Dix-club Circuit Altoona, Pa., Jan. 23, — Not only will this city be asain represented on organized baseball this season, but there are reports that in efforts to form a new league, Charles F. Car-penter, former Trl-State president, will be selected to lead the new or-ganization. Back of the movement to have baseball in Altoona is the re-cently organized Chamber of Com-merce. F. G. Paige, of Pen-Yan, N. Y., is back of the new project. In a letter to the Johnstown Tribune he comments upon. Merce as the selected to lead the new or-to include Altoona, Johnstown, Mc-keesport, Butler, Connelsville and Uniontown, would be about the proper thing. He would also drop the I. and P. League proposition and name the new circuit the Pennsylvania State League. He is influenced to give up the Ohio towns because Steubenville and East Liverpool have lost their ball parks and are not enthusiastic about baseball just now. Paige has ap-proached a Johnstown man about be-coming president of the new league.
