MEN WHO SERVED IN COMPANY D DURING THREE MONTHS' STRIKE IN ANTHRACITE COAL REGION OF PENNSYLVANIA

Field Service of National Guard Organizations in Anthracite Coal District 1902

Tour of Duty of Company D and Company I, Eighth Regiment, During Strike of Mine Workers, Extending Over Seven Counties and Continuing Three Months

Early in the year 1902, differences occurred between the operators and the mine workers in the anthracite coal regions of Pennsylvania, which resulted in a cessation of work on the part of the mine workers. Almost every colliery closed, and both parties to the controversy settled down to a prolonged contest. In the beginning no lawlessness or disorder was indulged in, but in July meetings were held more frequently, assemblies of men indulged in lawlessness, terrorized communities, and in some instances threatened the lives of individuals.

On July 10, 1902, the Governor of Pennsylvania received from the sheriff of Carbon county a telegram asking for assistance.

An investigation of the turbulent district was made by officers detailed for that purpose, and they reported on July 11, 1902, that the condition of affairs had improved, and that the local authorities could control the situation.

Between July 10 and July 30 there were numerous infractions of law and order, but none of such magnitude or violence as to be beyond the control of the local authorities.

At 7.10 p. m., July 20, the following telegram was received by the Governor from the sheriff of Schuylkill county:

William A. Stone, Governor: Bloodshed and riots in this county, property destroyed, citizens killed and injured. Situation beyond my control. Troops should be sent to Shenandoah immediately. (Signed)

S. ROWLAND BEDDALL, Sheriff.

This being followed by reports of National Guard officers investigating conditions in the affected region, steps were taken to restore order.

At midnight on July 20, the following troops were ordered on duty by the major general commanding, and Brigadier General Gobin, commanding Third Brigade, to take charge:

Eighth Regiment Infantry, Colonel Theodore F. Hoffman, commanding.

Twelfth Regiment Infantry, Colonel Charles M. Clement, commanding.

Company F, Fourth Regiment Infantry, Captain George R. Kalbach.

Company G, Fourth Regiment Infantry, Captain James W. Umbenhauer.

Governor's Troop, Captain Frederick M. Ott.

Companies D and I were among the first ordered out. Lieutenant-Colonel Hutchison was at the Adjutant General's office when the order was given for troops to be dispatched to the Weather Conditions in 1902

The two companies experienced all sorts of weather in their three months of service. When first called out the weather was hot and frequent thunderstorms occurred. During August the days were warm and the nights cold. Frosts occurred in September and there were many heavy and long-continued rains during that month. Early in October there were frequent heavy frosts that covered the ground in snow. On Wednesday, October 29, snow fell until the ground was covered and then it grew colder rapidly. Next morning the ground was frozen hard.

Moving Picture Films Under State's Control

J. Louis Breittinger, former member of the Legislature from Philadelphia, appointed chief moving picture censor for Pennsylvania, with Mrs. E. C. Nover, of Charleston, his assistant, will at once take steps for inspecting and passing upon films and views at the Capitol, where all pictures to be shown must be approved by the censors before being shown. A special room for display of pictures will be arranged on the top floor.

Commission Ends With Nice Balance

Pennsylvania's commission in charge of the arrangements for the semi-centennial of the battle of Gettysburg closed its business at a meeting in Governor Tener's office late yesterday, with a balance of $3,168 on hand and the $35,000 emergency appropriation made in the last hour of the Legislature of 1913 untouched. It was not necessary to draw upon the latter item, which was provided when it was found that the number of veterans at the reunion was going to exceed expectations and the State did its share toward transporting and entertaining about 58,000 persons without using all of the funds appropriated in the special act.

William Sharon, Well-known Resident, Dies at Newport

Newport, Pa., Jan. 21.—Another of our aged residents has passed out of this life in the person of William Wilson Sharon, at the ripe age of 82 years. Mr. Sharon was stricken with pneumonia, took to his bed on Saturday last, and succumbed to the dread disease early yesterday morning. He is survived by his wife, two sons, Samuel A. Sharon and William Wilson Sharon Jr. of town, and a stepson, C. T. Jacobs, of Jersey City. Mr. Sharon was a veteran of the Civil war, having made three enlistments, from the last of which he was discharged, before his term of enlistment had expired because of disability. He was a life-long member of the Presbyterian Church, the pastor of which, the Rev. Robert M. Ramsey, will officiate at his funeral, which will be held from his late residence in Second street at 2 o'clock on Thursday afternoon.

York Haven Dam Plan Will Be Investigated

Engineers have been directed to make an investigation as a result of a public hearing held by the Water Supply Commission upon the application of the York Haven Water and Power Company for the approval by the commission of the construction of a dam in the Susquehanna river between the head of Three-Mile Island and the Dauphin county shore. Messrs. Fox and Geyer represented protests against the approval of this application and submitted protests signed by 180 residents in and about Middletown and Royalton, and residents of the Dauphin county shore below the head of Three-Mile Island. The commission and the attorneys for the protesters and of the attorneys for the applicants, following which the application was held under advisement.

HE WAS HAWKING AND SPITTING HIS LIFE AWAY

Strange Case and Remarkable Cure of John T. Strumpf

Nothing is so disagreeable and annoying and dangerous as a constant hawking and spitting caused by catarrh. No person was in a condition to certify this fact more forcibly than Mr. John T. Strumpf, of Mechanicsburg. He is now 57 years old and for the past six years he suffered from a bad case of catarrh. When he awoke in the morning he would spit up chunks of offensive matter. His ears would roar and buzz and he had a constant headache above his eyes. His stomach was also afflicted and his breath was very offensive. He had used atomizers, vaporizers, douches, powders, salves and ointments, but from all he received no benefit. He finally resolved to try Quaker Extract and Oil of Balm. What was the result? After using three bottles of each he is cured, and if you do not believe it, ask him.

The wonderful Quaker Remedies are on sale at W. H. Kennedy's, 30 South Third street.—Advertisement.

TRAMP FELL FROM BRIDGE

After falling thirty feet from the Philadelphia and Reading Railway bridge into Paxton creek yesterday afternoon, a tramp whose name was not obtained, dragged himself out of the mud and water, and with dripping clothes walked to the Harrisburg Hospital. Here a dislocated shoulder was treated and before his name was asked for he sneaked out. Nothing has been heard of him since.

WHY EXPERIMENT

HERPICIDE, the First Preparation for Combating Dandruff Contagion, Has Proven Its Worth

Like most new creations and truths, Newbro's Herpicide, the first preparation in America to be compounded in harmony with the theory that dandruff is a contagious disease, was the subject of much ridicule. The theory of dandruff contagion was subjected to severe criticism, not to say antagonism, by many.

But what is the situation to-day? Truth has prevailed. The facts concerning the origin of dandruff are known. That it is a contagious disease is admitted.

The extraordinary success of Newbro's Herpicide, both in America and abroad, has caused practically all other scalp preparations to abandon their old claims and imitate those made for Herpicide. As there has seldom been any change made in the preparations, the sincerity of these claims may be doubted. But why give these other preparations a thought? Why experiment? The point is this: "Success" is the thing that is always imitated. Herpicide is and has been imitated widely. Why be persuaded to buy an imitation when it is more sensible and in the end more satisfactory to buy the original? Remember, Newbro's Herpicide was positively the first and original preparation for combating dandruff as a contagious disease.

You can get a trial size bottle of this well known scalp prophylactic, also a booklet on the Care of the Hair by sending ten cents in postage or silver to The Herpicide Co., Dept. "S," Detroit, Mich.

Herpicide applications obtained at all the better barber shops and hair dressing parlors. Sold and Guaranteed everywhere. Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00. Kennedy's Medicine Store, Special Agents.—Advertisement.
