

Women ADD THEIR Interests

The Unpardonable Lack

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Anxious writes me: "I am deeply in love with a young man two years my senior but do not care for his disposition; namely, when in company he is bashful about assisting me in putting on my wraps. Otherwise he is passable. In other words, he is steady, industrious, capable, agreeable and altogether desirable. Otherwise he is passable" may mean nothing less.

Broadway Jones

From the Play of George M. Cohan

He rose and paced the room, then raised and gazed at the wall calendar. "The thirteenth of the month! No wonder." He threw the offending Harrison Fisher girl into the grate, as Rankin, returning, announced a persistent visitor who had declared that he would wait when he had been assured that Mr. Jones was out. Jackson examined the man's card.

said Pembroke, still sympathetically. "How much did it total, do you know?" asked Broadway practically. "That I can't say. We offered him twelve hundred thousand for his business and good-will less than two months ago. The proposition still holds good, Mr. Jones. We stand ready to close the deal in forty-eight hours. I—er—realize that in your time of trouble and grief it is hardly right to discuss business, but it is vitally important that we bring the matter to a closing point by Saturday noon, as we are considering, at the same time, the purchasing of the Sprucecroft company. Our preference leans toward the Jones gum, but—" dropping jaw. "Wait a minute. Wait a minute. Who is 'we'? Who stands ready with this offer?" "The company of which I have the honor to be second vice-president, Mr. Jones—the Consolidated Cheewing Gum Company of America."

Jackson approached him with an air so serious that it was almost tearful. This change in the aspect of affairs had been so sudden that he was somewhat overcome. "Hold on. Let me get this clear. Your people want to buy the Jones Gum?" "We do."

"For twelve hundred and fifty thousand dollars?" "The top price." "After an instant's pause in which he licked his lips with nervous tongue, and stood poised as if to spring upon his visitor: "Where's the money? Have you got it with you?"

"I can get my lawyers together within an hour, if you are ready to close the deal." Jackson was in a fever of excitement. "Well, come on then. Let's get them! What are you waiting for? Let's get this all over with as quickly as we can."

"Do you mean business?" "Certainly I mean business," Jackson gazed at him with definite reproach. "Don't I look like a business man?" He displayed the sack coat Rankin had laid out for him that morning. "Look at this business suit!" He felt in his pocket, found what he sought and was extremely satisfied. "And I've got a lead pencil and everything. Certainly I mean business."

"You'll sign the articles today?" "For twelve hundred and fifty thousand dollars I'd sign a murderer's confession!" Pembroke, who never smiled, looked at his watch. "It's twelve o'clock." "Is it?" "We'll meet here at two."

"I'll be right here, waiting." "Will you shake hands with me?" "Sure! I'll kiss you if you want me to." Even this would not divert Pembroke to frivolity. "Mr. Jones, you're doing business with a great company."

THIS CLASSY BLOUSE ON KIMONO MODEL The Sleeves May Be Either Short or Long as One Prefers 8093 Surplice Blouse for Misses and Small Women, 16 and 18 years. WITH LONG OR THREE-QUARTER SLEEVES. The blouse that clothes in surplice style is essentially a smart one. This very new model shows the kimono sleeves that take soft, deep folds under the arms. It is as pretty and graceful as the world has desired yet it is the simplest in the world to make. The two pieces are seamed at the back and there remain only the under-arm seams. The little chemisette is daintily full and the big collar very becoming and youthful. Fashion allows sleeves of various lengths and one can follow her individual preference and caprice without restraint. Both the styles shown here are pretty and equally fashionable. Blouses of the kind are worn with odd skirts and also are greatly liked for entire gowns. They are very charming, take beautiful folds and are altogether desirable. For the collar and chemisette can be used chiffon, net or heavier material as liked but there is a great tendency just now toward effects of extreme daintiness and net is much used. For the medium size, the blouse will require 2 1/2 yds. of material 27 or 36 in. wide, 1 1/2 yds. 44, with 1/2 yd. 27 for the collar, chemisette and cuffs. The pattern 8093 is cut in sizes for misses of 16 and 18 years. It will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper, on receipt of ten cents. Bowman's sell May Manton Patterns. PUBLICITY OF RELIGIOUS WORK. According to William T. Ellis, the Christian churches are awaiting to the importance of publicity—proper publicity. He suggests there must be co-operation with the press, adding: "The aim of Christian publicity is to co-operate with the press in securing adequate, intelligent, and sympathetic presentation of the real news, local and general, of the church. There should be no effort to circulate anything for which there is not real warrant as honest news. The activities of the church are great enough, and diversified enough, and inherently interesting enough to stand on their own feet as news. Christian publicity is not a scheme for 'working' the press. It is a sincere and open endeavor to co-operate with periodicals of all kinds. New forms of service, new workers, new organizations, new buildings, new members, new gifts, and the unclassifiable and unpredictable,—this is church news. Whatever in a church touches the life of a considerable number of persons is news. Thus all civic, state, denominational or interdenominational Routine announcements—as that organizations are a prolific source of news. The regular services are to be held and the regular minister is to preach—are not news. They are advertisements, and preferably to be inserted as such. The filing of newspaper columns with these 'notices,' as typical of church news, has given the world an inadequate and misleading impression of the church's mission and activities. 'Human interest' items—concerning veterans in service, unusual forms of endeavor, and work in jails, almshouses, hospitals, etc.—are a good sort of news. Good publicity also insures editorial comment upon religious news and tendencies. It helps to give Christianity its place in the eyes of the world. Have a definite understanding with the local editors as to what they desire. They will be found ready for any fair co-operation. Furnish typewritten copy. Give the editor advance information of news. Help him get pictures when possible. Keep news brief. If the church folk sincerely want religious news, let them express that desire in courteous, friendly fashion. And when you know any real news, upon any subject whatsoever, write to the editor about that too. He will learn that church people are friends worth having.

IF BACKACHEY OR KIDNEYS BOTHER Eat less meat also take glass of Salts before eating breakfast Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog, you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad. Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so that no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.—Advertisement.
