

J. A. GARDNER, PETERSBURG, (Y. S.)

HAVING purchased the stock of Goods of my Father, William Gardner, I have commenced business at the OLD STAND, recently occupied by W. & B. F. Gardner, where I will be happy to see my friends and the public generally. My stock comprises a general assortment of DRY GOODS, Groceries, Hardware, Queensware, Bar Iron, Bonnets, Shoes, Hats, &c., all of which I am determined to sell VERY LOW. I would particularly invite attention to my large and splendid assortment of CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATINETS, Vestings, Cords, SOULES, MOUSSELINE DE LAINES, Cashmere, Alpaca, Cadiz, Muslins, Laines, Plaid Linings, Shaws, Handkerchiefs, Gloves, Corsets, Ribbons, Fringes, Laces, Edges, &c., &c.

By strict attention to business, a desire to give satisfaction, and by selling goods cheap, I hope to merit a share of patronage. Produce taken in exchange for Goods. J. A. GARDNER, Petersburg, (Y. S.) Sept. 7.—3t

NOTICE

THE Co-partnership of W. & B. F. GARDNER, having expired by limitation, in this day dissolved by mutual consent. We would take this occasion to tender to our friends and customers our thanks for their liberal encouragement.—Those who know themselves indebted to said firm, will please call soon to make settlement. This accounts, notes, &c., will be found in the hands of Wm. Gardner, who is authorized to use the name of the firm in settling up the business. WILLIAM GARDNER, B. F. GARDNER, Petersburg, Sept. 2.—3t

FEVER AND AGUE.

This complaint has three stages. The first or quotidian comes on every 24 hours; the tertian every 48 hours; and the quartan every 72 hours. These are usually called the hot, the cold, and the sweating. The symptoms are yawning and stretching; cold hands and feet; a shivering chill, a small and frequent pulse; and finally a cold chaf. Who would shiver and shake with this tormenting disease, when the only effectual remedy may be had for a mere trifle? The anxiety and restlessness which attend the approach of the fever and ague, and the uncertainty of the writer cannot be questioned. This certifies that my son had been troubled with the Fever and Ague for the last four or five weeks. He first took it when we lived over in Jersey, and since we came here he has never known a well day. He is now in the hands of Dr. Clineker's wonderful Sugar Pills. If I had only known of them before, I would have walked a hundred miles rather than be without them. I thank you heartily, Dr. Clineker, for the good they have done my son, and you will oblige me by thanking your Agent, Mr. Kent, for stopping with them at our door.
