The Late Elections.

We have, at least, the poor satisfaction of giving our readers additional election returns from the several States in the Union, which held elections quite recently. They have all gone in favor of the Negro, to speak plainly, save those on the other side of Mason and Dixon's Line. The official Republican majority in little New Jersey exceeds 2,500. This the knowing ones did not anticipate; but it squarely demonstrates what Green Backs will do. It is reported that a large amount of money was sent into that State from Massachusetts and Washington city. In carrying the State for Governor they have elected an Abolition Legislature, which will secure a Black Republican United States Senator, in the place of a Democrat, whose place must be filled this winter. This is what made the election so very important in New Jersey to the Negroes. They succeeded, after their monstrous effort.

In New York State, the Republican majority is estimated at 27,000, a slight increase over last Fall's majority. General Stockwell, the color bearer for the Democratic party in that State this Fall, acted with the Whig party when it existed, and has declared himself, but quite recently, a member of the Democratic party. His defeat will be looked upon as a defeat of the Democracy of that State; however, otherwise it might have gone, with an old fashioned, square Democrat at the head of their ticket. We always doubted the propriety of nominating Gen. Stockwell, and thought a better selection could have been made. He was not an available man for the Democracy at this time.

The State of Massachusetts went her usual road—for the Niggers. This State is becoming more black, as it grows older. Gen. Banks was returned to Congress from his old District. He may be expected to carry several negroes upon his back this winter. Wisconsin has elected the whole Republican ticket, and declared in favor of Negro Suffrage! We are informed that the Abolitionists congregated in the Postoffice, at his place, awaiting the distribution of the mail, upon hearing the news that Wisconsin had favored black suffrage, they expressed their gratification by a shout, stamping of feet, and clapping of hands, to the great disgust of one of their leaders, who had, at a public discussion, arrayed himself against negro suffrage, at least "until the time arrived." No doubt he looked and felt as if the time had arrived! sooner than he expected.

The Democratic party of Louisiana carried all their candidates through from Governor down to State Legislators. Wells was elected Governor. The Congressional Delegation is said to be a strong one; and will make an earnest demand for their seats. Beaux has been elected Governor of Alabama. At the out-break of the rebellion he resisted the movement; but afterwards he has fortunes with that tide. He suits the people, and supports Andrew Johnson. North Carolina has held her election, and Woods was returned Governor over Holden by 600 majority.

In Maryland the Democracy have had a decided gain, defeated the Republican in ten counties. South Carolina sends a Democratic Delegation to Congress, which will be backed rigorously by the President.

The Fish Question.

We notice there is a good deal of excitement along the Susquehanna on the shad question. The Legislature, last winter, passed a law requiring all owners of dams on the Susquehanna river, to erect schutes permit the passage of fish; and it would seem that the owners have refused to comply with the provisions of the Act; thus leaving the people to hold meetings in every all the towns along the river, to suggest and urge upon the Legislature some mode of compelling the companies owning dams on the river to improve them so as to shed and other fish to pass up the river and section of the Act, upon the sub- ject provides:

That if any individual, or individuals, incorporate, or own, or owners, of dam, or dams, or any incorporation having the same, shall neglect, or refuse, to construct schutes, or schutes, or other works, as will allow the free passage of up the said river, within six months after the passage of this Act, or they shall be liable to a fine of two hundred dollars to be recovered as debts of the amount recoverable, by law, one half to go to the prosecutor, and the other half to the use of the commonwealth; and the very of said fine, by any individual, shall not be a bar to a recovery by the State, or any other person, after ten days after the date of the entry of the prior judgment.

Owners of these dams have no excuse on the ground that it is an impossibility to construct schutes or schutes that are practicable, for in the State of Maryland larger dams than are found in the Susquehanna are so constructed as to permit the free passage of fish, step by step resting places, so that they are not cut, and very little retarded.

papers had Gen. Grant in New York, at the Metropolitan Hotel. Where his wife, we are not informed.

Wisconsin and Minnesota have followed the example of Connecticut, and repudiated negro suffrage by large majorities. In Wisconsin, although the Republican ticket was chosen at the recent election, by over seven thousand majority, the amendment to the Constitution in favor of negro suffrage was defeated by ten thousand. In Minnesota a similar rebuke was administered to the negro worshippers. In that State the Republican ticket was elected, while the people decided by a large majority that the elective franchise should not be bestowed upon negroes. In all cases where this negro issue has been fairly and openly presented to the people of the North, it has been defeated, and yet the radicals insist that it shall be made a condition precedent to the establishment of full constitutional relations between the Southern States and the General Government. This is Republican consistency.—Exchange.

The Rights of the South.

It is urged by some of the "blues," that the war destroyed the rights of the States, and that we have no rights, and must be content with what we can get. We respectfully dissent from such absurd doctrines, and point to the President as one man, at least, who believes nothing of the kind. If we are to be guided by the opinions of some of our cotemporaries even in Mississippi, we must abandon the grand principle upon which this Government was founded, and yield at once to the extreme Federal idea of consolidation. The great institution of slavery has been destroyed. It received a dreadful blow, to our judgment, in 1857, when the Missouri Compromise was repealed; the dogs of war were even then let loose, and we all now bow in acknowledgment of an accomplished, and, perhaps, inevitable fact. But the rights of the people were involved only to a limited extent in the institution of slavery, and may be resolved into the simple right of holding property in slaves. That right has been forced from us by the result of the war, and we have acquiesced in the demand of the North as a peace offering for all time to come. It matters not to us whether we live under an acknowledged extreme central despotism or of a Government said to be limited in its powers and of constitutional guarantees, but really, as despotic as [the other].

Some will have us to sacrifice right after right without a murmur, that we may be great and prosperous (?) in the future.— They will bind themselves in chains, in order that they may hereafter enjoy freedom. It is a dangerous experiment—a fatal delusion.

"Fame to our ashes comes, alas, too late! And praise smells rank upon the coffin plate!"

We have only to stand firm now, and even submit, for the time being, to a state of vassalage, rather than yield any right that has not been clearly sacrificed by the war. We contend that nothing of our constitutional rights has been lost save the right of property in slaves; and we regard all politicians who are now persuading the people that they must still yield more, as dangerous counselors, who will take away the very life blood of liberty, presenting us with a semblance.

"Cold as insensate marble."

Some of the panic makers contend that President Johnson has made further demands—that we must yield to his wishes if we hope to have a voice in the Government. We have repeatedly shown that President Johnson has made no demand that was not enunciated in his proclamation; and were he now to make a thousand demands unauthorized by the Constitution, we would still advise the people to give no official sanction to his requirements. President Johnson has announced to European Governments that the rebellion is at an end; that the war has ceased, and he will not be sustained, either North or South, if he should now attempt any infringement upon rights that have been restored by the close of the war. To take any other view of the subject, is to declare that the United States Government does not exist; that the rights of freemen are all sacrificed, and that we have a Dictator at Washington instead of a constitutional President. If a Dictator inimical to us, and with power to back him, we have nothing to hope for; if a President, guided by the Constitution, we have nothing to fear.— Therefore, in our acts, let us look to the "public welfare," and set aside the "blue rain" politicians, who use the in-ter-ter-ter style of arguments to accomplish their designs.—Jackson (Miss) News.

New Paper.—We have received a copy of a new paper entitled the Mahoney City Gazette, published in Schuylkill county, by Dr. G. B. H. SWATZ & DAVID PHILLIPS. It is neutral in politics, but alive in local affairs and general news, and presents a very good appearance. For a new paper, it already displays a fair advertising patronage. The Dr. we have some knowledge of—know him to be a man of ability and any amount of perseverance. Success to the new enterprise.

The Lady's Friend.—This popular and useful Magazine has been received in our sanctum for December. There are very few, if any, Magazines that surpass the Lady's Friend. It is up with the times—never behind. In choice literature and fashion plates it has no equal, for the same amount of money. See prospectus on third page of to-day's STAR.

A. K. McCLELLAN, "Republican" who had an interview last week, with President Johnson, gives us his convictions in regard to the disposition to be made of Jeff. Davis, as follows: "If I were going to guess on the subject, I would say that Davis is more likely to be paroled during the next year than to be tried, and if he is ever hanged he must do it himself."

Virginia City, M. T., September 20, 1865.

Editor Star of the North, Dear Sir: In my last I promised to tell you all I had learned in relation to the agricultural and mineral resources of this country. To that I will add the character of its inhabitants, politically and socially, and I will speak of these points in reverse order. First as to the political complexion of the people. They are decidedly Democratic, and at the Territorial election, which was held on Monday, the 4th inst., the whole Democratic ticket was elected, both Territorial and County, although the "People's Party," (they do not call themselves Republicans any more; they say that it played out) hired a band of muskets and a wagon to drive them around town, carrying a large flag, and having inscribed on the wagon:—"Vote for the interests of Montana!"—"Vote for Major Upson," who was their candidate for Congressional Delegate. Col. Sam. McLean was the Democratic candidate for the same office, and was elected. He is elected by a large majority. The only Republicans in this city or in the Territory having any influence are the government officials, who are here by appointment. All the officers, Territorial, County and Municipal were at first appointed by the General Government, and were then re-elected by the Governor of the Territory, and as a matter of course they were Republicans, and a more graceless set of rascals never disgraced the name of a public officer. I speak more particularly in reference to the Territorial and County officers. The Territorial officers are the General Governor, the Territorial Governor of the Territory, and as a matter of course they were Republicans, and a more graceless set of rascals never disgraced the name of a public officer. I speak more particularly in reference to the Territorial and County officers. The Territorial officers are the General Governor, the Territorial Governor of the Territory, and as a matter of course they were Republicans, and a more graceless set of rascals never disgraced the name of a public officer.

AGRICULTURE.

Agriculture in this Territory, although yet in its infancy, bids fair to become one of its great sources of the wealth of its inhabitants. The valleys of the Galatin and Snake rivers, and the valleys of the Yellowstone, one of the great tributaries of the Missouri, are very extensive and exceedingly fertile, producing all kinds of grain, (except corn) fruits and vegetables. The limited quantity of rain which falls during the year, however, renders irrigation necessary in some of the valleys, as well as in most of the other valleys in the country, the land can be watered by artificial means, and it will repay the expense of so doing. The valley of the Snake river is another large tract of farming country, easily irrigated and very productive.— The experiment of raising winter wheat has established the fact that it does well, even better, than spring wheat, and it is estimated that there will be enough wheat grown in the Territory this year to bread the people three months, and that next year they will be able to raise sufficient for one year. The wheat raised in this Territory is of a very fine quality, and yields from twenty-five to thirty bushels to the acre. The oats crop was a failure this year by its being eaten up by grasshoppers. Potatoes, of the finest quality, are raised in abundance so far as cultivated. Last year there were potatoes raised in Bonanza city, as samples, weighing respectively, five and seven pounds. Such a thing as rot in potatoes is not known here. One man planted three acres with potatoes, in Madison valley last year, and after paying all expenses had ten thousand dollars ($10,000) in gold. Great quantities of hay are made in the valleys. Last winter it sold at from $150.00 to $200.00 per ton. It is now selling at from $50.00 to $60.00 per ton. The immense amount of stock of all kinds that winter here creates the demand. Dairy men are reaping a rich harvest. They sell milk at 20 cents a quart and butter at 15 cents to $1.50 per lb., and the supply is not equal to the demand. Wheat harvest occurs in September. A man who has a good farm and grazing rancho in this country will succeed, within ten or twenty miles of market, has the means of making a fortune in a short time. The breeding of stock alone is a source of large profit. The average price of a cow is $1.50 per month for calves, and from $2.00 to $3.00 per month for horses or mules. If they keep them but two weeks the prices are the same. In the course of a few years, the price of living will be greatly reduced, as a natural consequence. Everything that is raised here is sold at a profit, and the competition in the trade, are about as cheap as in the States.

MINERAL RESOURCES.

I regret my inability, from present information, to give you reliable statistics with regard to the mineral products of this Territory. Great injustice, however, has been done to Montana by the reports of the Philadelphia Miner, as published in some of the papers. Idaho has received credit for large amounts of gold coined there, which properly belonged to Montana. The error originated, probably, from an imperfect knowledge of the geography of this country. Montana was formerly included in Idaho, but has been separated from Idaho for an year. The minerals found here in greatest abundance are gold, silver, iron, copper and lead, and they are generally found together, in different proportions.— There are two kinds of gold deposits—the gulch mines and the quartz lodes. The former are located along streams of water, and consist of what are called alluvions. The gold being generally found in small particles, with an occasional larger lump called a nugget. Some of the latter have been found, to the value of from five to one hundred dollars, and one was found at Last Chance gulch, this summer that was worth $2,200.00. But that is the largest and the most valuable of the latter kind whose value exceeded $500.00. Mining in the Territory has been going on quite briskly since the damages, caused by the high water in the spring, have been repaired. The claim- yield from ten to fifty dollars to the hand, per day. Some of the newly discovered gulches yield from fifty to two hundred dollars to the hand. But the time is approaching when gulch mining will give place to quartz mining. The chief source of the mineral wealth of this Territory is to be looked for in its quartz. Some idea of its value may be obtained by comparing the number of its valuable lodes with those of Colorado. In that Territory there are only three lodes that have paid well, yet what a vast amount of money has been taken from them, while here there are five hundred and upwards, equally as rich and many of them far richer, yielding from five to fifty and sixty per cent. of pure gold. The country is full of gold. One cannot go two miles in any direction without seeing evidence of the fact. The mountains are literally "dug up," ransacked, and prospected from base to summit, and the valuable specimens deposited in the banks and assay offices show the results of these labors. But all this mineral wealth is unavailable, at present, and will be, until capitalism can be induced to take hold of the matter and erect quartz mills. That is now being done. There are two mills in course of erection in the Hot Spring district, about twenty miles from Virginia. Two more are building in the Summit district, five miles South, and about five million dollars worth of mills are now on the way to the Territory.

But I must close this general, and in many respects very imperfect sketch of this country. I shall continue, however, from time to time, as I have opportunity, to give you any items of interest that may transpire in relation to the agricultural and mineral developments of the Territory. With kind remembrances for dear old Pennsylvania and best wishes for the happiness and prosperity of the good people of Columbia County, I subscribe myself,

Very Truly Yours, "MONTANA."
