BECOMSBURG, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 27, 1861 NO FICE.-We will continue to send ant bills to those of our patrons who are indebted to us for one, two, and three, year's subscription to the STAR until the first of May next. All those indebted to us for three year's subscription, ($6.00) who do not pay prompt attention to these bills, we will be under the necessity of placing their accounts in the hands of an officer for collection and discontinue the paper. We have quite a number on our books who have the first cent to pay us. Many such delinquents would break up a printer, unless his pantaloon pockets were daily lined with cash from some other source. We are necessarily obliged to make close collections up to the time above stated, and we therefore hope our patrons will heed the call.

Republican Legislation.

In this County, before the Governor's election, last fall, the leading Republicans were campant in their hostilities to the repeal of the tonnage tax. They were averse to every thing looking towards a stupendous swindle. They professed indignant hatred to taxes, and entertained no ideas that the people would be made pay the tonnage tan of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and thus allow said Company to fatten upon the people's money. This at least were their pretentions. The whole thing was to be made sure by voting for and electing A. G. Curtin, which the poeple did, and thereby sacrificed a much more honest, worthy and able man-a man in whom, there is no doubt, the people would not have been deceived. The repeal of the tonnage tax was not desired by the people. The Republican Legislature passed the bill. The man who was expected to veto it, singned it; at the great astonishment of many who gave him their votes with the expectation of seeing him act differently, should the matter come up. This is not the first Republican swindle, and far from being the last.

Gov. Curtin has paid a debt to Philadelphia, for the insignificant vote he received from that city, by the signing of the bill abolishing their Spring Elections; thus putuntil the October election, and retaining Republicans in power till then at all events. A large majority of the Philadelphia members opposed the bill in the strongest manner; but in spite of their opposition, the thing was to be done, and Andy stood ready to sign the bill. Fear of defeat at the Spring Election is assigned as the reason for the Republicans abolishing this election.

The Southern Ports. The Southern Forts that now remain to be maintained are but few. The forts in Texas, we believe, are now all in posse-sion of the State troops while those of Louisana and other seceding States, with a few exceptions, are also in possession of the authorities of those States. These still remaining in possession of the United States are very important to the Government in a stratonic point of view, and equally important to the safety of the Southern Confederacy. They are as follows : Fort Sumpter, Fort Pickens, and the fortresses on the Dry Tortugas at Key West. The first of these the Government of the United States has resolved to abandon as untenable. Whether this is the true reason or not, remains to be seen. Fort Pickens is a most important fort, in the event of a hostile collision, to both the seceding States and the Government. It is situated on a small island, at the mouth of the harbor or bay of Pensacola, and as completely commands its entrance as does fort Sumpter that of Charles ton. The size, equipment and insulated position of the works render them a mos formidable defence, and one which it must require immense labor, money and loss of tife to capture. It is, however, subject somewhat to the same difficulty as to Fort Sumpter Fort McRea, which is now in the hands of the secessionists, is still for ther out seaward, and has pretty effectual and prior command of the harbor. It is asserted, also that the secessionists are forming additional breastworks and batteries to more effectually command the harbor. Should the attempt to control the harbor be successful, and all further reinforce ment or provisioning of Fort Pickens be thus cut off, the fall of the fort would only be a matter of time. From present appear ances, Lieut. Slemmer, who now commands the fort, will be able to defy any force which is likely to be sent against him.

The first case of real difficulty growing out of the absence of United States Collectors at some of the Southern points, occurred at New York on Thursday, and resulted in the seizure of the schooner Restless at that port from Havana. The Collector at Mobile refusing as a United States officer to exchange a coasting license for a register, in order to permit that vessel to go to Havanna for a cargo, the Captain "protest ed." The Spanish Consol countersigned his document, and he then proceeded on his voyage. At New York Collector Schell seized the vessel for violation of the laws. The facts of the care have been sent to the Secretary of the Treasury, who, it is believed will remit the penalty incurred.

The Administration.

The inexorable law of circumstances, necessity, is shaping the course of the Adces it at every aggressive movement, and compels a retreat. The armed attitude of self-preservation, in which the whole South stands, and the angry frowning of Northern patriotism compel it to forgo its cherished purposes; they have not been renounced, but it lies, stooping, ready to spring at any favorable moment.

It appeals to the Border States to believe it harmless, because it has not impaled itself by a leap upon the Cotton States. It also gives assurance, that so long as it is unable, it will not carry war or its destructive programme into effect.

It not only studiously avoids a renunciation of its destructive programme, but openle and in every mode proclaims an unalterable adherence to it, and a determination to carry it into effect, whenever possible.

By such insulting appointments as CARL Schusz, an avowed infidel and abolitionist, who speaks of the Almighty as "that imaginary gentleman above the stars," who defines the Declaration of Independence to be 'a hypocritical piece of special pleading, drawn up by a batch of artful pettifoggers," does this Administration display its animus; for surely the apprintment of this man could be a sine qua non to none other than-infidel abolitionists-and his appointment can have no other meaning than as assurance o these infidel abolitionists of the sympaby and affilation of the Administration.

Terrible Scene in China.

The Canton Press gives the particulars of frightful execution by wholesale of Canon river pirates by the Cantonese authoriies. The pirates with their lorchas were first enticed out of the river, and then a military and naval force was stationed ten or twelve miles below Canton to prevent their ascending the river above that point The pirates attempted to get past this station in a body, but were only partially successful, while the Chinese Commodore pursued and destroyed those who did. Next morning, the 20th, the mandarian armed boats were in porsuit of the two boats that had escaped up the river .-They came up with them about noon, lying in shore at the Pagoda. There they were attacked; their crews dashed into the stream to swim ashore, and while floating on the water some forty or fifty were spear ed and shot; a fine sight to be seen for foreign seamen and residents!

"Early on the morning of the 21st it was evident, from the packed throngs on the great bridge, and the hubbub around, that something strange and novel and exciting had occured. About nine o'clock, some of the mandarian war boats had come up with two prizes and two hundred captured pirates. The latter they commenced to land each man under the goard of at least four marines, bearing drawn swords, spears, matchlocks or sporting gay flags The captives were in a terrible plight, stripped and naked, hands tied with awful tightness behind their backs, and feet scarcely able to walk, while they were driven along with the most barbarous savageness. ## Office Seeking at Washington.

The extent to which office seeking is car ied by the Republican patriots, has not its parallel in all our past history. It is absolutely frightful and shows that politics is as much trade as any of the handicrafts-as much pursuit as any of the professions.

A Republican writes from Washington:-"Applications for office continue to pour n. Already at the Treasury the clerks have noted and filed away for future reference, thirty two bushels of well endorsed documents. At the Post Office Department ifteen thousand applications for office have already been filed. The War Department employs three cterks to note and file away he applications.
