CAPT. WILLIAM SILVER returned home last Fuday: He was quable to get re mustered into the service. The order of the day seems to be, "master out" instead of "mus _ tet in " This, with the largest number of people, is good news. It would seem like grange proceeding if the government should s ill receive officers into the service while on account of their not being any longer needed in "patting down this robellion."

A young Lady was heard to remark, on her return from services, in one of the churcles of this place, on the day of fasting. humiliation and prayer, in accordance with President Johnson's proclamation, that "the sermon was strictly political." This came from the lips of a lady of intelligence and a for life church-goer. It does not surptise us in the least to hear of our ministers preach ing political sermons; that has been the order of the day for the last four years Ask Lincoln assisted in prosecuting the pulpit. Who dare deny it?
