BLOOMSBURG, WEDNESDAY, APR. 6, 1864.

FOR PRESIDENT IN 1864, GEORGE B. MCCLELLAN, Subject to the Decision of the Democratic National Convention

The Democratic State Convention.

The harmony which characterized the proceedings of the late Democratic State Convention, and the general unanimity which those proceedings have given, is the most auspicious sign of the determination of the party to conquer in the coming Presidential election which has yet occurred. It is evidence at least that the Democracy of Pennsylvania are actuated by a single motive—the rescue of the nation—moved by a single purpose—the achievement through the overthrow of the party in power and the re-establishment of Democratic principles and measures in the administration of the government. This idea seems to have governed the late Convention in all its proceedings; and if, fortunately, the same spirit and harmony shall prevail at Chicago, and the delegates from the different States represented there in National Convention shall return to their respective homes filled with the determination to work unceasingly and with confidence for victory, they cannot fail of achieving it. This is our firm conviction. There has been a favorable change in public sentiment within the past year, and the people are fast coming to the conclusion that the nation can only be saved by a change of administration—a political as well as personal change. Let us work steadily Democratic friends—let us work in faith—speak our sentiments boldly, push on the column bravely, and we shall defeat the Abolition candidate, whoever he may be, and save the Republic.

A COPPERHEAD—A copperhead pays city, poor, county and State tax; pays Revenue tax, pays bounties, enlists, fights, supports the Constitution of the State and of the United States, behaves himself peaceably and acts all the while as a good citizen, and yet he is denounced as a reptile not fit to live. Why is this? Because he will not support the negro policy of Abe Lincoln.—This is the sum-total of his offense. No matter how good a character he may possess, no matter how bad a character his political opponent may bear, still the one that goes in for inevitable negro is in evil with the majority, while the one who does not is out of sorts. We can point to as good men as this little green earth ever saw that are called copperheads, because they think that a white man is as good as a negro. Now this is extremely unjust—but what is the use of prating about justice now-a-days. Justice has plumed her wings and left this mundane sphere for a more blessed clime. But she will not, cannot be thwarted in heaven.

PASSAGE OF THE GOLD BILL.—The Gold Bill, which had passed the Senate, also passed the House, on the 16th inst. It authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to sell the gold in his possession—some twenty millions of dollars—to the highest bidder, receiving greenbacks in pay. Thus the Government itself is in the market gambling in gold, and buying with coin, its own depreciated money, and this is called "financing." It is like the man who is considered nearly insolvent, settling with his creditors at 50 cents on the dollar. Just think of this once great country, buying its own depreciated greenbacks, at sixty or seventy per cent. discount! What a disgraceful position we occupy in the eyes of other nations, and all because we trusted the keeping of the country to a set of hair-brained negro worshippers.

LIFE OF GEN. GEORGE MEADE.—T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia, have just published the Life and Public Services of General Meade, the hero of Gettysburg, and Commander of the Army of the Potomac. With a full history of his life and Services to his country in all the various positions he has filled, from the time he first entered the United States Army, in 1835, until the present day with his Official Reports, to the War Department, Speeches, Orders, etc. With his portrait, complete in one large volume, price 25 cents.

We have intelligence from Charleston harbor to the 19th inst. The enemy have mounted six rifle guns in the casements of Fort Sumter, which are directed to bear upon the channel, and therefore prevent the advance of the Union gunboats, if any of them should venture so rash an undertaking, which it is not at all likely they will. Dispatches from Charleston say that the fire of the Union guns has done some damage about the neighborhood of Broad-street but beyond that the inhabitants feel perfectly secure.

On Friday last intelligence reached us of the death of John W. Bozka, at Clearfield, in this State. He was the eldest son of the Hon. Wm. Bozka, and was a young gentleman of some promise. This sad bereavement will fall heavily upon a large circle of friends and relatives, who admired and loved the deceased on account of his many virtues and estimable qualities.

Constrained Broils.

Our exchange papers from every direction publish accounts of collisions that have taken place between citizens and soldiers. Scores of both have been killed and many more wounded in these disgraceful broils. One day we have an account of soldiers forcing open prison doors and releasing the prisoners; again we read of the "sacking" of this and that hotel or tavern by soldiers; then again we are informed that certain printing offices have been "gutted" by these same gentlemen. Riots and assaults are numerous in all sections of the country, and if not rebuked and checked by the strong arm of the government, we will soon witness a state of affairs that will eclipse the worst scenes of the French revolution. It is time something was done to put a stop to this lawlessness, and if our rulers refuse to make an effort in this direction the people will be compelled to adopt measures for the protection of their persons and property.

Republican editors more than any other men living are responsible for the various outrages that have been committed by soldiers. For the last year or more, the Abolition press, when unable to answer the solid arguments of Democratic editors, would bribe up, and, as a kind of intimidating threat to Democrats, yelp from their kennels "just wait till the soldiers come home;" thus intimating that our brave soldiers, when at home, could do as they pleased, and set law and order and decency at defiance, and settle their private grievances by brute force. It was an invitation to the soldiers to perjure themselves by violating the oath they had taken when they enlisted. It was asking the soldiers to commit lawless acts, and thus disgrace themselves and their uniforms. Not long since a pompous Major General, during the delivery of an Abolition, negro-equality speech, used these words—"Wait till the soldiers come home—they will settle accounts with the copperheads." What was this but an invitation to Republican soldiers to commit murder and arson? The Major General who could thus incite soldiers to acts of violence should have his straps torn from his shoulders.—But yet the man who made these remarks stands high in the administration circles.—It is not often that a true soldier will be guilty of a dishonorable act, for he respects the uniform he wears and the oath he has taken; but sometimes it has happened that the more ignorant of them have, by taking a hint from bad advisers, degraded themselves, by committing unlawful and infamous acts. Their advisers, then, and not the soldiers, are the more guilty parties and against them public opinion should be directed and the finger of scorn pointed.—Soldiers we repeat, will not be guilty of law and disgraceful acts, provided they are not tampered with by the liars and cowards who attempt to use them for their own devilish purposes.

THE FEVER ABATED.—We believe we never made an announcement with more gratitude and more pleasure than this—the fever has abated and nearly disappeared from our town. Not only are we without new cases of the fever, but enjoy a most remarkable and happy exemption from other diseases. Our physicians assure us that Carbundale is just now remarkably healthy. This is truly most gratifying intelligence, and will do much towards dissipating the clouds of gloom that have enveloped us. Our community has been most terribly and fearfully scourged during the past three months. So many families have been called to mourn; so many dear ones have been suddenly removed by death, without warning and without remedy, that our whole community has stood aghast. Business, though not suspended, has been almost paralyzed, and attended to more as a formality than as a matter of interest or importance. The removal of the dreadful scourge will scatter the clouds that have enshrouded us and let in once more the cheerful light. Business will revive and the public mind recover its tone.—Carbon daily Advance.

BURNED TO DEATH.—On Friday evening last, three rascals from Cameron county, were lying with their raft in the West Branch of the Susquehanna river, opposite Northumberland, and after having spent a part of the evening in the borough of Northumberland, they went back to their raft, built a fire in their cabin, made a straw bed near the stove, and laid down to take a night's rest. About midnight the straw caught on fire and consumed the entire cabin. The unfortunate men not awakening until one of them was burned to death, his feet and legs being burned up to his knees, and his hands and arms up to his elbows. He was buried in Northumberland after the Coroner's inquest was held. The other two, though dangerously burned, are expected to recover.—Northumberland Democrat.

ANOTHER SOLDIER GONE.—We regret to learn of the death of Silas Kiser, member of Company E, 16th Penna. Cavalry, and formerly of this place. His disease was Chronic Diarrhea. His remains were brought home by his comrades, on Friday morning last, and interred at Wapwallopen, Luzerne county, the same day. Mr. Kiser was at home last October, during which time he was suffering from the same disease. On recovering he returned to his regiment, only to be brought back a corpse! He had a large circle of acquaintances in this place and vicinity, who will deeply regret to learn of his death. He leaves a wife and several children to mourn his untimely end. Peace to his ashes.—Berwick Gazette.

GOOD FOR LITTLE FULTON.—The Democracy of Fulton county carried every township except one, at the late spring elections, and in that a portion of their ticket was carried. The abolitionists made desperate efforts, but were defeated at every point. In the borough of McConnellsburg the democrats elected their whole ticket, for the first time in many years. Little Fulton is soundly democratic, and will show a handsome record in the coming Presidential campaign.

THE PEE JOWK of the Republican doesn't seem satisfied with "the complexion" of the Jurors drawn for the May Term of Court. We don't know that THOMAS DURN has a trial pending; if he had we would assure him they would be all right to do him justice, whatever the cause might be!

It is talked in political circles that Henry W. Tracy is after a re-nomination for Congress. He may succeed in getting the nomination if Dr. John and a few more of his ilk continue to abuse him. We can't see why his party shouldn't give him the nomination, after his sticking so close to the administration in all trying time. One thing is certain, though, he will not go back to Congress with the assistance of the Democratic vote. The Democratic party design running a candidate of their own, with a fair chance of electing him.

THE 15TH of April is drawing nearer and nearer, and we don't bear a word said about the Draft in knowing circles. We should think the people were pretty well tired of paying, and now it would seem that the Government still wants the men, although we would not assert positively that the draft will be made on the 15th. We presume the Government is not paying a bounty to volunteers, as the time has expired when the bounty was to cease.

MAJOR GENERAL JOHN C. FREMONT is causing quite a good deal of fluttering in the Abolition ranks, in relation to the next candidate for the Presidency, in that party. Mr. Lincoln and friends are fearful of Fremont and his party, Fremont has already secured the influence of Horace Greeley's Tribune and several other papers of like Abolition notoriety. The German element of that party is also doing service for the Rocky Mountain boy and Woolly Horse. Abraham Lincoln is destined to be shelved, which is proper and right.

HON. DAVID B. MONTGOMERY, our able and attentive Senator, will please accept our thanks for a copy of Washington's Farewell Address to the people of the United States. Also, for a copy of Andrew Jackson's Proclamation to the people of South Carolina, and Address to the people of the United States, issued December 10th, 1832, while he was President. These documents read with a different ring from those of Abraham Lincoln's. They are the productions of men who possessed sound and liberal views, and who dared to execute them. We have far from a Washington or Jackson in the Presidential chair to-day.

WE HAVE BEEN having a great deal of stormy weather in this section, this Spring; keeping the roads as much unsettled as they are with the army of the Potomac. This is the 6th day of April, out of which we have had three days stormy weather. The Month of March was a very rough, open month; hard on the winter grain; making it look more discouraging than it has for several years past at this period of the season; yet we may expect to see a tolerably good crop.

AMERICAN AGRICULTURIST.—This valuable farm journal surpasses every periodical of its kind in the United States. Its price is only one dollar, and furnishes its readers with more interesting and useful reading matter than any other work extant. An effort is being made to increase the subscription of this highly valuable agricultural periodical to 100,000, which bids fair to be successful. Every farmer should send for it.—He will not regret the step taken. Published by ORANGE JUD, 41 Park Row, New York.

ON Sabbath last the remains of Mr. ORADIAN PRICE were borne to their last resting place, the funeral being attended by a large concourse of friends and acquaintances. He was a member of the Order of Odd Fellows, belonging to the Berwick Lodge. The funeral was attended and conducted by a respectable number of members from the Berwick Lodge, as well as quite a large representation from the Bloomsburg Lodge. His disease was Erysipelas, which proved fatal in the course of four or five days after the attack. He had been engaged the last two or three years as clerk and assistant at the Exchange Hotel, at this place. His valuable services will be missed by Mr. Koons.

THE action of the late Democratic State Convention just suits the country. It has fairly taken all the wind out of the Republican sails. The entire proceedings were such as to give our enemies no chance whatever to misrepresent the Democratic party. The resolutions, not much over a square, are pointed and to the purpose; not attempting to settle or discuss matters which properly belong to the National Chicago Convention, which will assemble on the 4th of July next. Everything that was done was characterized with that harmony and good feeling rarely found in Conventions composed of so many different heads.—Upon the whole, we view it as an indication of an early return of those better days, while we lived, and the country prospered, under Democratic rule.

PETERSON'S MAGAZINE for April is a charming number, outstripping all former numbers. Other Philadelphia Magazines are in the rear of Peterson This Magazine has a day's March ahead of all other publications of its kind,—in fashion plates, reading, and everything. We can't see how we should do without it, although we did not receive the March number, which never reached us, and it caused some crooked faces in the family. Price $2.00 a year. The book is worth four times the amount.

THE VERMONT SCHOOL JOURNAL.—The March number of this publication is on our table. This is really a valuable journal and is published at too cheap a rate, taking into consideration the times in which we live. We hope it may become as it has already at home a favorite throughout our good old Commonwealth. The January and February numbers would be most acceptable. Price 75 cents per year. Address School Journal, Braintree, Vermont.

SINCE April 6th, 1861, three millions two hundred and sixty thousand seven hundred and forty-eight men have been called into the service by ABRAHAM LINCOLN. This doesn't seem like a "dozen old cows," whipping the South into submission, as some of the amputated-Abolitionists of this place declare could be done. At the commencement of the war our Abolition neighbors were ready to throw a rope around our neck if we dared say that the war would last one year, that it would require more than "a dozen old cows to put it down," and that the rebels would fight. Some may denounce us as not loyal for telling these stubborn facts, but they are truths, and other evidence that the Democratic party is not guilty, nor never was, of deceiving the masses. We told you, if you elected ABRAHAM LINCOLN, there would be difficulty, that the South would rebel and the Union of States severed. We were called, for this warning the people in time, "Union Savers," and looked upon as the Union party, having for our sole object the preservation of the Union and the Constitution in its original integrity.

TO AGENTS AND CANVASSERS,—and others in search of money and employment. T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia, Pa., are now publishing a series of Books that commend themselves especially to the attention of Agents and Canvassers, on account of the rapidity of their daily sales. The series will comprise the Lives and Public Services of all the Generals in the United States Service, commanders of all our Armies at Navy, State-men and others. Agents, Canvassers and Pedlars, are wanted in every town and village in the United States, who can easily make Ten Dollars a Day at it, in engage in selling this series of the Lives of Generals and Statesmen, just published and for sale by T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia, Penna.

THE REWARD OF VALOR.—The Knoxville correspondent of the Tribune says of Col. Frank Wolford, who was lately dismissed from the Service:—"No man has shown more steady devotion to the Union cause, or has been exceeded in self-denial and gallantry in the field. He has been seriously wounded six times, and had sixteen horses shot under him in battle." Yet this gallant officer, for presuming to speak the truth in a public address,—denounces Mr. Abraham Lincoln for his broken pledges, and his monstrous usurpation, was dishonorably dismissed from the army! Truly, republics are ungrateful.

THE Emperor of France pays his soldiers in American gold. Four millions of dollars have just arrived in France for that purpose.—Louisville Democrat.

That is more than our government does. It pays its soldiers in depreciated paper—paper that is worth 35 per cent. less than gold. The government has a large amount of gold on hand, but instead of paying it out to the soldiers, sells it to the speculators in Wall street at a great premium! The gold is for the holders of 5-20 bonds and for speculators, while the army is obliged to take depreciated paper.

The New York World, of Saturday, says: The shifless expedients of our honorable Secretary of the Treasury in regard to the price of gold have killed the export trade of the port. The fluctuations in the official price for gold certificates are not to be accounted for on any known principle of finance, and are in opposition to common sense. The greatest gambler in the price of gold is the Treasury Department. The export trade of the port, and the remittances of government bonds to Europe, are brought to a standstill by the injudicious financial measures of the government.

LABOR AND IDLENESS.—Notwithstanding that mechanical labor in Washington city commands from three to four dollars per day, the city is overrun by a set of stout armed and sturdy aspirants for place, who will take a low grade clerkship worth $600 per annum, or even a watchman's situation rather than earn more money by honest toil. The Government should make it a necessary recommendation to appointments to civil office, that the applicant should serve at least three years in the army. That would empty Washington of office-beggars, if it did not fill the ranks of the army.

"THE UNION AS IT WAS."—The use of this simple phrase has been the cause of much abuse of the Democratic party by Abolitionists. They have probably forgotten that it was made the occasion of three cheers at the reception of President Lincoln at Pittsburgh, while on his way to Washington. Men are now called traitors for advocating "the Union as it was."

A Columbus correspondent of the Cleveland Plain Dealer says the result of the Ohio Democratic Convention was a signal triumph for the McClellan element, and that paper, in an editorial article, avers that the vote of the National Convention will be overwhelming for McClellan. We are of the same opinion, and consider now his nomination and election a "fixed fact."

The Right of Soldiers to Vote.

The amendments to the State Constitution, which has received the sanction of the Legislature, (allowing soldiers to vote,) will shortly be submitted to the people. The Constitution requires that such amendments (to be made not oftener than once in five years) shall receive the assent of two consecutive Legislatures, and shall be voted upon by the people within three months after publication by the Secretary of the Commonwealth. The amendments having for a second time passed the Legislature on the 9th inst., the Governor will, in a few days, issue a proclamation ordering the election as required.

SELECT SCHOOL.—We direct the attention of our readers to the advertisement of S. E. Furst in another column. Mr. Furst designs opening a Classical Seminary and Normal Institute in Berwick, to commence on Monday, April 18th, 1864. He has been engaged in Teaching for some time, and possesses the necessary qualifications for the position. We trust that he will be sufficiently encouraged, in the enterprise. Heretofore our children have had little or no advantages by which they could secure a course of classical instructions, and the deficit is to be deplored. With reasonable encouragement Mr. Furst will be enabled to build up a school in Berwick, which will be an honor to the town and be of advantage to our citizens and the neighborhood generally.—Berwick Gazette.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION.—Col. J. G. Freese keeps constantly on hand and for sale, at the Recorder's office in Bloomsburg, "The Constitution of the United States," and of the "State of Pennsylvania," in various styles, at prices to suit; also, sundry other democratic books, documents, and speeches; together with legal, note and cap paper, pens, ink and envelopes of all sizes and styles, as well as theological, poetical, Historical and miscellaneous books, cheap.

SPOTTED FEVER.—This fearful malady has made its appearance in Rush township, Northumberland county, in the vicinity of the creek known as Logan's Run. The disease seems to be confined principally to the locality of the creek, and to follow its course pretty directly. It has already been an unwelcome visitor in some eight or ten families, and in several cases proved fatal.—Some medical men express the opinion that if proper care was taken by the patient to avoid taking cold, in most cases the disease could be cured with little difficulty.—Danville Democrat.

COURT convened at Sunbury on Monday week, but on account of the prevalence of the small pox in the mining districts of the county it was deemed prudent not to continue the session. The jurors were discharged on Monday, and all the civil suits continued to next term.—Lewisburg Argus.

SKULKERS.—The editor of the Patriot and Union says he has it from Capt. J. D. Boynton that fully two hundred men, nearly all new recruits, have failed to report themselves to the 93d, the regiment in which they enlisted. No doubt some of the scamps have gone to other places to repeat the game they played at Harrisburg, enlist, secure the bounty money, and then run away.

DEATH OF HON. J. N. TAYLOR of New Jersey.—Paterson, April 2.—The Hon. J. N. Taylor, Speaker of the New Jersey House of Assembly, expired at his residence in this city at one o'clock this morning, from congestion of the brain, after a brief illness of three days. He was a young and active man extensively engaged in manufactures at his home in Paterson, N. J.

THE New York Tribune fixes the utmost limit to the "rebellion" to the 4th of July next. Very likely. That is the day fixed for holding the Democratic National Convention to nominate a candidate for the Presidency.

DEBERTERS.—According to a statement made in the U. S. Senate, a few days since by Mr. Wilson, 80,000 men have deserted from our army during the last twelve months. A tolerably large army, that.

THE late issue of the Selingsgrove Post states that the body of an infant was found by some boys in Penn's Creek. It is supposed to be a case of infanticide.

GOVERNMENT is considering the expediency of issuing two new coins, to be of bronze—one and two cent pieces.

In Bloomsburg, on Sunday the 27th day of March 1864, Mr. James Cronin, aged about 45 years. At the Exchange, Montour co., on the 16th of March 1864, of Scarlet Fever, Wm. Amos, son of John and J. C. Ellis, in the 8th year of his age. In West Hemlock, Montour county, on the 30th of last January, William Lloyd, son of George W. and Hannah R. Beitz, aged 1 year, 6 mos. and 26 days. LATE WAR NEWS.

General Forrest seems to be doing just as he pleases in Western Kentucky. He still occupies Hickman and has overrun all the neighborhood. General McCullough is reported to be moving North with twenty five hundred men to reinforce him. General Grierson, whose business it is to look after that section of the State, has done absolutely nothing to prevent the Confederate incursions. There can be no better proof than this waiting that the forces were severely handled in his retreat from the march to join Sherman's late expedition.

We have at length received the full history of the late difficulty in Illinois. The people of Charleston and its vicinity have for a long time been very much maltreated by the military. Mr. Eden was to make a speech to them and apprehending a difficulty many of the citizens came to the meeting armed. Mr. Eden learning this, declined to speak and did all he could to prevent a disturbance. After he left the town, the fight began. Eight were killed and about twenty wounded. The military arrested thirty or forty. Everything is quiet now.

From Chattanooga there is intelligence that the Confederate cavalry is in force at Red Clay and other places on Taylor's Ridge. The appearance of their line is not so threatening as it was a short time since. General Sherman has gone to Nashville.

The guerrillas have seized a trading boat on the Mississippi below Memphis. The crew was captured but paroled.

Gen. Grant's return from Fortress Monroe is not yet announced. General Ord is to go to western Virginia. He ranks Sigel, but they will command the army together.

The Federal troops intend abandoning Brownsville and all the posts on the Rio Grande. This occupation has cost millions of money, whilst it has not availed in the least to stop the cotton trade between Texas and Mexico.

THE HISTORY OF

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. The most remarkable medicine of the day, and the many cures that have been performed with it in cases of Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, and other diseases arising from a disordered stomach or liver, places it at once among the most astonishing discoveries that have taken place in the medical world. The disease to which Bitters are applicable are so universal that there are but few of our friends who may not trace their virtues in their own families or circle of acquaintances and prove to their own satisfaction that there is at least one remedy among the many advertised medicines deserving the public confidence.
