Wright and Rowe.

These gentlemen—the Democratic nominees for Auditor and Surveyor General—are two of the purest and best men in the Commonwealth, and will be triumphantly elected over the arrogant Opposition this fall.

The Democracy of our county have a ticket formed for their support this fall which cannot be defeated by the Opposition, although some of the Republicans are vain enough to think or at least assert that they can elect their ticket.

It affords us great pleasure to note the improvement in the quality of the paper now made at the Mill of C. W. McKelvey & Co., at Catawissa, Pa. This mill has, not long since, undergone the most thorough repairs, introducing nearly all new machinery, which run their stock of paper rather low at the time, but we believe in no instance were their customers compelled to go elsewhere.

PETERSON'S COUNTERFEIT DETECTOR is corrected by the celebrated bankers, Drexel & Co., and it is certainly the most reliable Detector published in the Union.

A few months ago, it was fashionable for the organs of the Opposition party to regale their readers with articles about the disaffection existing in the Democratic ranks and to season the feat with congratulatory paragraphs in regard to the perfect harmony in their own organization.

Our Next Governor.

We find the following communication in the Harrisburg Patriot and Union strongly urging the claims of Jacob Fay, our present Auditor General, for the next Governor of this State, which clearly meets our approval.

Mr. Editor: It is exceedingly important that the Democratic Convention next March, should nominate, for the office of Governor, some good and true man, around whom the party can rally unitedly, and for whom every honest man in the party can vote with- out any sacrifice of conscience.

He is a plain blunt man—just such a man as the people delight to honor. His popularity throughout the State is probably greater or to-day than that of any other man in the Democratic party.

For Commissioner they nominated JOHN STALEY, of Greenwood; for Treasurer ELLWOOD HUGHES, of Centre; for Auditor, JAMES BARKER, Jr., of Montour.

The Opposition met in County Convention on last Tuesday, between the hours of one and two o'clock, in the Court House, at this place, and made a few County nominations. On motion the meeting was called to order, and the following officers appointed: President, Dr. G. W. Lott, of Orangeville; Secretaries, Andrew Madison and John Hartman.

For Commissioner they nominated JOHN STALEY, of Greenwood; for Treasurer ELLWOOD HUGHES, of Centre; for Auditor, JAMES BARKER, Jr., of Montour.

Lock's and Bloomsburg N. R. Extension. Since last Thursday the trains on the Lackawanna and Bloomsburg Railroad have been running regularly from Kingston to Danville, making two trips a day.

Arithmetic Against Principle.

Not only is the Opposition divided into different factions, but each of these factions is confuted by internal dissensions. In the Republican party, which occupies the master position, and regards the Americans and other organizations as floating fragments to be taken on board the political vessel for ballast, or thrown off according to convenience, is now divided between the coalitionists and the anti-coalitionists.

The Evening Post takes entirely different view of the question, and as a matter of information re-publish the following portion of an article on the circular of the National Republican Committee, from that most able and influential of Republican organs:

It is well remarked in the circular that no party but the Republican can meet the evils wrought and projected by this formidable power; and we are pleased to see that the committee have fallen into one of the prevailing mistakes about the necessity of a coalition of the Republicans with other parties.

Fire at Northumberland.—Our citizens were alarmed, on Friday night, the 2nd and 3 o'clock, with the cry of fire. The "Good Intent," of this place, was brought out, but it was evident that before the fire could be reached, which was at Northumberland, it would be over, the engine was therefore put back.

Bolton Again.

Monsieur Bolton did it again yesterday, with variations. That he can do it is now a fixed fact, a foregone conclusion, and should be announced in his next programme that he would walk the rope on his under side as flies walk a ceiling, everybody would believe him.

The return judges of the Representative District, composed of the counties of Wyoming, Sullivan, Columbia and Montour, shall meet at the Court House in Bloomsburg, in the county of Columbia on TUESDAY, the eighteenth day of October next, to make out the returns for members of Assembly.

The friends of Douglas will support the State ticket as heartily as those of Mr. Buchanan. Both are working for the same object—the success of the party in 1860.

THE wonderful and daring Wire-Walker of Columbia county, designs giving an exhibition of his hazardous feats in Bloomsburg, on SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1859, at half past eleven o'clock, in the forenoon, or immediately after the arrival of the down train, by walking a wire from the roof of the Exchange Hotel to the steeple of the court House, at an elevation of about seventy feet and distance one hundred and sixty feet.

Hon. Henry M. Phillips has the tender of our thanks for public documents.

The North British Review for August has been received. It is a good number, and contains an immense quantity of first class reading. Sound logic and able reasoning are to be found in the British Reviews.

Having crossed to the Canada side, he returned in his grand comic character of the "ascension," as they call it at the Falls, stood upon his head, suspended himself beneath the cable hanging by one arm, one leg, by the neck, and swinging on his chest, all of which was very comfortable to look upon.
