Democratic Nomination.

FOR GOVERNOR. HON. HENRY D. FOSTER, OF WESTMORELAND.

The Republican Meeting.

The meeting of our Republican friends, held in this place, on Thursday last, was nothing to brag of in the way of display or numbers, considering the exertions used to secure a large turn out of the faithful, and in the way of spirit and enthusiasm, was certainly a most lame and impotent affair. might be proper to style this meeting "a grand fizzle," but in order that the participants may feel highly elated over it, as long as possible, we will not do it. A good portion of the attendants were sound, faithful and working Democrats, who had nothing particularly to engage them upon that day, hence they went to the meeting to see "Andy" and hear what he had to say. Had this not been the case their meeting would have been beautifully small. The meeting was organized by appointing Col. Joseph PAXTON, of Cattawissa, President, who soon made his appearance on the rostrum and treated his auditors to a brief diatribe or his favorite theme-"the tariff," slightly coupled with "the everlasting nigger." The Colonel's oratorical powers are not very great, but what he knows he knows just as well as anybody else and can tell it with as much force and meaning as any other stump to insinuate that his remarks done more harm than good. All we have to say, they were received with a solemnity befitting a

On the Colonel's making his bow and taking his seat, not amid great applause and enthusiastic cheering, Dr. D. H. B. BROWER, of the Montour American, was called upon to "fill up a small gap," who was "prompt to the call," in his usual familiar and easy style. He commenced by saving that he did not rise to make a speech, but to merely "fill up a small gap," which was occasioned by the yet non appearance of Mr. Curtin, and the briefness of the President's speech. Besides telling his hearers that this was a very important campaign. he cited a few newspaper anecdotes, when his "gap" was completely "filled," and he shoved off the track.

He was followed by the would be Governor, ANDREW G. CURTIN. Mr. CURTIN'S text was the tariff, with a few slight variations, upon which he dwelt long and learnedly .-Indeed, his mind seemed to be so exclusively occupied with the subject of "pro tection," that he forgot entirely to enlighten his audience as to how he stood on the "Chicago Platform" generally, and the "Dutch Plank" in particular. This over sight caused no doubt considerable fluttering among his Republican brethern, who confidently expected him to come out flat footed for the Republican nominees and platform. and some of whom it is said called on him after the meeting to "define his position." (We have reference to the meeting in the afternoon, in particular.) Whether he did since. The following is the proposition: so or not, we are uninformed; but for anything that was contained in his speech, it is just as fair to infer that he is for Rell and Everett as that he is for Lincoln and Hamlin. And this, no doubt, was exactly the impression he wished to create; but we apprehend he will discover that the political birds hereabouts are 100 old to be caught with such chaff. Take it all together the speech of Mr. Curtis was rather a commonplace affair, using nothing higher than a school-boy's argument-remarkable for nothing save the dexterity with which it dodged unpleasant is-ues-and exceedingly characteristic of its slippery author. Like its predecessors, it fell as flat as a pancake and failed to elicit a single hearty cheer Altogether this meeting was one of the tamest and most spiritless political gatherings we ever witnessed; especially for one that so much speculation was made about; and afforded a sorry specimen of the enthusiasm which is said to prevail in favor of "Old Abe" and "Handy Andy" in stanch old Columbia. One thing we must say for Mr. Currin, he treated our gallant candidate, of disorganizing meetings were need by the Johnstown, and other places not fresh in little grocery bill? our memory at present, upon that evening, all favoring a bogus electoral ticket. R J. Heldemac; of spread-eagle notoriety, participated in the meeting at Reading. He is labering assiduously to make a wide breach in the Democratic party upon the Presiden tial question. Nothing would please Dick better than to see the Democratic party lie costrate and Lincoln made Chief Magis trate of these United States. He and Forney would be sounted "in" for a share of the

Curtin on the Stump.

ANDROW G. CURTIN, the Republican canlidate for Governor, has taken the stump in behalf of himself and his desperate cause. His first speech was delivered at Bloomfield. before a very small meeting. Mr. Custin, in politics, has been "everything by turns, and nothing long." He was first a Whig, then a Know-Nothing, and now a full-blooded Black Republican. Whether he approves of the "Dutch plank" of the Chicago platform, he did not inform us, when here a and when it was fashionable for demagogues and corrupt politicians to speak reproachfully of better men than themselves. Mr. Currin is a son of an Irishman-a foreigner-but this did not deter him from taking the blasphemous Know-Nothing oath "before God and the brethren assembled," But, Know-Nothingism "busted up"-the weight of its own corruption was too much npon the political stage, to attempt once more to deceive and gull the people. The "dark lanterns" are stowed away, and the 'brethren's no longer use the "pass-word" and "grip." As they march along in solemn procession, with down cast looks, betraying guilt and meanness, a black banner can be seen at the head of the motley crew, one side of which bears the inscription 'People's Party," and the other side 'Rails.' The People's Party, indeed !- a party made vain again in a hurry. When ANDY CURTIN attempts to enlighten the people as to their duly next October, they should require him to define his position. Let him now say whether he is still hostile to the "ignorant Dutch and Irish," as he was wont to call them-whether he approves of the "Dutch plank" of the Chicago Convention-and whether he endorses Lincoln's opinion that "this country must be all free or all slave." Let him explain, too, why it was that he went to Chicago for the purpose of working against Mr. SEWARD, and assisting to defeat his nomination. The people want to hear him on these subjects-they desire to know his present views. The Harrisburg Telegroph, the Republican organ at the seat of Govern ment, says "Col. Curtin is out-spoken and desires to conceal nothing." Very well then he should, of course, enlighten the people on the subjects we have hinted at -If he don't soon do it, however, Gen. FOSTER, the honored son of the "Star of the West," will be after him with a sharp stick, and compel him to define his position or beg for quarters. A few volleys from the eloquent Fostes will put to flight the Mititia Colonel and his motley crew of negro worshippers. Mark it!

Action of the State Central Committee. The Democratic State Central Committee met pursuant to adjournment, at Cresson, on Thursday last, the 9th inst. and agreed upon a fair basis of Compromise and conciliation, which cannot fail to prove acceptable to all who desire the success of the Democratic party, and the defeat of the common enemy-the Black Republicans. Want of room prevents us from laying before our readers the full proceedings of this Executive Committee. The proposition, as adoptif not the same, as was proposed by the several sound Democratic prints some weeks

The Committee then adjourned, with three cheers for the ticket.

Rev. FRANCIS WAYLAND, D. D. Black Republican Clerk.

In the proceedings of the Democratic State Committee at Cresson, an incident occurred which exhibited in the most striking manner the feeelings of the Democracy of this State in reference to this arch traitor In the course of the discussion upon the sev eral propositions before the Committee, Mr. Johnson, of Cambria, known as the close political and personal friend of Gen. Foster, our gallant standard bearer in the gubernatorial contest, and also as a supporter of Douglas, opened a battery of the most violent denunciation of the political fraud and chicanery now being attempted to be practiced by John W. Forney. He referred to him as a Black Republican traitor, whom no Democrat, (no matter what his preferences. I did not despise from his innermost ed by a vote of 49 yeas to 22 nays, is nearly, soul, and declared that for himself, he spurned his impudent assumptions to speak in behalf of the wing of the party to which he belonged, and utterly repudiated any and all fellowship with him in his wicked and base designs. These remarks called forth the most terrific shouts of applause, and for the moment the proceedings of the Douglas, then the vote of the Electoral Col- Committee gave way to a deafening outburst of scornful indignation of the uncovered demagogue. Unless your and as you doubtless desire every man in especial attention had been called to the the State to vote for you for Governor, I subject, it would not have occurred to you, take this seasonable occasion to give you, as as nothing but a few flags across the street weil as the public, my reasons why I can | gave evidence that the great "People's parnot and will not vote for you. When you to of Columbia County" had assembled in was Secretary of this Commonwealth, a circumstance occurred in Bellefonte, the place where you reside, showing satisfactorily to my mind that you possess too malicious a spirit to fill, with any creditable degree of dignity, the honorable position of Governor over a free, civilized and enlightened people. The circumstance was one of too serious a nature to be lost; and as I told you then, that I would on some future occasion

I had an excellent dog with me to guard my wagon. A number of boys began teasing the dog by running at rim : and some went so far as to throw stones at him. So soon as the dog would defend himself against these unjust attacks, the ungodly boys ran into the houses; but no sooner had the dog again returned to his wagon, then the boys would also return and repeat the insult. Among these boys was the son of A. G. Curtin, who, being a little tardy in reaching the house, was caught by the dog at the leg of his pantaloons. The dog was at once recalled and tied in the stable belonging to the hotel, so as to prevent the boys from teasing him. Soon after that you came to me and asked me whether it was my dog that caught your boy. told you that you should keep a 'little cool,' and I would explain the matter; but you would not hear me, and walked off greatly excited, and returned with a REVOLVER in your hand and a crowd following you. You walked up to me and drew your REVOLVER and said: You DAMN DUTCH SON-OF-A-Meeting at Danville. The handbills stated that the meeting would be held at 2 o'clock p. m. at the Court House. We wended our way thither at the appointed time, but finding no person there and no signs of a meeting, we strolled towards the "Rough & Ready" mill, where a crowd of men and boys were engaged in erecting a Lincoln and Hamlin pole, which, we discovered was rotten at the core, probably emblematic of the principles of the party. After this was got through with, the crowd were invited into the mill, which by the way was turned into Republican headquarters. Judge Kelly was not "thar," and Col. Curtin merely stating that he would speak in the evening, slipped out of the crowd, and left the "rising statesman of Pennsylvania," Simon P. Kase, to mount the Stump, who endeavored to enlist enthusiasm, for their cause by enquiring in thrilling tones of his body guard, the "Wide-Awakes," whether they were about. No response came up from the promiscuous crowd. Again, he shouted at the top of his lungs, "Wide Awake's were are you ?" and as there was still no response, we concluded they wasn't wide awake, and he no las. doubt felt that he had got among a sleepy crowd. But lo upon investigation, I found that he was addressing the Republican club! It is impossible to give you an idea of the substance of the speech, (as I must now call it) as here was none in it. It so resembled the ncoherent ravings of a madman that no ideas could be gained from it.
