and Pittsburgh, and it is said, the Middle Division will receive further attention first.

One year ago it was announced that automatic signals would be placed between New York and Philadelphia making this division complete. The Philadelphia division came next and is well equipped in this line and on the Middle Division sixty-four miles of the road is protected by automatic signals. The work has slackened up recently because of the weather but will be resumed as soon as conditions are more favorable.

Between Philadelphia and Washington there are six miles of automatic signals. The Northern Central lines are scheduled to receive attention early this year and plans are now underway for additional signals between Harrisburg and Renova.
