EIGHTH SECTION STATE FIELD SERVICE IN COAL REGION IN 1900 AND 1902

Camp in Pleasant Location

The camp was pitched in a field east of the town and it was quite a change for the men to get into a farming country, after spending nearly two months at Shenandoah, where there is no cultivated land, but a great deal of underbrush, rocks and coal dirt. Thousands of visitors came to the camp, and at the first Sunday evening parade it is estimated that a crowd of more than 3,000 witnessed the ceremony. The camp was located in the center of the Lackawanna-Luzerne coal field, and within a few miles were the towns of Duryea, Lackawanna, Avoca, Moosic and Taylor and many large colliery operations, employing many men.

Details were sent to the neighboring towns on frequent occasions and a number of times the company was in West Pittston on provost duty. While there the men were quartered in the armory of Company M of the Ninth Regiment, located in the business section of the town. Patrols were sent out and outposts located at various points in the neighborhood. One night the company was called out at 8 o'clock, placed on a train and sent to Austin Heights, where it was reported that the miners intended to blow up a powder house and other buildings at the colliery. Guards were placed on the locomotive on the run to this place as the train crew would not take the risk without protection. When the company arrived at the colliery there was no sign of disturbance, and after remaining there all night the men were marched back to camp at Duryea.

During the month of October the weather was very cold and the men had some difficulty in keeping warm. Nearly every tent had an oil stove and some were boarded up along the sides, so that the occupants were fairly comfortable under adverse conditions. There were several light snows, one of them being about two inches deep, but the men got through without any trouble and in perfect health. In fact, there was comparatively no sickness in the command during the entire three months' service.

On October 30 the regiment was ordered to break camp and return home. The men of the company then completed a long tour of pleasant and enjoyable duty, and one filled with many incidents and experiences which will never be forgotten by them.

The names of the officers and men who were on this tour of service are printed herewith and their pictures are contained in the small cut copying the large group of photographs in the company armory.

Work and Location of Co. I in Strike Service of 1902

Company I was called out at the same time as was Company D about 2 o'clock on the morning of July 31, 1902, and left Harrisburg at the same time, reaching Shenandoah and going into camp simultaneously. Their work for the time Company D remained in the Schuylkill county town was practically the same, consisting of patrolling, outpost and provost duty and guard detail work on various occasions and at many places in the small towns and "patches" near Shenandoah. When Company D, with two battalions of the regiment went into Luzerne county on September 20, Company I remained at Shenandoah with the third battalion of the regiment until the entire division of the National Guard was ordered into service on October 8, and a general move and relocation of troops was made. Then, after a total service of 70 days at Shenandoah, the third battalion joined the regiment at Duryea and was encamped there eleven days, when it was moved to Parsons, Luzerne county, where it remained until the end of the tour of duty—eleven days later.

With the exception of the time spent at Shenandoah after Company D left for Duryea and the eleven days spent at Parsons, the work of Company I was almost the same as chronicled for the other command and its experience was practically the same, except that after the division of the regiment at Shenandoah, the third battalion was left a much smaller body of men to do the work and it resulted in more frequent details for patrol and guard service.

The company returned to Harrisburg when the order relieving the regiment was issued on October 30, leaving camp soon after noon and reaching home, after a tiresome train ride, about 9 o'clock that night.

Alderman Has Prayer Instead of Argument

An alderman who isn't particular about sending cases to court and repeating his facts in his office with prosecutor and defendants, and thus settles most of his cases out of court, will speak at next Sunday's "Pleasant Sunday Afternoon" at the Allis-Hill Hill Christian Association. He is J. C. Newcomer, alderman of that part of Williamsport known as Newberry, who is coming here with the party of half a dozen men who will tell Harrisburg what an evangelistic campaign by Dr. Henry W. Stough almost two years ago accomplished for Williamsport in the way of permanent good.

Sunday's meeting will be held in Lenney's Theater, 5 South Thirteenth street, at 3:45 o'clock, with the usual preliminary song service. Alderman Newcomer is merely one of the party, which will be headed by Dr. John A. Campbell. Others are William J. Dale, president of the Dayton Shoe Company; the Rev. V. T. P. Wilson, head of the Williamsport City Mission; James Wilson, a railroad man and Sunday school worker, and Alva Metzger, a man of the type of James Wilson. The men are coming here at their own expense merely to tell what's what in Williamsport.

MARRIED OHIO GIRL

Sunbury, Pa., Jan. 23.—Lester Henninger, an air inspector of the Pennsylvania Railroad here, went to Dayton, Ohio, where on Wednesday he claimed as his bride Miss Martha Wilke, a prominent young lady. A reception in the Colonial Hotel followed.

A Tonic For the Nerves

Nervous people who have not yet developed a disease that can be recognized and treated by the medical profession, have the greatest trouble in finding relief. Irritation, headache, sleeplessness, nervous dyspepsia, all these discomforts make life miserable but are endured rather than run a doctor's bill without definite hope of recovery.

Every such sufferer should know the danger of such a condition of the nervous system. Nervous debility and even paralysis may easily result if the tone of the nerves is not restored. The one big fact that brings hope and relief is that the nerves can be restored by building up the blood. It cannot be too often repeated that only through the blood can nourishment and medicine reach the nerves. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make the blood rich and red and quickly restore vitality and energy to a weak nervous system. A nervous person who gives these pills a trial is almost certain to see good results and, what is more, the benefit will be lasting because the trouble is attacked at its root. Thin blood makes weak nerves. Building up the blood restores the nerve force.
