From Mr. Bullock's Address before the Worcester (Mass.) Agricultural Society. PROGRESS OF INDUSTRY AND THE

HARMONY OF LABOR.

This, then, is the grand moral lesson of the hour-the progress of industry and the harmony of labor. That progress is already proved and illustrated when this society remembers, on the one hand, what its fathers saw, and what they did, and on the other, casts its eve on the exhibitions, and gathers up the instructions, of this day. That harmony in interest and growth, in sentiment and purpose, is sub- NING, SCIENCE, ART, MANUFACstantiated by this present re-union of all TURES, LITERATURE, NEWS, &c., the sons of labor at this annual civic tri- intended for country people generally. umph. These exhibitions are teaching us that we are all producers and all consumers. These holidays are proving to us that the circle of all business and all pursuits is a charmed circle, and that a single jar anywhere spreads discord and disaster through the whole. There is no such thing here as an isolated interest, nor any Edgar A. Poe, John S. Bowen, Esq. &c. such man as an isolated laborer. In the formation and growth of communities, la- $3; and nine copies for $6. bor divides and subdivides itself-to the Goods and all other markets throughout end, not that this pursuit or that may be- the Union, are carefully reported, under come easier or more honorable than the other, but that each and all may be the more profitable and more productive .---Would any say that the divisions and subdivisions of human invention in the Machidery we have witnessed to-day, with all their nice and varied improvements from year to year, involve any encroachments on the rights of labor ! Neither with any more truth would you maintain that any fixed department of human pursuit, whether of the hand or the head, in the field or the shop, in the counting room or the office, could be stricken out without imparting disturbance to the whole. There is one harmonious idea running through the whole scheme and the whole fabric of society, the whole theory and the whole practice of the world-and that is, increased profit and increased production,-greater capacity for producing, sustaining, educating, and advancing the race. The small and despised stream which hows billough 10,000 gene clister by the heart of this city, is a wiser witness Chestnut POSTS-by GEORGE ARNOLD. and a more liberal philosopher than we .-What growth, and unbuilding, and expansign of industry has it not witnessed ! It very early beckoned to its banks a scattered, humble, dependant colonv of mechanics. It kept them up through prosperous and adverse fortune, till now a score of smoking shafts penetrate the sky, and from the reservoir on the north to its southern outlet, its banks are vocal with the axe and hammer, the whirling wire and the building machine, the farming plough and the noisy plane, the fierce glow of the furnace and the heavy working of Iron, the whiz of the ear-shop and the crack of the pistol-while ding Common, Parlor, Air-tight and Cook a host of children whom no man can number, look towards it in the morning and in
