Orpheum Dancer Defends Tango; BUYING SPECULATIVE Not Vulgar if Done Right

the Dance, But They're to Blame

In the midst of an avalanche of pros and cons, for and against the tango, comes a first handed stroke of defense from a professional dancer who in his career has probably tangoed more miles than some of us have walked. It is James Cartmell, who with Miss Jessie Harris, his pretty partner, is elevating the drama and also his feet at the Orpheum this week.

partner, is elevating the drama and also his feet at the 'Orpheum this week.

"I see your town seems to be in the middle of the tango war," said Mr. Cartmell, tangoing around the city editor's desk after doing a one-step from the Orpheum.

"Popular sentiment is divided on the question of the propriety of this dance, just as it is in Harrisburg' said Mr. Cartmell. "I just finished reading your local Bishop's endorsement of the new dances, and in it he shows good sense. There is nothing harmful about them so long as they are properly danced, but like everything else these dances can be exaggerated into vulgarities if the dancer choose to do them that way.

Country Dance Mad

"New York city, like Harrisburg, is dance mad just now. Every restaurant, hotel and even some of the theaters have dance floors, and the tango is rampant everywhere. Only last week I visited many of these places in

Canada's "Grand Old Man" Dead, Aged 93 PASS QUESTION TO

London, Jan. 21.-Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal died at 1.55 this morning in his sleep. He had been gradually growing weaker since Sat arday and applications of oxygen were necessary. His condition yesterday morning was such that his doctors abandoned hope of his recovery.

Lord Strathcona's life spanned Lord Strathcona's life spanned nearly a century and his active career a full three-quarters. "The best way to live to an old age," he explained, when found at work at his desk in London on his ninety-third birthday on August 6 lest, "is by not thinking about age at all, but just doing your work."

From his eighteenth year, when as Donald Smith, a sturdy Scot, he sailed for Canada, to his ninety-fourth year, which would have been completed next August, he lived up to his maxim of work. For the last six years he had been periodically reported as "about to resign" the post of high commissioner to Canada, but it was death and not his resignation which terminated his work.

Selinsgrove Surgeon Killed in Auto Accident

Sunbury, Pa., Jan. 21.—Dr. William H. Ulsh, of Selinsgrove, Pa., a retired ssistant surgeon of the United States navy, was killed five miles south of Selinsgrove to-day in an automobile ccident. The machine turned over accident. The machine turned over and was caught beneath it.

Dr. Ulsh was forty-five years old, and leaves a widow. He was a graduate of Annapolis and handled smallpox epidemics in the Philippines shortly after the Spanish-American war. He retired from the navy in 1902 because of incapacity resulting from his service. Since his retirement Dr. Ulsh was a Pennsylvania Railroad surgeon and State health in spector and had charge of the smallpox outbreak in Selinsgrove last year.

Public Service Commission Busy With Hearings' and Routine Matters Today

not reach the pass question to-day and may not get to it until to-morrow, matter would be reached or what would be done.

No end of speculation is rife over the State and many people seem to be of the opinion that while the right of wives of railroad men to enjoy passes may be granted, there are slim chances for anything else. Commissioners say such reports are conjecture. The notes of the hearing yesterday are being transcribed for the commission. Speaker Alter's argument is believed on the "Hull".

New York, Jan. 21. — Improving tendencies were evident to-day, with the short interest an active factor in the advance. Buying was largely speculative, although there was an enlarged volume of commission house business. The movement was wider, talting in a large variety of low-priced shares as well as the standard issues.

Especial stocks extended to steel and raffrond equipment groups. Prices were bid uprapidly here and there, where an overerowded short interest was compelled to retreat. Many new high prices for the movement were reached.
