Horrible Murder in Philadelphia.

Protos Secto

About 102 o'clock, on last Sunday evenir brutal and shocking murder was committed in the Nineteenth ward in Philadelphia and has caused much excitement there.

It appears that a difficulty occurred at at the northeast corner of Second and Oxford street, between the proprietor of the place, John Alexander, and a man named ohn Sloan, but they did not come to blows

So on after this Stoan, went out of the tay ern and stood upon the steps conversing with some one near, when Alexander, came to the door and deliberately fired both loads of a double barreled pistol at Sloan. The balls passed through his cap and into the left side of his head, shattering and crushing his skull, and strewing his brains upon

The accused was at once arrested but ro sted the officers violently, but is now lodged in the cells of the Seventeenth Ward Station House, awaiting the result of the Coroner's Jury.

Sloan, the deceased, was about 22 years of age. His remains were conveyed to the Seventeenth Ward Station House. His father came to the Station House soon after the body was brought there, when a most ag-onizing scene took place. The Coroner was to investigate the case on Tuesday, and we have no doubt but it resulted in the conviction of Alexander.

Eold Attempt at Robbery.

On Wednesday night last, says the Dan ville Intelligencer' between the hours of 8 and 9 o'clock, while our Sheriff, Mr. Edward Young, was crossing the Washington hills, on his way to Danville, his horse became unmanageable, having become frightened at some object, near the roadside. While the Sherif was endeavoring to pacify the animal, a man sprang out from behind a tree, and seized the toins by the horse's head—

The Sherif very coolly inquired his business, when the would-be-robber demanded his money, stating that he was poor and stood in need of it. The Sheriff very inditerently stated that if that was his object, he would be glad to accommodate him, and proceeded forthwith to put his supposed to be benevolent designs into execution. But instead of money, he presented a "Sax Shooter," which he had wisely loaded and secreted, and aiming it at the rascal's head, secreted, and aiming it at the rascal's head. 9 o'clock, while our Sheriff, Mr. Edward business on hand last week we failed to Young, was crossing the Washington hills, notice in the Star the change which has taken place in that paper. The paper is now under the control of Ma. A. B. Tate, at some object, near the roadside. While the pulled the trigger, but it unfortunately missed fire, when the scamp, supposing it to be harmless, proceeded to cut the reins, and the Sheriff fired a second time, discharging able to tell, as the villian took to his heels.

The reins were nearly severed in two or three places, but the Sheriff was ignorant of the fact until he arrived at home, when n examination he first made the discovery. The rascal undoubtly intended, by thus succeeding in rendering the animal powerless in the hands of the Sheriff, to accomplish his designs. The person is supposed to be an Irishman, by his language, although the Sheriff failed to recognize him. This is borhood, as we learned that the County Superintendent. Mr. PUTNAM, was attacked in a similar manner a short time since. We will please except our sincere thanks for so trust prompt measures will be taken to ferestimable a tayor.
