

STAR OF THE NORTH.

Bloomsburg, Pa.

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 2, 1859.

The public schools in this place are in operation, and we understand they are being well attended.

Rather High.—Butter, old enough to vote, and selling for eighteen cents per pound in this market.

The County Superintendent is now making a tour over the County, holding teachers' examinations. See appointments in another column.

THE REAL ESTATE of Henry Hoffman, late of Roaringcreek township, Columbia county, deceased, is offered for sale. Advertisement in another column.

The citizens of this place are showing considerable enterprise in the way of paving their side-walks with flag-stone, which makes a very handsome and durable walk.

Prof. Jas. W. Lusk, the most popular and successful teacher of Spencerian Penmanship in the Union, is connected with the Iron City Commercial College, of Pittsburg, Pa.—Pittsburg Post.

We would call attention to the advertisement of HENRY ZUPPING's clock and watch establishment in another column. Mr. Z. is a good practical workman—we know of no better in this section.

In another column of to-day's Star will be seen advertised, by Sheriff Shaw, rather an unusual amount of real estate for this county, which will be disposed of on Monday of Court week.

The Court advertisements—Proclamation and List of Jurors—for December Term are published in this week's paper. The Register's notices and List of causes will appear in our next.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR is selling in this market at $2.50 per hundred weight, and a tolerably good article. The sack received from a patron of ours a few days ago is of an excellent quality.

We notice in our exchanges that the office of the Newport (Ky.) Free South Paper, of Republican proclivities, was mobbed on the 29th ult., and the forms of type scattered in the street. The editor was among the missing about that time.

GRAIN is down to a reasonable figure, as will be seen by the Market Prices in our paper, and a very small quantity is being offered. The grain growers are holding it back for larger prices. The corn crop in this section is not as good as was anticipated by some.

JOSEPH HECKELL, the embroyst, advertises his business in another column of to-day's paper. He is prepared to take pictures in the latest and most improved style of the art, using nothing but good material, cheaper than can be taken any place else in this section. See advertisement.

HOLLOW EVE.—On last Monday evening "the boys" in our end of town were busily exercising their strength upon the doors of the different dwellings with cabbage stamps. Scarcely a door but what received a shock from these mischievous boys. Wonder if their parents "knew they were out?"

THE REAL ESTATE of Peter Lutz, late of Benton township, Columbia county, dec'd., is advertised in to-day's paper, to be sold on the 26th day of November, inst. It is said to be a valuable piece of land, containing seventy-one acres, pretty much all improved. William Lutz is Executor of the estate and is determined to sell.

We see it stated in the Hollidaysburgh Standard of last week, that four men of Blair County were out on a hunting expedition and killed seventy-two black and gray squirrels in one day. In our opinion Blair Co. is not as good as Columbia county for hunting game, as several of our sportsmen were out the other day and returned fully convinced that hunting in this county was never known to have been better than it is at this season of the year, for they hunted all day without finding any game.

We have seen it very appropriately remarked that, "the course of true love never runs smoothly," but whether "true love" was an active agent in the transactions of a certain individual, who was married a short time ago to a sprightly young lass up country, and who has since been committed to the County Boarding House upon an indictment for helping himself to a lady's shawl, without asking permission of the owner, we are unable to answer. He now has the extreme pleasure of spending his honeymoon at the Capitol of this County and at the public's expense.

REMEMBER THE POOR.—A hard winter is again before us. Let those who have the comforts of life share a small portion thereof with those who are less favored. O, cheer the unfortunate poor by rendering timely aid. You will admit that this is a cold, hard world at best. The pleasures of the rich are even limited indeed. The various troubles they experience over-balance all their pleasures. Aid poverty and want to these troubles, and you will, in some measure, be prepared to judge of the lamentable condition of the poor. Remember the poor, and in the pinching frosts of winter search them out, and with open hearts and ready hands relieve their necessities and send them on their way rejoicing. Remember it was the voice of inspiration which gave mankind the assurance—"He that giveth to the poor lendeth to the Lord."

PROSPECTUS.

A New Work by Emerson Bennett, Author of "Clara Moreland," "Palmyr Flower," "The Reluctant," "Blanche Bertrand," "The Artist's Bride," &c., &c., entitled WILD SCENES ON THE FRONTIERS; OR, HEROES OF THE WEST.

"Westward, the course of Empire takes its way!" This work, is the only one in Book form, which for several years has emanated from the pen of the gifted author, who trends row along the path once trodden by our own Cooper. It will contain graphic pictures of the conflicts of the hardy Pioneer, whose struggles with his Indian foe, rival the tales of fiction, and the tragic counterfeits of the mimic stage. Also thrilling narratives of the daring deeds, the heart-rending, heroic devotion and self-denial of noble women, the mothers of the West! Beneath the over-arching forests, hand to hand, and foot to foot, the intrepid adventurer has encountered in deadly combat the ruffian desperadoes who made their haunts in the backwoods, and his gallant achievements have thrown a halo of romance over the waving prairies, the grand old mountains, and the majestic rivers of the land of the setting sun!

Not these pages wanting in those gentle scenes which make up home-life, and which are pictured with all the skill and fidelity for which the author is pre-eminently distinguished. His delineation of Frontier character, and of the scenery of the Border, has always the advantage of an accuracy which is the result of an intimate, personal acquaintance. The work will be printed on fine white paper, in clear, open type, and appropriately and beautifully illustrated by the most skillful artists. 12mo. Cloth. Price, $1.25. HAMELIN & CO., Publishers, No. 606 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, N. B. Agents in every part of the United States and the Canadas, to whom a liberal discount will be allowed. September 28, 1859-2w.
