THE NEW YORK NEWS.
THE BEST PAPER IN THE WORLD.

B. Wood, Ed. and Proprietor.
Prospectus.
The Democracy of the North will commit a large error if they accept the result of the late Presidential election as an indication from the hand of Destiny to relax their political action until the opening of the next campaign. The future welfare of the republic depends upon the political zeal and activity of the Democracy during the year 1865.
The small majority of the popular vote that elected the Black Republican candidates, considered in view of the extraordinary resources of the Administration for corruption and compulsion, attests that the power of the Democracy, on a fair field, is equal to the vindication of Democratic principles.
There is one feature in the result of the Presidential election that goes far to reconcile the patriot to the hard fate of his country under four years more of Black Republican misrule. The ballot paper has changed its character in our political atmosphere has vanished for ever. War Democracy has fulfilled its mission of disorganization, and like any other pestilence will be remembered only for the evil it has done.
The issue now before the people is the final struggle between Centralization and State's Rights, and no journal is Democratic that is not the devoted champion of State's Rights, the paramount principle of the Democratic faith.
The New York News needs no testimony beyond its plain unalterable record to substantiate its claim to being and having been the most earnest, able and consistent States' Rights journal in the land. We have no excuses to invent for modifications of sentiment, nor have we to plead " expediency " in palliation of inconsistency. Our path has been straight forward. Our columns are before the people, not a line in them that we would cancel nor sentiment we would recall, not an assertion that requires an explanation, not a word that we regret to have uttered, not a principle advocated that we have not stood by and will stand by to the last. Such has been our past record, so will be our future. We do not, however, ask the Democracy to sustain us in our mission as a reward for the service we have done, but in consideration of the good work that we propose to do. The New York News for 1865 will not merely imitate the predecessors, it will excel them. It shall be not only the truest exponent of Democratic principle, but the best newspaper in the country. Heretofore it has had no superior as a vehicle of news, hereafter it shall have no equal. In every department of journalism we have arranged that the News shall distance competition. It is the only Democratic newspaper in the metropolis that has the patronage of publishing a daily issue with the full dispatches of the Associated Press, and therefore its machinery for furnishing a complete record of events is more perfect than that of any of its Democratic contemporaries. None have attempted lately, to compete with it in the publication of Southern intelligence, as our system of exchange with Southern journals baffles the sagacity and enterprise of our rivals.
A glance at the columns of The News devoted to "Southern and Northern persons" will remark the extraordinary success that has attended our enterprise in that direction. We are in daily receipt of letters expressing the thanks of those who, through the medium of the "Personals" in The News, have been enabled to receive tidings from their friends and relatives in the South, and the heart of many an exile and wanderer has been gladdened through that instrumentality by words of affection and hope from those most dear to the heart.
The New York News has become so popular in the rural districts that other Metropolitan journals, in publishing their stereotyped boast of "the largest circulation of any weekly journal" are constrained to make an exception in our favor. It is a significant circumstance that since the Presidential election and consequent demise of War Democracy, the subscriptions to this paper have been unusually numerous.

The Agricultural Department of The New York News renders it an invaluable companion and assistant to the farmer; and its Cattle, Market and Produce Reports are more reliable and full than those of any other journal.
The Daily News will forfeit one thousand dollars if, in the above Departments, competent judges should deny its superiority.
