DEAR SIE:—In reply to your question respect-ing the use of Dr. Drake's Panacea, I will say, tom, still I have believed that a cure for con-sumption would be discovered sooner or later, and curiosity led me to try your medicine in two very inveterate cases. They were pronounced by the attending physicians to be PULMONANT CONSUMP-TION, and abandoned by them as incurable. One rron, and abandoned by them as incurable. One of the persons had been under the treatment of several very able practitioners for a number of years, and they said she had "old jashioned Consumption combined with Scropial," and hipsy abe might linger for sometime, but could not be permanently relieved. In both cases the effect of the Panacoa has been most gratifying. Only lour or five bottles were used by one of the persons before she began to improve rapidly. The other took about ten. I will only add that familiar as I am with consumption by inheritance and by extensive observation as a study, and knowing also the conceset, and other vegetable tonics, as well as of many of the expectorants and sedatives, I should never have recommended the use of Dr. Drake's Panacea if I had not been acqu with the ingredients. Suffice it to say that these are recommended by our most popular and scien tific physicians, and in their present combined state form probably the best alterative that has

To use the language of another, "Dr. Drake's Panacea is always salutary in its effects—never injurious. It is not an Opiate—it is not an Expectorant. It is not intended to lull the invalid into a fatal security. It is a great remedy—a grandihealing and curafive: compound, the great and only remedy, which medical science and skill has yet produced for the treatment of this hither to unconquerable malady. And no person afflicted with this dreadful disease, will be just to him self and his friends if he go down to the grave ed with this dreadful disease; will be just to himself and his friends if he go down to the grave without testing its virtues. A single bottle. In most cases, will produce a favorable change in the condition of any patient, however low." TO THE LADIES,—Ladies of pale complex, ion and consumptive kabita, and such as are debilitated by those obstructions which females are liable to, are restored by the use of a bottle or two, to bloom and vigor. It is by far the best remedy ever-discovered for weakly children, and
