REINTORE EDITORIAL UNION.

PURSUANT to a Resolution of the Keystone Editorial Union, passed at the first meeting of that body, held in Danville, Montour county, August this 1857, the next general meeting will be held at Pottaville, on Tuesday May 11th 1858, at 2 o'clock P. The cordial co-operation of our Dretherr of the Press, to secure on the occasion a large and respectable representation, is earnest large and respectable representation, is earnest large and respectable representation, is earnest large and the County of the

This season of the year is peculiarly suggestive. To-morrow is the 1st of April a day of general sublunary reckening, saggestive, we say it in all soberness, of a more gestre, we say it it an secences, of a more important day. Reader, how stands the ac-count? we ask with reference to the 1st of April, and to that other day. About the usual number of changes will.

occur to-morrow, in Bloom, and in the county. But it is apparent to a careful observer that each year brings more stability. The dwellers in the land, in town and country, are becoming more generally possessors.— We are in favor of that reform which has for its object the providing of every man with a home of his own.

Our friends in the country will find many things in Bloom the coming year about as they have been. Our staid and reliable business friends, McKelvy, Neal & Co., of course never change. Elias Mendenhall, A. C. Mensch, A. J. Sloan, A. J. Evans, "the Hartman Boys" and "Jerry Brower," all expect to do business at their old stands in their usual honest, prompt, and gentle-manly fashion. Mrs. Clark will still provide for the literary appetite of the people, Mr. Lowenberg for the backs, Messrs. Else & Wilson for the stomachs, and Mr. Unangst, for the soles of the people, at their usual

We might mention other dealers equally worthy, but their names do not occur in the hurry in which this is written.

Peter Bilimeyer of the "Exchange," and John Leacock of the "American" will remain at their posts, both being proprietors, Robert Hagenbuch, who was formerly well known as the keeper of an excellent house at Light Street, takes the place of our respected friend James Freeze, at the "Forks. Mr. Freeze retires to his farm.

The reliable and pithy "Columbia Demo the vigorous but rather eccentric "Republican," and the didactic and high-toned "STAR" (THE BEST PAPER OF THE THREE,) will be found occupying the same Pricedom that they have heretofore so hon-erably maintained, all laboring in the same good cause, differing only a leetle in their views of the manner of reaching the result.

RELIGIOUS EXCITEMENT .- One of our city religious exchanges computes the number of conversions which have occurred during the last three weeks to be about 20,000 trom all denominations. Their list had reached over 17,000 when they were obliged, for want of room, to condense it, and discontinue further additions save from their own denomination,-striking out the Methodist portion entirely (as the next largest). The whole number reported in that paper during the last two months reaches at least 40,000. The total of the following list, during the last couple of weeks, as abridged, is near 11,000 : Maine, 202; New Hampshire, 103; Vermont, 93; Rhode Island, 225; Mass achusetts, 716; Connecticut, 578; New York, 1.691: New Jersey, 347: Pennsylvania, 671 Ohio, 812; Illinois, 779; Indiana, 800; Mich igan, 580: Iowa, 418: Wisconsin, 212: Mississippi, 130; Kentucky, 716; Georgia, 72; ssee, 379: Missouri, 699: Mary and 277; Virginia, 160; Alabama, 25; District of Columbia, 30; Canada Wesi, 23; Nova Scotia, 13. The Revival Spirit extends be-yond this continent. In England an unusual

The young men of Bloomsburg deeign opening a reading room for the purpose of cultivating and improving the mind.
That is right, and certainly good must grow out of such an enterprise. It is just what they want in order to become conversant in matters of general interest, and to under stand the governmental laws and principles of the country. Books and papers are the instruments used in an organization of this kind. Papers they can be accommodated publication offices by calling for them, free of charge, at least at our e tablishment. Success attend them, and may they be able to climb the ladder of fame and straddle the top round, and "be somebody -a George Buchanan!

Men who occupy the responsible position

The season for warm weather and organ-grinders is fast approaching. One of the latter made his appearance in this place on last Friday with a music-box on his back, weighing, if you judge from the size of it, about two hundred, which at every public about noo kundred, which at every public corner and place, where symptoms of "cop-pers" and 4 three-cent-pieces" were indica-tive, he would plant and commence grinding out music for the enjoyment of the surrounding listeners.

The veteran Italian being the first one of the season, success must have attended his labors, as he was seen several days in this place. Luckily he escaped a cold wat er-bath, for the big little boys are in the habit of applying doses of "Adam's Ale" to their filthy looking bodies when thought essen-tial, both to rid the place of them and for their own good, in order that their days my be lengthened.

The halcyon days are being enjoyed somewhat, but to no great extent. The industri-ous farmers are plowing and sowing oats, and here an' there one plonting potatoes, in this neighborhood. We claim not to be a horticulturist, but we opine that the ground is a little too cold yet for vegetation. In a 'few days' "Old Sol" will jerk things—make al! vegetables sprout and grow—the grain fields and meadows will present a beautiful appearance.

SAD ACCIDENT IN LAWRENCE COUNTY .- A lady named Anna Cross, was killed near Pine Point, a few days since, under the following circumstances: She had been at-tending worship in the Presbyterian Church at Pottsville, and while returning home in a buggy with a relative named Eaken, with had two fingers on his left hand cut off .-Miss Cross was a member of the Episcopal Church, and an educated may, and taught a select school in Philadelphia. DESTRUCTIVE FIRE. - Nearly Sixty Head of Mr. Livingston may be a very enterprict of the continuous state at man reliable; Mr. Livingston may be a very enterprict of ing geotleman, but that he is a very discreet one is slightly doubtful; as the propriety of publishing a lawyer one month as reliable, and saying virtually the next month that he is not, is questionable.

Mr. Remington's stock of cattle was cel-

All the valuable machinery, vehicles and utensils, and a large quantity of hay and feed, and the buildings in which they were stored, were destroyed, involving a very heavy loss upon which there is no insurance, the policies having expired within a short time, and

----THE REVIVAL .- There is still the greates cossible religious excitement every day a ane's Hall. The prayer meetings held there in the morning are largely attended, and in the afternoon crowds flock to the same place o listen to sermons from various City di vines. Yesterday afternoon Mr. Willits preached. To-day there is to be another sermon, by whom, however, we do not know.
The spirit is not confined, however, to one locality in Philadelphia. All over the City, on the contrary, prayer and exhortation meetings are being held, and the most remarkable religious awakening everknown is abroad. In New York and other prominent ities and towns in every direction, the same spirit is shown as here, and there is a chance that the excitement will increase rather than deminish .- Philadelphia, News,

THE REVIVAL OF BUSINESS .- There as more signs of business activity within the Jast week, says the Public Ledger, than has been seen for months past. The return to confidence has been slow, but it has been sure, and the prospect is now very favorable for a moderately profitable spring trade.— The various channels of trade, through the favorable weather, are opened much earlier than last year, so a start once given to business is not likely to meet with and impediment from the season.

Resources of the South.

Senator Hammond, of South Carolina, in his late speech, gave the following descripthe his late speech, gave the following description of the resources of the South:

"The South, he said, has eight hundred and fifty thousand square miles of territory, an area as large as that covered by Great Britain, France, Austria, Prussia and Spain.

The North, even after the admission of the covered by Great Britain, France, Austria, Prussia and Spain. two large Territories of Kansas and Min-nesota, will full ope hundred thousand square miles. The South, This does not include the territory lying west of the Rocky Mountains, which will never come where, a shore line of three thousand miles and so indented with bays and crowded with islands as to make the whole measurment twelve thousand miles. Through the heart of our country runs the mighty Mississippi, into whose bosom are poured thirty-six thousand miles of tributary streams.— In the great valley it drains will be the seat of the world's empire. We have a population four times as large as that wh quered our independence, and a thousand fold as strong. Upon our muster rolls we have a million of men. At any time the South can raise, equip, and maintain in the field a larger force than any power on earth can send against her—men, too, brought up on horseback, the guns in their hands.— The wealth of a people is to be estimated by their surplus productions. All the enterprises of peace and war depend on what a nation is able to spend. The reports of the Secretary of the Treasury show that the exports of the United States amounted last year to $279,000, exclusive of gold and foreign merchandise re-exported. Of this amount, the productions of the South are $185,000,000 of our staples, making our surplus productions worth $220,000,000 equal to 16.66 per head of our population, supposing it to be twelve millions, a dividend which no nation on earth can show."

-----A WHISKEY INSURRECTION IN OHTO .- Last saturday, a large number of women, who had previously armed themselves with axes, hatchets and hammers, made an attack upon the taverns and saloons of Akron, Ohio, breaking jugs and bottles, and emptying casks of all sorts of liquor, ale, &c. Every establishment in the palce was thus despoiled, except the American House and a drug store, the proprietors of which "saved their bacon" by pledging their "words of honor" not to sell liquor to any of the townspeople. One of the town magistrates interposed in vain.
