PERSONAL SOCIAL

THE WEDNESDAY CLUB PRESENTS ARTISTS WED THIS MORNING AT ST. PATRICK'S CATHEDRAL

Mme Antoinette Szumowska, Pianiste, at Fahnestock Hall, Tuesday Evening, Feb. 3

The Wednesday Club has been fortunate in securing Mme. Antoinette Szumowska, a Russian pianiste, for the artist's concert of the club to be held at Fahnestock hall next Tuesday evening, February 3, at 8.15 o'clock.

A talented musician of the city writes the Telegraph to call the attention of all music lovers to this recital. "Having had the honor of a long personal acquaintance with Mme. Szumowska and being familiar with her many musical triumphs, I can safely predict that those who attend the recital at Fahnestock hall will be well repaid. The natural talents that asserted themselves in Mme. Szumowska as a child in Warsaw were developed to a wonderful degree under the tutelage of some of the world's greatest masters, the celebrated Paderewski having tutored her for five years after being attracted by the girl's extraordinary talent.

Mme. Szumowska has been in concert work for some time, meeting the very highest success and her name announced in connection with any musical event throughout New England, where she is especially known, is sufficient endorsement of merit to attract real musicians and audiences from the most exclusive musical circles. She has a most pleasing personality, is a fluent linguist, and a delightful entertainer. Musical Harrisburg should be well represented at the local recital.

On the program with Mme. Szumowska will appear Miss Saas, of Philadelphia, a soprano singer of more than local celebrity. Miss Saas will sing three or four songs, the first comprising German Lieder; English and American songs are in the second group and third will be Russian, German, English and French members.

This concert is free to all classes of members of the Wednesday club. The general public may attend by the payment of one dollar.

Surprise Paul Holler at His Camp Hill Home

A surprise party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Holler, Camp Hill, for their son, Paul Holler. The evening passed pleasantly with games and music, and after refreshments several of the guests gave informal talks.

MR. AND MRS. EDWARD P. GOUGH

MISS ELLA ETTINGER BRIDE THIS MORNING

Marries Edward P. Gough at 9 O'clock in St. Patrick's Cathedral

The marriage of Miss Ella Genevieve Ettinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Ettinger, of 122 Calder street, to Edward P. Gough, a former resident of London, England, was a pretty, early morning event, solemnized at 9 o'clock in St. Patrick's Cathedral, State street, by the Rev. Father T. B. Johnson.

Palms and ferns formed the decorations, and the wedding march was played by Miss Anna Volz, who gave the "Bridal Chorus" from Lehengrin as a professional and the Mendelssohn "Wedding March" as a recessional for the bridal party. The bride wore a suit of dark blue velvet of stylish cut, and a blue velvet hat, with white plumes. Her corsage bouquet was of valley lilies. Mrs. F. Anthony Glasser, a recent bride, acted as matron of honor for her sister, wearing a handsome velvet costume with hat to harmonize, and a corsage bouquet of tiny pink rosebuds. F. Anthony Glasser was best man.

Following the service, a wedding breakfast was served to the immediate families and the bridal party, at the bride's home, 122 Calder street, to-day with Mrs. John E. Fox, hostess, at her residence, 223 North Front street.

The rooms were bright with Spring blossoms and tea table was graced by an artistic arrangement of sweet peas and narcissus with maidenhair fern.

Mrs. Charles A. Kunkel poured chocolate and Miss Jennie Dull presided over the tea cups. Assisting were Mrs. Edgar W. Wallower, Mrs. Herbert Lloyd Thomas, Mrs. William Baird McCaleb, Mrs. Francis Jordan Hall, Miss Elise Haldeman and Miss Anne McCormick.

Souvenir Librettos For "The Lost Princess"

The final rehearsal of "The Lost Princess Bo-Peep," in which nearly 300 Harrisburg singers and actors are cast, is being held this afternoon at the Majestic. All the footlights are on, the orchestra is in the pit, the curtain will rise and fall and every detail will be carried out in the life behead the scenes.

Each group has its own dressing-room, where a chaperone looks over all. A regular "call boy" makes the rounds and every individual eagerly awaits his cue in the wings. All rehearsals have been conducted to the end that no one forgets a line or a group. The chaperones' whole responsibility being to keep quiet. Mrs. Lake says "There is not a child in this opera that does not know as much about the whole as I do. In fact my success is achieved by placing the responsibility on their shoulders, as you know I am not even on the stage during performances."

No encores are permitted. A splendid advance sale of seats is recorded, but there are still good seats to be had for each performance.

The curtain will rise promptly at 8.15. No one seated during the act. Carriage calls for 10.30.

MARRIED AT PARSONAGE

Miss Carrie G. Roberts, of this city, and Lester B. Lowe, of Steelton, were married last evening by the Rev. Dr. Jay C. Fernbrook at the parsonage of the Mackay street Church of God, 2148 North Sixth street. After a fortnight's trip to Richmond and other Virginia cities Mr. and Mrs. Lowe will reside at 1836 North Sixth street.
