

THE PATENT OFFICE. A VISIT TO THE PATENT OFFICE. (Continued from page 10.)

Before closing the Patent Office, the chief of the Patent Office, Mr. J. P. Smith, was seen by the writer. He was very kind and gave me a number of interesting facts regarding the work of the Patent Office. He said that the Patent Office is one of the most important departments of the Government, and that it is the duty of the Patent Office to protect the rights of inventors and to promote the progress of science and art.

He also said that the Patent Office is one of the most interesting departments of the Government, and that it is the duty of the Patent Office to protect the rights of inventors and to promote the progress of science and art.
