THEY ('Jeff. Davis and his Co-Traitors') are guilty of a still greater crime-that of dooming the Federal prisoners to the death of hunger. And for this Jefferson Davis is more responsible than all the rest. It was by his authority and order that thousands of our countrymen, guiltless of any offense but that of bearing arms in the cause of their country, were put to death in their captivity by the slowest process known to murder.-Col. Co. Republican.

From this argument of the Republican we deduce an idea in regard to the morder of natriotic citizens of the North who were uililess of any crime, by the torture of con inement in damp and loathesome cells. And for this Abraham Lincoln's guilt is more certain than all the rest. "It was by his authority and order" that the bastiles were put in use; he saw the health and strength of old and young men fail, and the body left lifeless, through torture in the most inhuman way, for no other cause than being.

This certifies that I have used the Phonix Pectoral in my family, and I recommend it to the Public as the very best remedy for cough and colds that I have ever tried One of my children was taken with a cold, accompanied with a croupy cough, so bad, indeed, that it could not talk and scarcely breathe. Having heard so much said about the Phœnix Pectoral I procured a bottle of it. The first dose elieves the difficulty of breathing, and before the child had taken one fourth of the bottle it was entirely well. Every family should have it in their bouse.

D. P. CROSBY. [Signed.] J. C. Smith, druggist of New Hope, Bucks consty, Pa., in writing to Dr. Oberholtzer, says: "A few days since I bought two dozen of your valuable cough remedy to try, and find it very good, and as it is near-ly all gone I would like you to send me a gross of it.

"Your medicine gives better satisfaction than any other I have in the Store. I am agent for some of the most popular cough preparations, but yours seems to be doing

The following is an extract from a letter from Hiram Ellis, merchant, near Pottstown, Pa., "I have tried the Phoenix Pectoral and find it to be the best cough medicine extant. It meets with a more ready sale than any other that I have ever had in my store.

The proprietor of this medicine has so much confidence in its curative powers, from the testimony of thousands who have used it, that the money will be paid back to any purchaser who is not satisfied with its effects."
