A Commentary for the People.
NOW publishing, the ELECTIC COMMENTARY on the Bible, from the works of Henry and Scott, and above one hundred other writers. The work is printed on fine paper, and with large clear type. It will be completed in 24 parts, of 80 pages each, imperial 8vo, all of which are now stereotyped. It will be beautifully illustrated by accurate views of scriptural scenes, designed expressly to embellish a Commentary, and executed by the most eminent artists. Tables and charts are liberally interspersed throughout for purposes of illustration, and the whole comprised as valuable a series of illustrative engravings and embellishments, as has ever been united in a similar work. It may be used with any edition of the Bible, and will be published semi-monthly at 25 cents each part.

The design of the Committee of the London Tract Society, under whose supervision the English work was prepared, has been to copy that of the Bible, and to make a plain and practical exposition of religious truth and duty.

This work is based upon the commentaries of Henry and Scott, and more than one hundred others, and is the result of a long and careful study of the Holy Scriptures. References are made to the works of Sunday School teachers, and of families engaged in the systematic study of the scriptures.

Persons who never saw a specimen of the work when true religion more greatly needed a safe and sound guide, which are both bold and industriously aimed at her vital principles; perhaps true religion was never in a more perilous position than at the present time. The work is a most valuable and practical treatise on the subject of true religion, and is a most valuable and practical treatise on the subject of true religion, and is a most valuable and practical treatise on the subject of true religion.

The object of the compilers has been to provide a commentary compact in size, moderate in price, and suited to Christians of every station, rank and denomination.

"The family table" whose hands this work comes in their possession a store of Biblical science and practical instruction of more value than gold. The republication is a great improvement, and we trust it will receive an adequate support.—N. Y. Observer.

This commentary has enjoyed an extraordinary popularity as a practical exposition of God's word. It differs from any other, presenting the best evangelical illustrations and practical comments which the editors were able to select from the best scholars, on each passage in Scripture. The text being omitted, it is enabled to present a vast amount of learning in a small space. The sources from which it is compiled afford a perfect guarantee of its soundness, both of doctrine and interpretation, while the advantage of having the opinion of different commentators is apparent and very great.—N. Y. Evangelist.
