

TUBERCULOSIS BEING STEADILY FOUGHT BY BOTH CITY AND STATE

Dispensary, Open-air Schools, Certified Milk and War on Filth Doing Much Good

BIG FALLING OFF OF CASES

Red Cross Seal Campaigns Doing Great Educational Work Each Year

More is being done in Harrisburg to combat the ravages of tuberculosis than in any city of its size in the State. The largest tuberculosis dispensary among the 115 conducted by the State of Pennsylvania is located in this city; open air schools have been provided by the School Board to care for and cure tubercular children; the local Board of Health is conducting a campaign to correct bad housing conditions; the physicians of the city, through the Academy of Medicine, have provided a supply of milk that is free from tubercular germs; and the Associated Charities and kindred charitable organizations are doing work in the homes to prevent the spread and growth of the disease.

The results of all these agencies working together may best be shown by the annual reports of the local Bureau of Health. In the last five years the number of cases has been reduced by 34.5 per cent, and the number of deaths has fallen off. In 1909

CITY AND STATE DOING BIG WORK HERE IN FIGHT AGAINST RAVAGES OF TUBERCULOSIS

JUDGE KUNKEL TO THE FRONT FOR THE SUPREME BENCH

President Judge George Kunkel, of the Dauphin county court, is now regarded in Philadelphia as the best fitted man for the Supreme Court nomination to be made in May and the advocacy of him as a candidate which has been so pronounced throughout the counties in this section of the State is now being heard in the Quaker City as well as in a dozen other cities of the Commonwealth. The only other names mentioned in connection with the nomination have been those of Judge Robert Sellers Frazer, of Allegheny, and Judge Gustave A. Endlich, of Berks, both of whom are men well known here, but neither of whom has the reputation throughout the State of Judge Kunkel. The Dauphin county jurist, who served three terms in the legislature, became nationally famous by his handling of the Capitol cases, and is regarded in many counties of Pennsylvania as the strongest man for the State's highest court.

Every year, when the cold snap catches the dwellers there without coal this process of demolition begins. John P. Cost of St. Valentine's Day Is Given Jolt by the Parcel Post

Ardent Swains Need Not Worry Now-a-days Because of Mailing Prices; Big Rush On

The high cost of St. Valentine's Day has been given a hard jolt by the parcel post system and this year finds a large increase in the size of love emblems that are now passing through the mails. Heretofore, due to the fact that valentines went through the mails as first class matter, the ardent lover was obliged to cut down on the size of his valentines because of the postage, but now the cost is cut just one-half, and as it is an old saying, that the bigger the valentine, the stronger the love, the boys and girls are increasing the size of their remembrances. While the increase in the size and number of large valentines is notable there is the usual rush of post cards, and according to individuals to-day attaches of the local Post Office will have a busy time during the next twenty-four hours.

FIFTY FIRES IN ONE NIGHT SEND HUNDREDS INTO ZERO WEATHER

No Lives Lost, But Many Persons Are Suffering From Exposure

New York, Feb. 13.—Fifty fires in New York between the hours of 7 p. m. and 7 a. m. drove hundreds of persons into the zero weather and gave firemen one of the busiest nights in the history of the city. No lives were lost but hundreds are suffering from exposure. In many cases people dashed out into the cold without waiting to dress or to find out whether there was any danger. A fire in a six-story apartment house containing a Turkish bath establishment and thirty families, drove two hundred scantily clad tenants into the street. The fire itself was trivial.

Dayton, of the United States District Court, was hanged to a telegraph pole.

RESULTS, NOT MEN, MUST BE TEST, SAY CITY COUNCILMEN

Commissioners Point Out That It Is Not Matter of Personality But Efficiency

"We are doing our best to complete the reorganization of the several departments of the city government before the first of March so that the important matters which must be taken up this year can have our undivided attention," was the statement of a member of the City Council to-day. This in response to the rumored removals of several subordinate officials and employees. It is explained on behalf of the City Council that there has been no intention from the start to rip out in any wholesale way the employees of the various departments; that it was so stated on the day the Lynch resolution was introduced and that on the same day Mr. Lynch made a public statement to the effect that the whole purpose of the resolution was to pave the way for such reorganization as was necessary in promoting harmony and efficiency of the several departments.

PARK BOARD ASKS FOR THE RETENTION OF HOFFERT AND FORER

First Action of Members Acting in Their Advisory Capacity to Councilman Taylor

Acting officially for the first time in an advisory capacity to City Commissioner M. Harvey Taylor, superintendent of parks and public property, the Harrisburg Park Commission has adopted resolutions relative to the reported retention of V. Grant Forer, park superintendent, and J. Raymond Hoffert as assistants. The resolutions deal with the excellent work of the two officials and point out numerous reasons why their retention is imperative for the general good of the city and for the park and playground improvement and development. In municipal circles to-day the action of the Park Board was widely commented upon in view of the climatic conference on appointments to-night. While it has always been understood that Messrs. Forer and Hoffert have had the unqualified endorsement of the Park Board, the tone of the resolutions is taken to indicate that it would be unfortunate if this, the initial advice of the commission, is not given some consideration. Copies of the resolutions were sent

CARLISLE CONDEMNS ACTION OF SELLS IN DROPPING FRIEDMAN

Citizens of Town May Call Public Meeting to Defend Superintendent

HIS SUSPENSION IS RESENTED

Bandmaster Stauffer Temporarily Dropped For Punishing Student

Carlisle, Pa., Feb. 13.—The suspension of Superintendent M. Friedman, of the Carlisle Indian school, by Commissioner of Indian Affairs Otto Sells, has stirred up an active sentiment in Carlisle in defense of the head of the institution and a number of the leading men are considering the calling of a public mass meeting to determine the sincerity of the large majority of people here in the defense of Mr. Friedman. It is expected that a committee of citizens will be appointed to-day.

When asked if he would make a statement concerning the charges, Superintendent Friedman declared that he would probably make one to-night, after consulting his counsel.

Charges Against Stauffer

In a dispatch from Washington last night it was said that Bandmaster Claude M. Stauffer had been suspended because he had punished a girl with a club, "inflicting severe injuries." It developed here to-day that some time ago there was a serious infraction of discipline in the school, and the matron asked that the girl be spanked. The bandmaster was assigned to the task and in the presence of the head matron, the school principal and the outing manager the punishment was administered. A paddle was used and the punishment was not unduly severe according to the witnesses. In fact, the girl, it is said, wrote Mr. Stauffer a letter after the spanking, thanking him for what he had done and declaring that she deserved it.

Friedman Supporter

Inquiries at the school made to-day point to the fact that the bandmaster has been a loyal supporter of the Friedman administration, and it is suspected here that the real animus against Stauffer is due to friction with Inspector Linnen of the government service, who is conducting an investigation here for Indian Commissioner Sells.

Bandmaster Claude F. Stauffer, of the Carlisle school, is married to a Harrisburg girl, who was Miss Maude Heagy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Heagy, 1823 Derry street. Both Mr. and Mrs. Stauffer are well known in the social circles of this city.

"I Do My House Work in Ten Minutes"

This is what a pretty and prominent suffragist told the New York newspapers, but she did not go into details as to just how she shows the average woman how to do likewise. One of the greatest modern labor savers is advertising in the daily newspapers like the Telegraph. It is the short cut to accurate and thrifty buying. It tells where to go and what to avoid. It tells what is new and useful. Nowadays a woman who would formerly spend half a day "shopping around" can run through her favorite newspaper and make up her mind as to just where she wants to go for the article she desires. A few minutes of real shopping time is consumed instead of half a day.
