Provide the Hay Caps.

This valuable improvement still fails to receive that attention which it deserves We have already written so much upon the subject that we need offer little more now. We will say, however, that we are more than ever convinced of the great advantages resulting from their use. They may be cheaply and quickly made of coarse cotton 14 to 2 yards square, roughly hemmed and provided with loops at each corner for stakes, or stones sewed in the corners as weights to keep them from blowing off. A quantity of these always at hand to throw over the cocks of uncured or cured hay, when a storm comes up, will not unfrequently save more than cost on a single occasion hy save more than cost on a single occasion, while they may be used for many year—not only to cover hay, but grain left in the field. A full description of them, with illustrations, was given last July. We have usually advised farmers to make them at home, but many will not take even the elight trouble required for this, and we would call the attention of such to the adpresent number. As they are made on a large scale, and sold reasonably, and as some manufacturers prepare the cloth so as to be waterproof, and still open enough to allow moisture to evaporate through them, we think that it may be quite as economical to make them at home—that is, where they are on sale at a convenient point. But, how ever procured, let us again urge all hay makers, who have not so, to make the ex-periment of using a few hay caps this year. They will not be abandoned after one trial.

TLL LUCK IN GROWING CORN-Not seldom do we hear farmers complain that their corn crop is a failure, it having been injured by hot weather. Injured by the very weather which kird Providence designed for its benefit! On inquiry, it will gen erally be found that the corn-fields of such complainers are wet, undrained, and cold: be worked until quite late in the season and then a long, dry spell sets in, which checks the growth of the corn and makes it Seeble and puny all the rest of the summe Meanwhile, wide-awake farmers, who had previously drained their lands and manured them thoroughly are rejoicing in the beauty of their corn-fields. When dry weather comes, they bid it welcome; it is just what the "King of the Cereals" wants. They keep their hoes bright, which keeps the ground moist, and keeps the corn growing.

TOMATOES.—As the season for this wholeapproaching, we give the following receipt for preparing them, from the Scientific American, which we are assured by one who has made the experiment, is superior to anything yet discovered for their prepara-

STARTLING DISCLOSURES .- The trial of John McLaughlin, now going on at Chicago, for throwing a train of cars on the Galena and a most daring and diabolical gang of vil-lains, both male and female. The members of the gang are located at Buffalo, Cleveland and Chicago, and it seems they are engaged in murders by all sorts of de vices, such as poisoning, arson, and rail-road obstructions. Several confidential letters written by two female friends in Buffathe whole matter, and the entire plan of operations. From these it appears that a number of persons have fallen victims to their nefarious schemes, and how many have suffered from others' hands can only be conjectured. This discovery may account in some measure for many of the secret murders by poison and other means, accidents to railroad trains, &c , that have been so numerous of late.

Gov. Wise, while stumping it through Virginia, previous to his election, the Know Nothings. Wise paused in his speech, and turning to these bloods, pointed his long, skinny finger, a la Randolph at the offenders, and said: "Young men, am to be your next Govenor. You will probably be in the Penitentiary; and may depend upon it, you will have to serve out your time."-They didn't bother him any
