

AGRICULTURAL.

From Allen's Compend of American Agriculture. SANDY SOILS AND THEIR MANAGEMENT.

The character and treatment of sandy soils are in almost every particular the reverse of those of clay. They do not possess the property of adhesiveness, and they have but little affinity for water, which escapes from them almost as soon as it falls.

As clay soils are much benefited by a mixture of sand, so likewise are sandy soils greatly improved by the addition of clay, yet in a much greater degree; for though it would never pay, as a general rule, to add sand to clay, yet the addition of a few loads of the stiffest clay in a light sand would, in almost every instance, much more than compensate for the trouble and expense.

Sandy soils are improved by the frequent use of a heavy roller; it cannot be used too often. They require to be made more compact, and any treatment that secures this object, will be advantageous.

Time, by its chemical action on the constituents of soils, while it separates clay, renders sand more adhesive; and when cheaply obtained, it is always a profitable dressing for sandy soils, to the full amount they may require.

They are at all times easily plowed and worked; they require no draining; and though light and dry, are quick and kindly soils, giving an immediate and full return for the labor and manure bestowed upon them.

Gravelly soils are, in some respects, similar to sand, but much less desirable, being appropriately termed hungry.

They are also like the latter, peculiarly leachy, but in an increased degree, permitting the rapid escape of manures both by evaporation and drainage.

It is impossible to realize a remunerative crop from soils which exist in a state of super-saturation during a large portion of the year, or for a considerable length of time subsequent to every shower or fall of rain, which under crop.

It is hereby given, That application will be made by the undersigned and others, to the next Legislature of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, for the incorporation of a Company under the name and style of the 'HARTMAN'S SWAMP RECLAIMING COMPANY.'

DYSPEPSIA,

And all Diseases of the Stomach and Bowels.

DYSPEPSIA, or Indigestion and its consequences.—An eminent Professor says: "It chiefly arises in persons who lead either a very sedentary or irregular life. Although not regarded as a fatal disease, yet, if neglected, it may bring on incurable Melancholy, Jaundice, Madness, or Vertigo, Palsy, and Apoplexy. A great singularly attendant on it, that it may and often does continue a great length of time without any remission of the symptoms.

CAUSES.—Grief and uneasiness of mind, intense study, profuse evacuations, excess in venery, excessive use of spirituous liquors, tea, tobacco, opium and other narcotics, immoderate exertion, or over distention of the stomach, deficiency in the secretion of the bile or gastric juice, exposure to cold and damp air, are the chief causes of this disease.

SYMPTOMS.—Loss of appetite, nausea, heart-burn, acidity and feid eructations, gnawing of the stomach when empty, uneasiness in the throat, pain in the side, costiveness, chilliness, languor, lowness of spirits, palpitations, and disturbed sleep.

TREATMENT.—DR. ALLEN'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND has never failed in affording immediate relief and a radical cure for this disease.

THE AMERICAN REMEDY.

THOMSON'S COMPOUND SYRUP or TAR AND WOOD-NAPHTHA.

OF all the remedies recommended, in lat years, for the cure of CONSUMPTION, Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Liver Complaint, Spitting of Blood, &c., the Compound Syrup of Tar, and Wood-Naptha is the best, most certain, and most effectual.

None has been found more certain and permanent in its curative power than these, so general and often fatal diseases, than the above preparation. The Compound Syrup of Tar and Wood-Naptha is an unparalleled remedy. In addition to the healing power of Tar—the virtues of which, in affections of the Lungs, is universally acknowledged—there is combined with it in this preparation the active principles of some of the most certain Tonic Vegetable Pectorals, which unite to make it the most valuable medicine ever offered to the public for the cure of the diseases for which it is employed, so that it never fails, if taken in time, to produce a permanent cure.

Among the testimonials of the value of the above medicine, are several from distinguished physicians of Philadelphia. Read the following from Dr. Young, the eminent Surgeon of that City.

Having used in my practice, as well as in my own family, 'Thomson's Compound Syrup of Tar and Wood-Naptha,' I have no hesitation in saying that it is the best, most certain, and most effectual for persons suffering from Consumption, Coughs, Colds, and all affections of the Throat, Breast, &c. so prevalent at this season of the year.

WM. YOUNG, M. D. 192 Spruce street.

Read also the following from a man who will at any time corroborate its statements.

MOST WONDERFUL CURE. Philadelphia, Dec. 4, 1847. Penetrated with a severe cold, and rendered by the benefit experienced by the use of Thomson's Compound Syrup of Tar, and that other who, like me, have languished through years of affliction and suffering, without being able to find a remedy more than a temporary relief, I voluntarily make the following statement.

About four years since, after being afflicted with a violent cold, it led upon me a troublesome and severe cough. Whilst the cough continued, which was with a sore throat, and a difficulty of breathing, I was unable to perform my usual duties, and my long period, language fails to tell what I have suffered from debility, pains in the breast and side, night sweats, difficult expectoration, oppressed chest, and in fact all the symptoms which mark a severe affection of the Throat, &c. I occasionally obtained by the discharge of the matter which obstructed the healthy action of my system, but increased my fears, as the purulent matter discharged was frequently streaked with blood.

During this time I was under the treatment of several physicians, and took many of those preparations recommended as serviceable in the cases of this kind, but without any permanent relief. I concluded that a cure in my case was hopeless. I had however for about three weeks Thomson's Compound Syrup of Tar, by the use of one bottle my cough was cured, my system renovated, and by continuing the use of it up to this time, I am satisfied that my complaint is entirely removed and eradicated.

Stanton's External Remedy,

CALLER HUNT'S LINIMENT,

IS now universally acknowledged to be the most INFALLIBLE REMEDY for Rheumatism, neuralgic affections, contractions of the muscles, sore throat and quinsy, issues, old ulcers, pains in the back and chest, acute in the breast and face, tooth aches, sprains, bruises, salt rheum, burns, corns, frost-bite, and all nervous diseases. The compound is prepared by George Stanton, of Sing Sing, and is the most wonderful medicine in curing the most severe cases of the different diseases above named, and the high curatives that have been bestowed upon it. However it has been long used, gives me the right to call on the afflicted to resort to it, and to the only remedy that can be relied on.

The faculty unite in recommending the celebrated External Remedy, Hunt's Liniment. The following testimonials are highly eminent Physicians who have been attached to the Mount Pleasant State Prison for many years, is the best evidence of the value of this celebrated Liniment:

SIXO SING, December 26, 1845. My Dear Sir, I have used your note of yesterday, against my opinion of Hunt's Liniment, as prepared by Mr. George E. Stanton. Knowing its composition, and having frequently used it, I can recommend it to you as a safe External Remedy, and in my opinion, the best Liniment now in use. Very truly and respectfully yours, G. K. HOFFMAN.

Col. Pierre Van Cortlandt, A. G. HOFFMAN. I fully concur in the above opinion.

YORKTOWN, JANUARY 14, 1845. Sir—In reply to your letter I would say that I have used your External Remedy, called Hunt's Liniment, in my practice since you made me acquainted with its composition, and I can testify that I believe it to be the best External Remedy now in use for the complaints for which you recommend it. BENJ. D. MILLER, M. D. GEORGE E. STANTON, Prop.

From the New York Sun. Among the mass of worthless articles and humbugs that are poured forth at the present day upon the public, there is nothing so deserving of notice as a certain kind of real practical utility, something simple, speedy, and effectual in its operation, and at the same time free from those injurious effects which generally attend powerful remedies. Hunt's Liniment is a preparation of this kind, and has been so long used, that the public has already obtained the confidence, not only of our most wealthy and influential citizens, but of our most eminent physicians. All acknowledge it to be the best remedy for many of the ills that flesh is heir to, something the aching limb, and by its genuine stimulating influence, banishing disease from the system.

This Liniment is sold in 50 cent and 100 cent bottles by all the principal Druggists and Merchants. Orders addressed to me at Sing Sing, N. Y. will be attended to. G. E. STANTON, Proprietor. ROSS' EXPECTORANT,

A REMEDY For Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, Spitting of Blood, Sore Throat, Pains and Oppressions of the Breast, Difficulty of Breathing, and all other Diseases of the PULMONARY ORGANS!

Read the following Certificate of Cure performed by the use of Ross' Expectorant, which if you will longer neglect your cough, or doubt its efficacy, Baltimore, March 12, 1847.

Mr. Jas. F. Ross. Dear Sir—About three weeks ago my wife caught a severe cold, which troubled her a good deal and gave her great uneasiness; she prepared a great many articles which were recommended to her by her friends, but without receiving the benefit from any of them, she was obliged to sleep every day, her appetite was fast falling and to sleep was impossible; the pains in her breast and side became so severe that she had to go to bed, and I thought it best to call in a Physician. I thought of the kind in the store where you were engaged and see if I could not get something that would relieve her, when you gave me a bottle of your Expectorant, assuring me that would cure her, she commenced taking it that night, but, however, without great opposition on the part of some of her friends, who said it was only some 'Quack Medicine' and would do her more harm than good. I determined to take your advice, and now I all know the Result! From taking the first dose she felt easier, though unable to sleep on account of the quantity of phlegm that loosened and would almost choke her, but which she could spit up with little difficulty, the following day she continued it according to the directions, and that time for the first time for nearly two weeks she enjoyed a good night's rest and the time she had inhaled the first bottle, she was entirely cured. Make what use you think proper, for such an invaluable medicine should be made known to the afflicted every where. With best wishes for your success, I remain your sincere friend, &c.

I remain your sincere friend, &c. CHARLES L. PASSWAY.
