Democratic Nominations. FOR AUDITOR GENERAL, RICHARDSON L. WRIGHT,

OF PHILADELPHIA.
FOR SURVEYOR GENERAL,
JOHN ROWE,

DEMOCRATIC STATE CENTRAL COMMTTEE -There will be a meeting of the Committee at BUEHLER'S Hotel, Harrisburg, on Wednes-day, the 29th inst., at 2 o'clock, P. M. THE WAR.

The news from the seat of war is highly important, though it does not appear tha any further decided battle had taken place It really would almost seem as if the Austrians were showing the white feather as well as wearing the white uniform. They have abandoned Pivia, Pacenza, Lodi Cremona, and other places which they occupied. They blew up the fortifications of Piacenza on abandoning that city. The telegraphic report also mentions that they had acquitted Ancona. This may be a mistake in the name, for Ancona is a seaport belonging to the Pope, and is entirely out of the line of the present war. It was garrisoned, we believe, by the Austrians, on the first alarm of war, and it is probable that they have retired now, from sheer inability to maintain such an insolate position.

It would appear that the Austrians are collecting their force towards their strongholds, Mantua and Verona. This will also bring them nearer to Venice, and allow them, at a push, to take a strong position in the Tyrol. But this would no less be an admission of defeat, because it would surrender Lombardy to the Allies. It would not surprise us to learn, in the course of the present week, of a great battle having been fought on the plateau or flat country beween Mantua and Verona-the former city is very strongly fortified.

From England the main news is that the Derby ministry have resigned. The Queen has been compelled, it seems, to accept Lord Palmerston as Premier. He has followed Dogberry's plan, of favoring most desartless man," by making Lord John Russell his Foreign Secretary. One would have thought that after Lord John's miserable diplomatic tailure, in his unfortunate Mission to Vienna, during the Crimean War, that he had got quite enough of meddling with foreign affairs, of which he is remarkably ignorant. His Lordship would under take to act as commander-in chief of a fighting army, with the same confidence which now emboldens him to take the For eign portfolio.

We refer our readers to the summary of the telegraphic news by the Brenen which appears in another column.

President Polk's Views

The people of the acquired Territories, when asstance is Convention to form STATE Constitutions, will possess the sole and exclusive power to determine for tnemseries within the limits. If Congress shall about in from interfering with the question. abstain from interfering with the question, the people of the Territories will be left free to adjust it as they may think proper, warn they apply for admission as States into the Union."

This was sound doctrine then (in 1848.) so long as the Constitution remains un-changed, for it is the only doctrine on this subject consistent with the Constitution. It snow and ice in the mountains were three of 1850; of the Kansas-Nebraske act of 1854, of the National Conventions of '52 and '56, of President Buchanan's Inaugural address, Silliman's letter and messages, and of the National Democracy of the whole country.

These views of President Polk are in perfect harmony with those of Henry Clay and his colleagues in the Senate of 1850, as expressed in their Report on this subject, as follows :-

"The true principle which ought to regulate the Act of Congress in forming a Territorial Government for each newly acquired domain, is to refrain from all legislation on the subject of slavery in the territory acquired, so long as it retains the Territorial form of government, leaving it to the people of such territory, when they have attained to business of such a condition which exittles them to admission as a State, to decide for themselves the question of allowance or prohibition of domestic slavery."

From all this, in connection with the decisions of the Supreme Court, substantialcisions of the Supreme Court, substantially covering the same point, there is no room for doubt as to what is the true Constitutional, National, and Democratic doctrine, in relation to the time when the peo ple of a Territory can, legally and properly, decide the question whether the institution of Slavery shall or shall not exist among them. It may not suit higher-law and square ter sovereign demagogues; but it will be maintained by all who have patriotism enough to stand firmly by the Constitution in all its parts as the great sheet anchor of

Arrival from the Mines --- Favorable Reports

Gontradisted.

Mr. John Scarprough, a gentleman known to some of our citizens as being perfectly reliable, arrived in this city on the steamer D. A. January, Friday evening, just from the mines, having made the entire trip by water, in the almost incredible short space of time of fourteen days!

Mr. Scarprough states that the citizens are presented in the city of the control of the city of the city

Mr. Scarbrough states that the recent re ports of the large amounts being made in Gregory diggings have been very much ex-aggerated. He knew of one company who were making, with a sluice, as much as $10 per day to the man; but there were hundreds of others who were not making board.
At the time, he left, on the 3d inst.,

in the mountains to the time of his leaving.

Provisions were very scarce. Bacon was selling at 40 cents per pound. It was esti-mated that there were about two thousand persons scattered over a district of country about forty miles in extent. Mr. Scarbrough remained in the mines for about a month, and finding that they would not pay, he and another gentleman built a skiff which they launched at Denver City, and in it they came down the Platte into the Miscouri. Mr. S. states that they found the Big Platte to be one of the most crooked rivers on the continent, but it being bank full they came down kiting.—St. Joseph Journal, June 20.

Democratic Policy.

The policy of the democrate party has al-ways been that of consistency, fidelity, and uniformity. The shifting, changing sci which have shaken and overthrown other parties have only served to unite more firmy in the prosecution of those measures which have advanced the interests and pro moted the welfare of the country. Democracy has progressed in the line of march with that dergee of facilty which the age demanded, but in principle and policy sub-stantially the same. Can this be said of other parties which have striven for power, and which have resorted to the foule means and most deceptious pretence for the accomplishment of their designs? The answer is easily obtained. It requires no laborious research or investigation to arrive at the facts with the respect to their transaction, condemnation, detestation, abhorra-tion and overthrow. They have fallen because they had no foundation whereon to stand-no principles wherewith to unite in every effort, and no vital power, nerving action to withstand the convulsions of political life. Thus they have sprung into exstence, run well for the time, but when the trial came they were unable to bear its investigation and scrutiny.

But where, a'l this time, is the good old emocracy? In the field unawed and unmolested by the surrounding elements Democracy !- that confides in the people the power to regulate their own do undisputed, untrampled right to the exercise of the elective franchise-can never be overthrown by the contentions of sectional factions. Such is its mighty fabric, its ma jestic greatness, that it stands as a monument of that struggle in which our forefa-thers fought and shed their blood to secure the rights, the liberties we now enjoy. These the democracy has and will maintain, notwithstanding the opposing sectional parties. The bitterest partisan zeal must give away before its peaceful, mild dominion, sectionalism cannot survive the shock, the convulsions which its scheme instigates and which must return upon it with double force; but democracy, true to principles it advocates, is enabled to stand firm and un-men to return to.

The opposition can claim no merit of the and bury them in deep oblivion. A few more years and the republican party, alike those of its predecessors, will pass out of existence and be numbered among the things that were. Its doings will be known only as a black spot on the pages of history. MURDER AND SUICIDE -Dunkirk, June 18 This morning about 9 o'clock, the dead bodies of Martin Sauter, his wife and only child, were found in an upper room of the emigrant house kept by Sauter on Buffalo The wife's throat must have been cut while asleep in bed, causing almost instant death, the windpipe being almost severed. The child, six years of age, was on another bed, with her throat horribly mangled. The body of Sauter was found in a eclining position by the side of the bedstead on which the child lay. It is supposed the deed was done some time in the night, as the house was observed to be losed up to the time of the discovery. Sauter kept an emigrant boarding house, and was connected by marriage with respectable German families in town. The creates intense excitement. The Corone is now holding an inquest. It is known that the parties had not lived a pleasant life for some time, but whether the deed was com mitted under the influence of liquor, is not known.

Opus 1100.

A good instruction book for the Plano has long teen wenting, and Mr Charles Grobe has performed the labor, in getting this one up in the most admirable; and satisfactory manner. It will prove itself one of the most valuable guides in the instruction of the art of playining on the Plano.

Considering the author's well known capacity, and long and interpitting devention to the task of elementary teaching, we have strong resson to hope that the public are now to be furnished with a thorough, systematic, progressive, and entertaining method for the Plano.

We can confidently recommend it to teachers and pupils as better adapted to the purposes of elementary instruction than any others with which we are acquainted.

The plan pursued in this work is substantially the same as that developed in Ollendroff's method of teaching languages. It commences with the simplest elements,—The progressive with the simplest elements.—The progress made will be gradual, so that every step will be perfectly inteligible, and be rendered of positive value to the pupil.—Every difficulty is met with single, and, after thorough analysis, overcome by practice.

This method will, undonbtedly, provide teachers with a well digested, progressive, and entertaing plan by which a sound and correct knowledge of the art of playing the piano may be acquired with comparatively little labor, and in so short a space of time correct knowledge of the art of playing the piano may be acquired with comparatively little labor, and in so short a space of time as will almost seem incredible to those who shave confined themselves to some of the tedious systems heretofore in use.

This work contains ten engraved figures, illustrating the different positions of the hande and fingers; and also a likeness of the author.
