AGRICULTURAL. THE GOOD OLD PLOUGH. Let them sing who may of the hattle fray. And the deeds that have long since past --Let the middle in praise of the tar whose days: Are agented the ocean vast. I would condict to these all the worship you ple I would henor them even now. But I'd give far more from my heart's full store;

To the cause of the good old Plough. Let them land the notes that in music float Through their bright and glittering halls, While the amorous twirl of the hair's bright curl Round the shoulder of heauty falls-But deares to me is the song from the tree And the rich and blassoming bough-Q, these are the sweets which the sustic greets As he follows the good old Plough-Then, how jocund the song as it comes along From the ploughman's lusty throat! Did the hunter's shout ever yet give out

To the brown woods a merrier note ! The he followed no bound yethis day is crown With a triumph as good, I trow, As though untlered head at his fect lay dead, Instead of the good old Plough.

Full many there be that we daily see With selfish and hollow pride, Who the ploughman's lot in his humble cot With a segriful look deride ; Vet I'd rather take, ave, a hearty shake

From his hand than to wealth I'd bow-For the honest grasp of that hand's rough clasp Hath stood by the good old Plough.

All honor be then to these good old men, When at last they are bowed with toil; Their Warfare then o'er, why they battle no me For they've conquered the stubborn soil-And the chaplet cach wrars are his silver hairs And no'er shall the victor's brow With a laurel crown to the grave go down Like these sons of the good old Plough.
