prosecuted without counteraction. We employ no traveling agents, for we will not consent to have the public harrassed with the solicitations of strangers in our behalf. We strike the name of each subscriber to our weekly and semi-weekly from our books as soon as his term has expired, for we will not haunt our patrons with duns for arrears which they may say they never intended to occur, for papers which perhaps they never read, we rely for the renewal of our clop subscriptions solely on the volunteered efforts of those who, liking our paper, believe its influence salutary and worthy to be extended; and thus far our reliance has been justified, as we trust it may continue to be.

THE TRIBUNE is printed on a large imperial sheet, 32½ by 44 inches, folded in quarto form, and mailed to subscribers at the following

HARPER'S MAGAZINE.

ONE HUNDRED AND SEVENTY THOUSAND Copies are now issued of Harper's monthly magazine. The publishers have endeavored, by a well directed use of the abundent resources at their command, to render it not only the cheapest but most attractive and useful magazines for popular reading in the world; and the extent to which their efforts have been successful is indicated by the fact that it has attained a greater circulation than any similar periodical ever issued.

Special efforts will be made to render still more interesting and attractive during the the coming year. The new volume will commence with the December number. No labor or expense will be spared to render it, in every way, and in all departments, still more worthy of the unparalled favor with which it has been received.

The terms upon which Harper's magazine is suppied are as follows, for Cash:

One Copy one year,	$3 00
Two " "	5 00
Three or more copies, one year, [each,]	2 00

And an extra copy, gratis, to every club of subscribers.

Persons residing in the British Province will remit Thirty-six Cents, in addition to subscription, for American postage.

Opinions of the Press.

This popular Magazine, while it does all that is lawful to court popularity, never descends to cater for it by ministering to opinions or propensities injurious to good morals or social order. Though not exclusively a religious work, it is always auxiliary to Bible truth, and sound morality.—N. Y. Christian Advocate and Journal.

Each number containing as much reading matter as a volume of Macauley's History of England, and sold at the rediculously low price of twenty-five cents.—London Times.

Harper's Magazine aims to be the best reading, no matter where it may come from, and whenever its conductors can procure from American authors better literary matter than they can find elsewhere, they get it, and they pay prices for it, which would astonish some of the English Magazines.—N. Y. Daily Times.

The most popular and successful periodical ever issued.—N. O. Delta.

The postage upon "Harper's Magazine" when prepaid quarterly, in advance, at the office where it is received, is thirty-six cents a year.

Prospectus of "The States."

Which has been published near seven months, has met with such a success as to justify the Proprietor in enlarging the Daily Edition to the size of the Washington Union.

The States will continue to represent the sound constitutional principles of States' rights which have ever been upheld by the National Democracy, but it will not be so entirely political that its columns will interest the politician exclusively, nor so subservient to party as to betray principle at the command of power, or disguise its convictions at the suggestions of expediency.

In addition to the discussion of important political questions, its columns will be devoted to the proceedings of Congress, to the current transactions of the government, to general news, and matters of interest appertaining to Literature, Agriculture and Commerce.
