DANIEL LEE. FOR COMMISSIONER. WILLIAM LAMON. FOR AUDITOR, JOS. B. KNITTLE. Election, Tuesday, October 9th, 1860.

To the Democrats of Columbia County.

Has it occurred to you that we are within two weeks of the time when the issue ioined between us and our political opponents will be decided before the high court of the people, from which there is no appeal? If you will cast your glance forward to the second Tuesday of October, you will perceive that it is not quite two weeks distant; and if you will reflect for a Curtin, to which we would invite attention, moment upon the importance of achieving especially of the editor of the Republican a Democratic victory on that day, we are If our columns are not too much crowded sure you will arrange your business in a next week we shall re-publish the letter of way that will enable you to be present at Mr. R. Pickard, of Middleburg, in relation the polls.

The clashing ambitions and the bad passions of some to whom we have unwisely assigned the position of "leaders," have divided our powerful organization and rendered our triumph in the national struggle doubtful or worse than doubtful. But this is no reason why every man who calls himself a Democrat should not turn out and vote. "All is not lost that is in danger ;" and bad as our Presidential prospects must be admitted to look at the present moment, some happy Secretaries. turn of fortune may yet save the country the awful affliction of a Republican triumph. But laying aside the Presidential question-and the further it can be put out of ers and invite them to address the meetsight just now the better-there is much to induce all good Democrats to attend the election on the second Tuesday of October. The ticket to be voted for on that day is a very full one. The offices to be filled are important-Governor, Congress, the Legislature and three of the principal County offices. Thus, National, State and County affairs combine to give interest and importance to the October election. For the office of Governor we have on the one side HENRY D. FOSTER and on the other ANDREW G. CURTIN. Whoever knows both of these men and is candid enough to admit the truth, must confess that any comparison which might be instituted between them would make to the advantage of Fostes. He has a reputation for honesty which no amount of catumny could taint with the least suspicion. His solid talents are acknowledged by all. He has learned to know the wants and wishes of the people by long and intimate association with them as a private citizen and as a public man. And although he has never hunted public station, he has served long enough in the councils of the State and of the Nation, to have become perfectly fa miliar with the transaction of public affairs.

It flounders and splurges considerably in attempting to "mail" a slander on the STAR OF THE NORTH in relation to the "Dutch Skull" story. It speaks of "honorable men never esorting to dishonorable means," and when they do so it only goes to exhibit the weakness of their cause. Now we did think the editor of that astute sheet was a more careful and assidious reader of the STAR than he really is. He has asked us repeatedly to retract this "Skull" story, a story which we have not assisted in circulating in any manner-not a line of it ever appeared in our paper. Had we not heard . Mr. Curtin attempt to deny this "Dutch Skull" report. when delivering a speech in this place, probably we should have published it. But we came to the conclusion that he (Curtin) gave the "report" a very good circulation. We actually pitied him when he was attempting to explain and contradict the story, for his very countenance and manner in which he talked did not justify him in what he said in relation to the matter. We are perfectly satisfied that the Republican and Curtin shall tell the story as it will have good effect without our giving it an insertion in Hannibal Hamlin of Maine.

We regret that we are compelled to ar raign the Black Republican candidate for Vice President with having used his official station as a Senator of the United States for his private and pecuniary aggrandizement. The charge was made at Brighton, Maine, on the 20th of July last, by the Hon. E. K. Smart, an ex-member of Congress. Mr Smart said that some years ago a commis on was appointed to adjust the claims of our citizens against the Brazilian govern ment; that just previous to the expiration of the time (June, 1852) allowod for the settlement of these claims. Mr. Hamlin had a resolution passed extending the time; that he came to him and urged him to vote for it; that the resolution passed, the time was extended; and that for his services Mr. Hamlin received from the parties interested the sum of seven thousand dollars.

Since that time the Hon. Moses McDonald, who was also then a member of Congress, has written a letter testifying to the truth of Mr. Smart's statement.

On Monday evening last a Democratic Meeting was held at Jerseytown, over which JACOB DEMOTT presided. Addresses were delivered by E. H. LITTE, Esq., and CHARLES B. BROCKWAY, both of this place.

Andrew G. Curtin. the Irish Know-Nothing, NOTICE TO CANDIDATES IN PENNSYLVANIA.

The above heading is a shameful slur or the race of Ireland. But Andy Curtin, the son of gentlemanly, Catholic Rowland, from Dysart, in the county of Clare, has no elevated respect for the good name and civil and religious liberties of that people. He is quite oblivious of his Hibernian origin in all its features. A more inveterate "black heaters" factionist never lived. Shame on him! He ought to remember his parentage. The man who ignores that, would ignore any principle, sacred or protane. Our readers are aware, that Mr. Curtin is the Know-Nothing candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania. We gave a biographical, political, and mental sketch of him a little me ago. The biography, it will be recollected from that sketch, is his best part; for, politically, he is a knave; and intellectually, a very poorly endowed person indeed. le is, par excellence, a truckling office hunter, and by the same French phrase, every thing but a man of brilliant parts. His disinctions are Know-Nothingism, political tergiversation, and contemptible speaking and writing talents.

The article in The Pilot told against this Irish American with great effect. It startled himself, startled his honest Democratic opponents and startled away from him numbers of his best friends. When he read it, he blushed at the telling exposures of his discreditable black lantern career.

His chances for election are very meagre. The adherents of Douglas, Breckinridge and Bell are arrayed against him. General Foster, his Democratic rival, is certain to be the next Governor of the KEYSTONE STATE. Even were Mr. Curtin's politics unexcepionable, he would not be returned. The common opinion is, that he is unfit by incapacity for the gubernatorial chair. The east eloquent speeches ever delivered in Pennsylvania campaigning are those with which he is ever presumptuously ready to delight a crowd. He has neither voice, nor words, nor logic. We have never heard so perfect a platitudinarian. But he is rather pious ; his perorations are always methodistical invocations to God to be with him, and assurances that God, certainly, is with him His public letters show the same bad taste and inability. He has plenty of phys-

General Foster is quite a different per sonage. He is correct in his political principles, and a very able man in his endowments-an accomplished lawyer and an effective speaker. It is a long time since the Democrats of Pennsylvania had so respectable a candidate. He cannot but carry the

The Author of the irrepressible Conflict.

We believe Mr. Lincoln claims to be the author of the "irrepressible conflict" idea. At least, we find him giving it utterance in his speech at Springfield, Illinois, on the 17th of Jane, 1853. We quote from the volume of Debates between Lincoln and Douglas, page 1. Mr. Lincoln said :

"We are now far into the fifth year since a policy was initiated with the avowed object and confident promise of putting an end to slavery agitation. Under the opera- friend of the tariff, only a mere pretender. tion of that policy, that agitation has not only not ceased, but has constantly auged. In my opinion, it will not cease mented. In my opinion, it will not cease until a crisis shall have been reached and cannot endure permanently halt slave and half free. On motion of E. H. Little, Esq, Stephen H. Miller and Emanuel Lazarus were ap. pointed a Committee to wait upon the speak.

In due season they made their appearance, accompanied by the speakers. Hon. WILLIAM M. PIATT, who was a prominent candidate before the Congressional Conference for a nomination, was first introduced to the meeting, and made a very pleasing and well-timed speech. He fully endorsed the nomination of David R. Randell, of Luzerne, for Congress, but still thought had he been treated fairly he would at that present time, have been the nominee. He for one was willing to abide the decision of the Conference and do service for the nominee. He admonished his Democratic friends to stick to the ticket and make strong exertions to secure the elec tion of our noble candidate for Governor. Henry D. Foster, after which the Democracy would in some way manage to carry the State for President, by which plan he thought it best not to inform the Republicans at present. The speaker exhibited much earnestness and candor in his remarks, and was frequently applauded by the audience in such a manner as to show that a warm feeling was manifest for him in the hearts of the people.

E. B. Chase, Esq., of Wilkesbarre, was next called for, who came forward and made some pointed remarks which were well received. He touched the principal issues of the present campaign, as well as gave a pretty general exposition of the past catch-trap plans of the Opposition to gain power, showing clearly that they never accomplished anything without some cheat connected with it. He pictured out Mr. Scranton as an anti-tariff man to the great dissatisfaction of all his Republican heaters. Scranton hood-winked many Democrats into his support by claiming to be a Democrat, having voted for a number of good ceived, frequently being interrupted with Democrats, but it will be impossible for passed.
