SINGULAR CONVICISION.—A writer in the National Intelligencer, after mentioning the fact that the Hon. John Quincy Adams died at the National Capitol says: "The fact is worthy of note, that the building in which Mr. Calhoun died, was built for the use of the Congress of the United States...

CATHERINE A TARTAR.—A singular circumstance has occurred at Chomeston, near Cambridge, (Eng.). A servant girl went to the river to fetch a pail of water, and came floating on the stream...

STRANGE & ROMANTIC ADVENTURES OF A SHIPWRECKED PRINTER.

By the steamer Cherokee, bringing the California mails, we received a letter dated Honolulu, Sandwich Islands, Jan. 1, 1850, written by an old friend and fellow printer, whose adventures have been so much out of the common order that we extract a part of his letter for the amusement of our readers.

After being in water about three quarters of an hour, lashed by the surface and braided by the spar, I gained the shore. I kissed the earth when I first stopped, and determined never to leave it...

TRICK OF A NEW-YORK BEGGAR. A knowing boy who was taken to our House of Refuge last week among other "confessions," related the following ingenious trick practiced when he was only 12 years old.

My change, oh! what did you give me? "A half dollar, sir." He looked at it for some moments, and then said, "Are you right sure?"

SAD MISTAKE.—A little girl aged 8 years, on a visit to Mrs. E. W. Miller, at Philadelphia, was killed on Monday by giving her three spoonfuls of laudanum in mistake for anti-bilious medicine.

THE OBSCURE HAPPINGS AT ROOMS—YET.

The Buffalo Courier, in an article upon the Rochester knockings, publishes the following funny anecdote and vouches for its truth. It is really surprising that sensible people can still be found who will persist in crediting this senseless imposition.

A SCENE IN COURT.—"I call upon you," said the counselor, "to state distinctly upon what authority you are prepared to swear to the mar's age?"

THE DUTCHMAN.—A Dutchman, looking for a person by the name of Dunn, who owned him a "small account," asked a wag near Swaney's eating-house, where No 99 Chatham street was, as he wished to find Mr. Dunn.

A BRITISH GIRL.—"What are you doing there, Jane?" "Wily, pa, I'm going to dye my doll's pinafore red."

SINGULAR AND SUDDEN DEATH.—On Saturday an interesting daughter (13 years of age) of Mr. R. Lukenens, of the Northern Liberties, died after an illness of a few days...

MONSTER BEAR.—A recent letter from the "gold diggers" of California says: "The principal animals in our vicinity are the coyote, or prairie wolf, the black and grizzly bears, deers, antelopes, rabbits, &c."

HEALTH INSURANCE.—Meeting an acquaintance the other day, we asked after his health. He responded: "You see with half-an-eye that I am as hearty as a horse."

CORN.—As the season of the year is now approaching for planting corn, we publish the following hints which we find in an agricultural paper.

A FRENCHMAN'S ENGLISH.—"Mine from, have you seen your little poodle dog, with his tail and his ears cut short behind, what I did lose next week, as I was walking up the river in the steamboat?"

FATHER MATHIEW.—Up to April the 4th, Father Mathiew had administered the temperance pledge to upwards of 6,000 persons in New Orleans.

THE NORTH-WEST TERRITORY, lying west of Minnesota, and Iowa, extending to the rocky mountains, is estimated to contain 600,000 square miles.

A GOOD TOAST.—"New England's fair daughters—Industry and virtue being their inheritance, they blush on being kissed by the rising sun in the morning, and are not ashamed of being kissed by the setting sun in the evening."

A BROTHER GIRL.—"What are you doing there, Jane?" "Wily, pa, I'm going to dye my doll's pinafore red."

A FRENCHMAN'S ENGLISH.—"Mine from, have you seen your little poodle dog, with his tail and his ears cut short behind, what I did lose next week, as I was walking up the river in the steamboat?"

HONG TARRANT.—The late Rev. Dr. of a certain town in Maine, an ecclesiastic but honest minister, was once preaching on the practical virtues, and having a short time previously bought a load of wood of one of the officers of the church, and found it to fall short in measure...

WELL ANSWERED.—A Quaker who was examined before a Court, not using any other language than "thee," "thou" and "friend," was asked by a judge— "Pray, sir, do you know what we are here for?"

SAM LATHROP, the circus clown, in his stumpy speech the other evening, made a hit, which fairly and significantly brought down the house.

A KITT QUAKED.—A servant girl if she came from the Hungarian part of Ireland. On being told that her geographical knowledge was somewhat defective, she excused herself by saying—"I learnt to get much learning, I never went to school but one day and that was in the evening and we hadn't no candle, and the master didn't come."

A RESEMBLANCE.—"Col. W. is a very fine looking man, isn't he?" said a friend of our the other day.

A LATE PAPER SAYS.—"One of our friends a few days ago received a letter from Sir Robert Peel, containing the passage:—'I have no hesitation in giving my opinion on the present state of things in France. France is a diligence full of honest people stopped on the road by brigands, and which is waiting for the general massacre.'"

A FRENCHMAN'S ENGLISH.—"Mine from, have you seen your little poodle dog, with his tail and his ears cut short behind, what I did lose next week, as I was walking up the river in the steamboat?"

THE DOCTOR LEFT ABOUT THAT TIME.

FATHER MATHIEW.—Up to April the 4th, Father Mathiew had administered the temperance pledge to upwards of 6,000 persons in New Orleans.

THE NORTH-WEST TERRITORY, lying west of Minnesota, and Iowa, extending to the rocky mountains, is estimated to contain 600,000 square miles.

A GOOD TOAST.—"New England's fair daughters—Industry and virtue being their inheritance, they blush on being kissed by the rising sun in the morning, and are not ashamed of being kissed by the setting sun in the evening."

THE FIRST MAN WHO PEGGED A SHOE IN THIS or any other country, is said to be now living at Hopkinton, Mass. His name is Joseph Walker. The value of boots and shoes now made in Massachusetts alone is $18,000,000.

AN IRISHMAN TOOK THE CARE at Boston for Worcester. On jumping from the cars, upon their arrival, he remarked that if he had known he could have made the journey in so short a time, he would have walked a foot.

WHAT WE COMMONLY CALL a falling star is believed by the Arabs to be a dart launched by the Almighty at an evil genius; and on beholding one, they exclaim, "May God transfuse the enemy of faith."

IF A GIRL HAS a pretty teeth she laughs often, if she has a pretty foot, she will wear a short dress, and if she has got a neat hair she is fond of a game of whist, and if the reverse she dislikes all the small affairs.

A DULL.—A jury of twelve wise men returned a verdict of not guilty, in a case respecting a female prisoner, but accompanied with a hope that she would never again be guilty of a like offence.
