Facts substantiating the arguments of the members of the West End Improvement League were presented in an interesting and intelligent manner by George Tippett, a member of the committee which for several months has been planning to have Division street opened for the accommodation of the public, with the necessary crossing and protection, until such time as better facilities can be provided.

The status of the arms question is mation by President Wilson raising the embarge on arms.

The border patrol insofar as it has been preventing the smuggling of arms, may now relax its vigilance to some extent, though its services still be required to prevent marauding bands from crossing the international line or to keep armed comparations from moving back and forth from one country into the other.

with the right to remarry would be prohibited forever in the United States and in all places under the nation's jurisdiction by an amendment to the federal Constitution proposed in the Senate to-day by Senator Ransdell, of Louisiana. Enactment of uniform divorce laws for all States and Territories, with provision for separation without permission to remarry, would be directed by the amendment.

"If the United States were to write in the Constitution an amendment prohibiting absolute divorce, said the senator, "it would not be taking such a radical step as might at first be thought, but would be following a beaten path. Our own State of South Carolina—all honor to her—forbids divorce. It is absolutely prohibited in Italy. Spain and to two-thirds of the population of Austria-Hungary, while the Latin American countries of Mexico, Argentine Republic, Brazil, Peru, Chile and others have similar laws."

BREMNER IS WEAKER

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 4.—The condition of Congressman Bremner, of New Jersey, who has been lying at the point of death for several days at a sanatorium here with cancer, was weaker to-day. No hope whatever was held out for so much as a temporary recovery and his death was momentarily expected.

TWO VIEWS OF CLOSED CROSSING AT DIVISION STREET

The Telegraph presents herewith etchings of two of the lantern slide views shown at the West End Improvement Association's meeting last evening. They illustrate the need of a subway at Division street. The upper looks east from the tin mill and the lower shows the dip into Wildwood park and illustrates the contention of the association that the subway would not require much grading.

The league authorized the secretary to call the executive committee together for plans to make remonstrance against all new applications. The eight licenses held by men in the Eighth ward where the Capitol Park extension will drive them out will be fought so that they are not transferred to any other point in the city. The Lancaster Hotel, mentioned in the report of Colonel Hutchison to the January criminal court, was mentioned as one against which a remonstrance would be made, and the Paxtonia Inn is another against which it is said the league will take action.

These officers were elected after it was decided to defer the election of a president for a short time: Vice-president, Harvey Knupp; secretary, Benjamin Whitman; treasurer, J. Henry Spicer. The executive committee consists of the Rev. J. H. Daugherty, of the Civic Council of Churches; Mrs. M. Marjorie Stees, of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union; J. Frank Palmer, of the Christian Endeavor Society; J. Gilbert Aldinger, Dauphin County Sabbath School Association; the Rev. Alfred Kelley, Anti-Saloon League; the Rev. A. S. Lehman, Hummelstown; O. B. Leese, Linglestown; the Rev. J. W. Boyer, Williamstown; Aaron Daniels, Gratz; H. M. Miller, Elizabethville; Dr. Seabold, Millersburg, and the Rev. Clarence B. Fenton, Halifax.

Before February 15, the last day for filing remonstrances, it is the plan of the league to have every force against the saloon lined up. Reports were received of the work in the upper end of the city, where sixty petitions are out against the attempt of Isaac Marcus to get a wholesale liquor license at 1103 North Third street. The league promised add in this fight and called on the whole county to help.

Dirty Dairies Are Denounced by Douglas

Causes of bad milk and methods by which good milk can be secured were shown in a stereopticon lecture given by Dr. Henry R. Douglas, City Milk inspector, at the Academy of Medicine last night.

Dr. Douglas showed dairy scenes and followed the milk in pictures from the cow to the home. Dirty dairies and careless handling were vividly shown in the pictures and denounced by Dr. Douglas. He declared that dirty cows, filthy stables, unsanitary milk houses and careless farmers caused the poor milk supply in cities. He said farmers must be induced to handle milk carefully by showing the topublic who are the best milkmen.

HARDSCRABBLE BLOCK TO BE REPLACED BY

Commissioner of Parks Taylor Announces Plan For Solving Problem

HAS INSPECTED THE GROUND

To Be Paid From Loan; From Verbeke to Calder Streets Section to Go

One whole block of the "Hardscrabble" district will likely be removed to make way for a great city play-ground along the river front.

From Verbeke to Calder streets is the block intended for the purpose.

Funds for the project, should the movement be successful, will be provided from the $100,000 park and playground improvement loan.

By this plan the "Hardscrabble" problem could be partially solved, a fine playground ideally located in a congested district provided, and the necessary money for the improvement made easily available, it is believed. Details of the scheme and the question of the legal status of the proposed move are matters that are yet to be worked out.

If the plan proves feasible the initial steps will be taken just as soon as the money is obtained by the issue of the park improvement bonds.

Taylor Announces His Plan

Taylor Announces His Plan
Announcement of this idea was made yesterday by City Commissioner M. Harvey Taylor, superintendent of parks and public property, following a tour of inspection over the "Hardscrabble" district and the adjacent water front with Park Commissioner William E. Bailey and J. R. Hoffert, assistant superintendent and engineer for the park board.
"Of course the plans are only ttentative as yet," said Commissioner Taylor, "but I've gone over the ground with Mr. Bailey and the park board engineer and to my mind the scheme is an excellent one.
"Unquestionably it would help solve the 'Hardscrabble' problem, I think.
Then, too, it will give the city a playground in a district where it will be

Pay For It From Park Loan

"That is the way it would be done I've no doubt unless we could purchase the property in question to as good, or better advantage. But as I say, I'm not sure just what method of procedure will be adopted along that line."

"The money could be provided for from the park loan, couldn't it?"

"Yes, that is the only way, I suppose, that the funds could be provided. The double purpose of eliminating the 'Hardscrabble' district or a portion of it at least, and at the same time helping to continue the park and playground system, can be readily understood.

"My view of the matter is that we should try to get the upper section of Hardscrabble—that portion lying between Verbeke and Calder streets," concluded the Commissioner of Parks, "that would provide wide, ample space for a fine playground. Just when the matter will come to a head I can't say but we're working on the details now."

Barnes Boys "Got Drunk"

Barnes Boys "Got Drunk"

The Barnes boys went to Waynesboro last night and as usual "got drunk." About 10.30 o'clock they were ordered from the streets by Daywalt because of their noise and profanity. They went up an alley and called back that they would "get" Daywalt. He followed and they shot five shots at him in the alley. Daywalt then called Chief of Police Staley. While Staley followed the pair Daywalt went after a warrant.

The chief and another officer, named Harris, followed the Barnes boys, who left the town and took to the road. There Daywalt, following in a cab, joined the police.

The Running Battle

Staley and Daywalt went after the fleeing men, who had taken to the fields. The police and the fugitives exchanged shots and Daywalt, being faster, gained on the Barnes boys. Staley heard Daywalt suddenly exclaim "They hit me," and when he reached his associate found him on his hands and knees.

Daywalt told his chief he was dying, collapsed and was dead in a few minutes. Word was sent back to Waynesboro and to Chambersburg. Sheriff George Walker and State Policeman Curtis Davies organized several posses. It was after midnight when Walker and Davies, accompanied by a posse, reached the Barnes home. Upon their appearance the Barnes boys opened fire. Some of their buillets barely missed the sheriff and his men. The party returned to Waynesboro and early this morning renewed their efforts to arrest Daywalt's murderers.

Caught by Ruse

Approaching the Barnes' home they saw a team driven by Barnes' sister, Rose, going in the direction of a house where the outlaws had gone into hidding. Davies got into the wagon and ordered the girl to drive ahead. When the team reached the house the Barnes boys came running out. Davies, from the buggy, leveled his gun at the elder Barnes and ordered him to throw up his hands. Barnes started to run and Davies fired, the load entering his left side. The man fell, mortally wounded. Meanwhile the posse closed in on William Barnes and captured him. The elder Barnes made a statement admitting the killing of the policeman. The younger brother was handcuffed and taken to Waynesboro, where Magistrate Potter committed him to fall without ball.

Physicians from Waynesboro hurried to Glen Furney to attend the dying man.

Daywalt, who was killed, is from Emmitsburg, Md. He came to Waynesboro five years years ago. He is survived by a wife and six small children.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE

Would Find Suitable Room in Each Building Where Work Can Be Taught

An inspection tour through the grade schools of the city for the purpose of planning domestic science courses in the lower grades will be decided upon at the meeting of the school board on Friday night.

William A. Boll, chairman of the special committee appointed to look nto the proposition of putting a domestic science course in grades below the high schools, said this morning that he hoped to have the committee visit each building in the district by next week and determine whether in-stallation of the course would be prac-ticable.

On the committee are these directors: President, Harry A. Boyer, Adam Houtz and A. F. Werner.

At the meeting Friday night the whole board will be asked to discuss the matter, Mr. Boll said, and if possible, tentative plans made that the inspection can be more intelligently made. The committee wants to find a suitable room in each building where all the pupils taking the course will receive instruction in cooking, sewing and other household work.

The finance committee meets on Thursday night, but Mr. Boll says nothing of importance will come up except the payment of bills.
