MARKETS RECOVERED THEIR EARLY LOSSES
Canadian Pacific Only Prominent Issue to Oppose Downward Trend
 By Associated Press
 New York, Jan. 17.—The market closed easy. Profit taking continued day-long, and there was renewed bear selling, but recoveries were small and trading was dull. Some stocks recovered their early losses, only to give way again later. The aggressive market of low-priced shares, which continued yesterday after the advance in the leaders was checked, was not at all overdone. Canadian Pacific, which rose two points was the only prominent issue to oppose downward trend. Announcement that the Minneapolis and St. Louis had arranged an extension of notes due next month caused the four per cent. bonds to rise three points. Bonds were firm.

Canadian Pacific Only Prominent Issue to Oppose Downward Trend
 By Associated Press
 New York, Jan. 17.—The market closed easy. Profit taking continued day-long, and there was renewed bear selling, but recoveries were small and trading was dull. Some stocks recovered their early losses, only to give way again later. The aggressive market of low-priced shares, which continued yesterday after the advance in the leaders was checked, was not at all overdone. Canadian Pacific, which rose two points was the only prominent issue to oppose downward trend. Announcement that the Minneapolis and St. Louis had arranged an extension of notes due next month caused the four per cent. bonds to rise three points. Bonds were firm.
