with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case.

Innoxious in all maladies in which it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

In Debility, Nervous Affections, E maci ation, Dyspepsia, Consumption, Diarrica Dysentery, Incipient Consumpt ion, Scroin lons Tuberculosis, Salt Rheum, Mismen struction, Whites, Chlorosis, Liver Complaints, Chronic Headaches, Rheumatism, Intermittent Fevers, Pimples on the Face,

In cases of General Debility, whether the result of acute disease, or of the continued diminution of nervous and mu-cular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids solong bed-ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly re-appeared in the busy world as if justice returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances. of this kind are altested of female Sufferers ... emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In Nervous Affections of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and overheating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness without ever being a gastrie purgative, or indicting a disagreeable sensation. It is this latter proper'y, among others.

which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency which torms them. In Dyspepsia, innomerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalcheate Pills bas often sufficed for the most habitual

In unchecked Diarrhoa, even when advanced to Dysentery, confirmed, emanciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing. In the local pains, loss of flesh ar strength, debilitating cough, and remittent heetie, which generally indicate Incipient Consumption, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of lodine, without any of their well known liabilities. The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restoration, in the cases peculiarly affecting

In Rheumatism, both chronic and inflammatory-in the latter, however, more decidedly-it has been invariably well reported both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles. In Intermittent Fevers it must necessarily and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness. No remedy has ever been discovered in the whole history of medicine, which exens such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.
