Railroaders Ready For the Big Series; First Game Saturday

In the game to-morrow night at the Armory, between Harrisburg and the P. R. R. Y. M. C. A., the railroaders will be represented on the floor with a team made up of stars from scholastic circles. The series, which will include five games, promises rare sport for basketball enthusiasts.

Due to the fact that he has been identified as a coach and director in the Railroad League, Geisel will not play with the Harrisburg team. Atticks will be switched to jump the center and Pat Reagan, the Villanova star, will come to Harrisburg for these games to play guard. He is the star college guard in this section of Pennsylvania.

On the P. R. R. Y. M. C. A. team will be Rote, the High School all-around athlete, who is the fastest basketball man in Harrisburg to-day. Garner, another scholastic star, will also be in the line-up, and Ford, Harling and Arthur will make up the five that promises to give the Harrisburg tossers the hardest fight of the season. The line-up and summary will be:

Harrisburg	P. R. R. Y. M. C. A.
McCord, f.	Ford, f.
Bumbaugh, f.	Rote, f.
Atticks, c.	Garner, c.
Reagan, g.	Harling, g.

Society to Observe 145th Anniversary of Massacre

Sellsgrove, Pa., Jan. 9.—Next meeting of the Snyder County Historical Society will be held in Middleburg on the twenty-third of this month when papers will be read by Dr. Frank P. Manhart, of this place, and E. Edwin Charles, of Middleburg. The occasion will be the one hundred and forty-fifth anniversary of the Stump's Run Massacre, and that tragedy will be the subject of Mr. Charles's paper. Mr. Manhart's theme will be "Methods of Historical Research."

Must Wait One Whole Year, For Decision on Contracts

Argument in Supreme Court Will Come Up Next Winter Regarding Injunctions

Washington, D. C., Jan. 9.—Baseball players and managers must wait a year or more before getting light from the Supreme Court on the much-disputed question in major league circles as to the enforceability by injunction of players' contracts. The point has been raised that contracts with players are not enforceable by injunction because they contain a clause giving the managers the right to terminate the contract without giving a similar right to the players.

A case involving similar questions has been brought to the court by an oil company, but the tribunal has just refused a request for an early hearing of the controversy. This means that the case will not come up for argument until next winter, too late to affect baseball contracts for the coming season.

TRI-STATE INVADDED BY FEDERAL SCOUTS

Tempting Offer Made to Manager Cockill and Tom Gray by Baltimore

Federal League mogus have invaded the Tri-State and are putting forth active efforts to land Manager George Cockill for the Baltimore club, the inducement being a salary equal to four times that paid in the Tri-State. Offers have also been made to Thomas Gray, of Williamsport, to take up the business management of the Baltimore club. Tom Gray has turned down the offer.

Manager Cockill has not given his final answer, as he is anxious to ascertain the probability of the Federal invasion holding out. If the Baltimore backers will sign up a three-year guarantee George Cockill may get busy. A dispatch from Williamsport says:

"A. J. Ackley, the agent for Baltimore, called on Mr. Gray, in company with George Cockill, of Lewisburg, proposing at the same time that Cockill take the position of manager of the Baltimore team. Cockill has been for two years manager of the Harrisburg Tri-State club and in 1912 led that club to a triumphant victory, winning the distinction of finishing in second place in the 1912 race."

"Mr. Ackley's very earnest desire to win both Cockill's and Gray's consent to his offer for the Baltimore team is based, without any question of doubt, on the well-known baseball associations and intimate connections of these two men with available baseball material which would make for the formation of a very strong Baltimore team, could these 'available' be induced to follow the lead of Messrs. Cockill and Gray."

"While Cockill is reported as considering the offer, Gray is quoted as having emphatically stated that he did not favor an affiliation with any club with an unprotected league."

Railroad League Has Close Contests; Athletics in Lead

With seven games played in the P. R. R. Y. M. C. A. Basketball League series, the Athletics still lead with a clean record, not having lost a game. The Phillies and Giants are tie for second honors and three teams are tied up for third place.

The Cubs took a game from the tallenders, the Senators, last night, score 31 to 7, the Giants defeating the Pirates, score 32 to 10.

BASKETBALL STARS WILL SHINE TONIGHT

Central High Will Line Up Against Tamaqua's Scholastic Champions

Another interesting scholastic basketball game is promised to-night at Chestnut Street Hall, when Central High will meet the Tamaqua High five. Central has not met with defeat this season, but is a little dubious about this game.

To date Central was won three victories and score 156 points to 84 made by their opponents. The Tamaqua tossers started the season in November and have lost but two games. Before the big game starts, and between the halves, the Central Scrubs will play the Methodist Boys. Following the contests the usual dance program will be offered. The first game will
