"Union Candidates."

"A man may be known by the company he keeps," is an adage as true in politics as in morals. What then are the men who were nominees on the Republican Ticket? They were once Democrats, but in accepting nominations from the black Republicans, under the flimsey pretext, and transparent cheat of being Union cardidates, and thus placing themselves in opposition to and running against the regular Democratic candidates, were they not endeavoring to deceive their former political friends, and in attempting to seduce them to vote for them, cause them to assist in defeating the nominees of their own party? Sorely. no honest, simon pure Democrat would be guilty of such gross inconsistency and inindge their politics by the company they keep. Besides, their is no regularly organized Union party. The Democratic organization being distinct and complete, what is called the Union Party, is a miserable attempt of the Black Republicans to change their name again. They are endeavoring to slough off their rotten abolition let-the wide awake Union savers. But unfortunately for the hypocrites, there's "a nigger in triotism and principle for the favors of ab- him be appointed .- Sullivan Democrat. olition-black-republicanism. Democrats of Columbia, stand ever true to yourselves, to your candidates, to your party, to your principles, and let the Union of such Dem ocrats as Lazarus, Stiles, Groul, Snyder, Monroe, and Ikeler to Black Republicanism

The Election.

The returns of the election are not sufficient to determine the political complexion of the Legislature; but it is certain that the Democrats have gained largely, and possibly elected a majority to the House of Representatives. We have never known an election of which it was so difficult to obtain the returns. The Democrats have gained a Senator in Philadelphia, one in Schuyl kill, and, in all probability, one in Montcomery and one in Bucks. The current of the vote throughout the State is decidedly in favor of the Democratic party, and indicates that it is destined to control the politics of this State in the future.

LEWIS APPLEMAN, Superintendent of the Common Schools of Columbia county, died at his residence, in Light Street, on Monday the 7th inst., aged about thirty years. His disease was fever of the bilious form. He had acted in the capacity of superintendent a little over a year, and proved a most efficient officer. In him the cause of edocation has lost an ardent and faithful supporter. He leaves a large circle of friends and family connections besides a young and affectionate wife to mourn his departure.

His death causes a vacancy to exist in the office of School Superintendent of this county, which will shortly be filled through appointment made by the State Superintendent. A good man should immediately be selected for the position, as the time is close at hand when preparations should be made ours. for the opening of our Fall and Winter Schools. There is no time to spare.

For several days after the election the Republican papers of Philadelphia insisted that the volunteers from that city encamped near Washington, had given a large majority for the "People's ticket"-a mild designation used in that locality for the Republican ticket"-which was hoped would comfort the Republican ticket. As the returns from the camps will not be that time-but it is believed that Mr. Ewing's majority is over 1,500, and the majorihundred, that he is elected sheriff by a will of the people.

DEMOCRATIC WOMAN. -In the township of S-, county of L-, and State of Pennsylvania, resides a lady who carries on a mercantile business, and who does as much, if not more, for the cause of democracy, than any other person in the township. As an evidence of the deep interest taken in the elections by her, we will cite a little circumstance that occurred in her election district this fall. It appeared that They are sound National Democrats, pledtickets had been placed in the hands of a ged by a life long experience, to the supthe person being rather lukewarm in the cause, or through some other reason, did not have the tickets on hand till late in the alternoon of election day. This Democrat- Welsh, we understand, will issue a new ic woman learning that tickets had not been Democratic paper in Philadelphia, in a received for their election district, com- lew days. It is to be a first class daily, menced immediately to write them, and in and will be the organ of the Democratic loss than half an hour she had summoned party in this State. We trust that all our to her assistance fl.e aid of about a dozen Democratic friends will come forward, democratic ladies of that place, who in a and give this new enterprise a harty supshort time had an abundance of tickets port. Our barty in this State has been by a majority of 700-a Democratic gain .ready for balloting; and the result was, the without an organ in Philadelphia for some Chapman has 2,000 majority for President

Honest old Berks - Our Judge. We not only rejoice at the success of the whole Democratic ticket in Berks, over the fusion combination, but especially that Warren J. Woodward is elected Judge. A man of powerful and brillian: intellect. one of the most learned lawyers in the State who has already proved himself foremost justice, and therefore, we are obliged to amongst our President Judges, and of the most unquestionable integrity, we think there was scarcely a prominent rascal in the State who did not oppose him. We congratulate all honest men, and particularly the hones: people of Berks, upon this happy result - Clinton Democrat.

> THE HON. CHARLES SUMNER, who has scarcely been heard of since this war broke out-fighting not being in his line-addressed the Massachusetts Republican Convention the other day, his subject being the barbarism of slavery. He took the ground that the overthrow of slavery will at once make an end of the war-and that not to bring the war directly to bear upon slavery is to squander life and treasure in a vain masqueride of battle, which can have no practical result. Charles had better keep himself dark. This Nation is engaged in a struggle for the preservation of the Union under the Constitution, guaranteeing to each State the right to regulate its own domestic affairs in its own way. Congress has proclaimed that the war is not waged for purposes of emanci pation; and the President has publicly rebuked Gen. Fremont for exceeding the powers vested in him by the Government .-These Abolition agitators, who have contributed in no small degree to plunge the country into its present difficulties, are as great public enemies as the Southern rebels; and when the Nation subdues the latter, they will have a long account to settle with Mr. Charles Sumner and his disloyal crew of incendiaries .- Patriot and Union.

Our Representatives.

Our candidats for the Legislature, George S Tutton Esq., and Col. Levi L. Tate, are elected in this district by handsome majorities. Columbia, Montour and Sullivan Counties, are entitled to our gratitude for coming to the rescue and thus saving us from what, otherwise, would have been a most humiliating defeat. We promise to return the favor with interest, should they ever be placed in circumstances similar to

Facing the Music.

Judge, run nearly a tie vote against Woods guage, that, ,they who dance must pay the Republican, overcoming a Republican ma- piper.' Our government is learning this truth somewhat to its sorrow. Secretary Cameron we are told, is onite dismayed to find that the cost of music, by the regimental bands, is running up at a rate that will amount to millions of dollars per annum. To appreciate the fearful expense fully, it may be said that what is now paying for 'brass bands,' that blow so mightily in dress parades and in 'serenading Generals,' would have supported the Navy of the United States, as it stood a few years since.

Music is a very good thing in its way, but we cannot but believe that we are havng 'too much good thing ' There has been far more swelling of cheeks and obstreperation of brazen-throated trumpets than is profitable. Jericho surrendered to the blast of a ram's horn. But our rebels do not yield to such persuasions. Nor should we expect them to. Shakespeare knew the powerless-

Is fit for treasons, stratagems and spoils " We have found the rebels exactly of this sort. We have "piped," but they have not 'danced.' They hear our notes, but they utterly refuse to keep step to the music of the Union.' Therefore, let us change -Draw out the diapason, and let the ordinance of battle mingle its great roar with the silly clanger of cornets. We have had quavers' enough in the army, and had better return to first principles, known to revolutionary soldiers in the drum and fife - Skumishes Near Pilot Knob - Defeat of the Fashionable music is full of 'rugues,' which means 'flights;' and we should avoid aught that saggests the rappid time made in the "fugue" at Bull Run .- T. # A Judge in a "Pix."

An awkward affair, which once occurred to one of the judges on the Western Circuit has been the subject of much mirth. It appears that the pious judicial having finished his labors, and having cast off his forensic wig at his lodgings, had returned into the next room to wait for his brother judge, whom he was about to escort to some of he local aristocracy to dinner. The female servant of the house, had entered the bedchamber by a side door, and, not knowing that the judge was in the next room, in a frolic arrayed herself in the judge's wig .-Just the moment when the fair Topsy was admiring herself in the looking glass, the judge unexpectedly entered the room; and poor Topsy, catching a sight of the stern face looking over his shoulder, in the glass, was so alarmed that she fainted, and would have fallen to the floor, if the learned udge, impelled by humanity, had not caught her in his arms. At this moment his brother judge arrived, and on opening the dressing-room door, with a view to see The Union ticket is elected in this county, if he was ready, discovered his learned Rowe, (Dem ,) and Sellers (Rep ,) are elect. brother with the fainting maid in his arms. Not wishing to interrupt what he thought James Nill (Union) is elected President to be an armour, he quickly attempted to withdraw, when his brother judge vociferated. "For heaven's sake, stop, and hear this matter explaned." "Never mind, my dear brother, the matter explains itself," and he left his learned brother to recover the fainting maid as he could.

THE WAR NEWS.

From Dalies of the 19th and 21st.

The Position of Gen. MeGlellan. Now that it is a patent fact that the Poto mac is effectually blockaded, it is to be hoped that those newspapers and political leaders, who have been asserting that Maj General McClellan has had a sufficient force in his military district, and who have succeeded in subtracting from this force from fitteen to twenty thousand men, will realize the importance of maintaining such an army on the banks of the Potomac as will be enabled to break this blockade. Even if the enemy should still farther recede in one direction, they simply strengthen their right wing, which continues to rest upon the Potomac river. We have all along contended that if Major General McClellan is left to take his own course, without being interrupted or embarrassed by rivals in military and in political life, he will complete the nquest of rebellion in this quarter, and roll back the tide upon Richmond THE OTHER SIDE OF THE POTOMAC

The storm on the other side of the Potomac last night was very severe. The rain for awhile poured down in torrents, driving some of our volunteers from their tents -The encampments along the line to Lewinsville suffered the most, as they have been recently and temporarily put up. The soldies stood it like veterans, without a murmur. It is very evident from the reconnoissances that the rebels are withdrawing the 70,000 Republican majority? It has meltbulk of their forces from Fairfax and Centreville, and falling back to Manassas.

ARRIVAL OF VESSELS

Eleven vessels came up this evening with out sustaining any serious injury from the rebel batteries, and they report that other vessels are on their way up. It is the general opinion here that the shipping should be pushed forward without any unnecessary delay, as the authorities are taking active measures to secure the safety of all vessels passing up the river.

The Result in the State. -

One year ago the Republican party, hoisting the banner of "good times," and inscribing thereon the tempting motto that "The Election of the Republican Ticket, would bring peace and prosperity to our people, and better wages to the laborer and the mechanic," friumphed in Pennsylvania by a majority of 70,000. The masses of the people had lived so long under a good and prosperous government that they became vain, and-as a consequent evil-discontented. It had been so long since they had experienced adversity that they were unable to feel the truth of their prosperity and desired "a change," for the purpose of bettering their already too prosperons condition. They voted for the prosperity party. and carried everything before them. Gova ernor, Legislature. President, and Congress, were all, "after their own hearts." and the deluded people folded their hands complativers' six per cent. loan, at the option of cently in confident expectation of "better ed upon to declare their will at the ballot box. The election has passed, the result is announced, and-where, oh, where is your ed away like the mornings' mist before the rising sun Why this sudden change? How does it happen that, in a single year, our legislature is changed from a two third Republican majority, to a Democratic majority, powerful enough to contro! the two houses on joint ballot? When the campaign opened it was proclaimed that Democracy was dead, and that those who op posed the Republicans were simply seces sionists, During the whole of the contest Pennsylvania has now a larger number this was the "burthen of their song." The Democratic party, as an organization, was proscribed and warred upon as though it were an alien enemy. And yet the people have calmly, quietly, but emphatically declared their repudiation of the Republican party and its visionary heresies. The result of 40.000, a change of 55,000 votes in one year !

But one year of the new state of things

This glorius result has been achieved by no extraordinary exercions on the part of the Democratic party. It was not done by THE REBEL FORCES AT LEESBURG AND FAIR-FAX | immense meetings or great processions with banners flying and music playing .-Our drums, our fifes, and our flags and torches have long since been confiscated. and rendered up a sacrifice upon the alter reared at Chicago. These were not the instruments of our success; but the justice of our cause and the truth of our principles, commanded to be and appear in your prope have at last impressed themselves upon the er persons, before the Judges of the Or-It is a proverb, old almost as our lan ory that the rebels have fallen back upon vinced, by a dearly bought experience, that Monday of December next, then and there country, and bringing peace and prosperity ler, retting forth, that the said Joseph Paxto our borders, rests in the conservative principles of democracy. One more link in the chain of the Union has been caught up. One more effort of the Democracy, and the Government will be ours, and then our master hands will once more weld together the dissevered chain of the Union.
