IN EXPLANATION In the opening chapter of this history of the First City Zouaves and City Grays it was stated that this would be "a series of articles covering part of the work of this excellent command during its fifty-two years of service in peace and war"; that it would not nor could not be made a complete record of all the operations of the various companies in this long period of service; that names would be omitted that ought to be in and some inserted having no right to be there. This was unavoidable because of loose methods used in some cases and in the loss or mislaying of various books and papers of early days that would have been invaluable.

The data for the various sections was collected from many sources and in some cases required a great deal of search, not only to find the material, but to verify names and dates, and to correct errors known to exist in some of the books and papers. However, it has been made as complete as the records and the ability of the compiler permitted; and it is hoped it may prove satisfactory to all.

In making plates from the photographs, considerable difficulty was encountered in producing good results in engraving from copies which were in many cases faded by age or scratched and broken from handling. This is not surprising when it is considered that many of them were nearly or altogether fifty years old. Some of the late ones, also, were in bad condition and could not be reproduced clearly.

THE COMPILER. This ends the series of articles and cuts in the history of the First City Zouaves and City Grays so far as publication in the Telegraph is concerned. The entire collection will be printed in book form and will be sold to those who wish to subscribe for copies of it. Orders can be given to Sergeant Philip German, secretary of the First City Zouaves and City Grays Veterans Association, 25 North Fourth street.

Mother's Advice To Her Daughter

A Real Live Doll to Fondle Is Woman's Greatest Happiness.

One of the most important matters about which women concern themselves is their future status as a grandmother. And she is wisdom itself who knows of or learns of that famous remedy, Mother's Friend. This is an external application for the abdominal muscles and breasts. It certainly has a wonderful influence, allays all fear, banishes all pain, is a most grateful encouragement to the young, expectant mother, and permits her to go through the period happy in mind, free in body and thus destined to anticipate woman's greatest happiness as nature intended she should.

The action of Mother's Friend makes the muscles free, pliant and responsive to expansion. Thus all strain and tension upon the nerves and ligaments is avoided, and, in place of a period of discomfort and consequent dread, it is a season of calm repose and joyful expectation.

There is no nausea, no morning sickness, no nervous twitching, none of that constant strain known to so many women, hence Mother's Friend is really one of the greatest blessings that could be devised.

This splendid and certain remedy can be had of any druggist at $1.00 a bottle, and is sure to prove of inestimable value, not only upon the mother, but upon the health and future of the child. Write to Bradford Regulator Co., 132 Lanark Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for their book to expectant mothers.
