COLUMBIA MUST WIN TO LAND PENNANT

Intercollegiate Basketball Race Is the Closest in Several Seasons

Special to The Telegraph.
New York, Feb. 18.—If Columbia should win her basketball game against Cornell at Ithaca to-night she will have a fairly good mortgage on the intercollegiate title for this year.

By defeating Princeton on Friday night Cornell climbed right up on the heels of Columbia, with three games won and one lost, while Columbia made it five straight on Thursday night by beating Pennsylvania with ease.

Columbia has already beaten Cornell, so the game to-night will be the last between the pair unless there should be a tie at the end of the season. Columbia sent in a green team against the Ithacans on the first game of the season, and the defeat of the champions of last year was a great surprise. Since that time Columbia has been steadily improving, and when it plays at Ithaca it will need all that improvement, for Cornell will be playing on her own floor, which is a decided advantage. Cornell has not developed as fast as Columbia, so there is every likelihood of a great contest. Columbia has won both of the games with Dartmouth, has beaten Pennsylvania, Princeton and Cornell once, and has not played against Yale.

Pennsylvania also plays Princeton on Wednesday, while on Saturday Cornell will play at Princeton, while Yale plays at Princeton. The standing of the teams to date is as follows:

	W. L.	P. F.	Points
Columbia	5	0	1,000 97 72
Cornell	3	1	750 105 86
Princeton	3	3	500 132 105
Yale	2	2	500 87 112
Pennsylvania	1	4	200 83 103
Dartmouth	1	5	167 102 127

Sulzer's Mine Yields Rich Deposits of Ore

Special to The Telegraph.
Tacoma, Wash., Feb. 18.—The steamship Delhi brought news yesterday that ex-Governor Sulzer's copper and gold mine, on Prince of Wales Island, Alaska, had yielded rich ore at the bottom of the shaft and hereafter would be a continuous point of shipment to the Guggenheimer smelter here.

The Delhi brought 1,000 tons of the highest grade ore from the mine that has ever been shipped from Alaska. The ore proved to be even richer than was expected and values have increased with depth.

To date the property has produced $1,200,000, which has been used mostly for operation and development.

Prayer Johnson says that mine employees expressed the belief that the mine would recoup the finances of the ex-Governor, its chief owner.

Philadelphia Navy Yard Gets Transport Contract

Special to The Telegraph.
Washington, D. C., Feb. 18.—Secretary Daniels yesterday decided to award to the Philadelphia Navy Yard the construction of naval transport No. 1 at a cost of $1,458,305. This decision means the building of slip ways at a cost of $200,000, as previously recommended by the Secretary of the Navy in his report to Congress. Instructions were issued to the architects to prepare at once the plan for the yard in anticipation of such an authorization from Congress.

Harrisburgers Will Dine With Sporting Writers

Harrisburg will be represented at the annual dinner of the Sporting Writers' Association of Philadelphia at Hotel Delphi to-night by W. Harry Baker, president of the Pennsylvania Exhibition Company; W. S. Tunis, Tri-State representative; John Marshall, director, and Manager George Cockill.

The guests of honor, Governor John K. Tener, Connie Mack, William F. Baker, president of the Phillies; D. Leroy Reeves, secretary to President Tener, of the National League; Walter H. Galtner, secretary to the Governor; George M. Graham, president of the Tri-State League; George D. Porter, Director of Public Safety; James R. Robinson, Superintendent of Police, and Hughie Dougherty, ex-king of minstrelsy, have promised the committee they will be on hand.

Allentown Boosters Were Busy Last Night

Special to The Telegraph.
Allentown, Pa., Feb. 18.—To raise $5,000 to boost and glorify Allentown throughout the medium of a ball team was the slogan adopted at a reception last night at which George M. Graham was the guest of honor.

The reception, which took place in the Elks Clubhouse beginning at 7.30 was attended by more than one hundred fans. The manufacturers present employ 3,000 persons and the total wealth and investment represented at the meeting was easily twenty million dollars.

Former Queen Enters Palace She Was Forced to Vacate 20 Years Ago

Honolulu, Feb. 18.—For the first time since her government was overthrown 20 years ago, ex-Queen Liliuokalani entered yesterday the old palace, her former home. The building is now the territory's capitol and on the grounds in front of it 12,000 persons participated in a dance to celebrate the opening of a week's carnival.

From time to time as the exercises proceeded, the ex-queen was seen to wipe tears from her eyes, but she said she had enjoyed the occasion and rejoiced over Hawaii's prosperity. She will be a guest of honor at various events during the week, with Governor Pinkham and the army and navy commanders, Brigadier General M. M. Macomb and Rear Admiral C. B. T. Moore.

PRETTY GIRL WEARS BREECHES WHEN SKIING

New York, Feb. 18.—Miss Polly Stevens, one of the most vivacious buds of the younger set, has created a mild sensation at Quebec, according to dispatches from that city, by aspiring to ski as well as the young officers at the Citadel. To facilitate the difficult art of balancing on the narrow runners she adopted the style of costume worn by the officers. Hence the sensation. Miss Stevens also appears in her natty breeches when tobogganing.

Tri-State Magnates Convene; Discuss Salary Limit Figures

Monthly Figures Not Likely to Be Changed; Schedule Comes Up For Approval

Special to The Telegraph.
Philadelphia, Feb. 18.—With every club represented the meeting of the Tri-State at Hotel Delphi this afternoon promises a busy session. Managers are also very much in evidence in their efforts to pull off deals and purchases. It has been arranged for the season to open May 6 and close September 7, Labor Day. President Graham has arranged a schedule calling for two-day stands and with the circuit more compact by the dropping out of Atlantic City in favor of Reading, a prosperous season is anticipated.

There will be an effort to cut off the salary limit restriction, but that move will not likely go through for retrenchment so far as it does not affect the character of ball played in the motto of the league this year.

The new administration feels that the clubs have not recovered from the "outlaw" days and that only by a strict adherence to the salary limit can the league be placed on its feet financially.

Following the meeting the magnates will gather again around the festive board of the Sporting Writers' Association in the evening and meet the other bright lights of the baseball firmament and about 400 dyed-in-the-wool fans.

RIVERSIDE RESIDENTS WANT NEW SUBWAY

To Co-operate With West End League in Division Street Project

Action condemning the dangerous railroad crossing at Division street and approving the move started by the West End Improvement League for a subway at that point, was taken last night at the monthly town meeting of the residents of Riverside.

Resolutions were passed and a committee was appointed to join with the West End Improvement League committee in urging action by the railroad. On this committee are Professor C. A. Ellinger, Harris McCormick and Fred Smith.

So that the community may have better fire protection, an effort is to be made to have the city water mains extended as far as Riverside. A committee, consisting of W. H. Bishop,

CENTRAL GIRLS TO MEET BILLOWNERS

Ready to Show Visitors What They Can Do Under Boys' Rules

The plucky little girls' basketball team of the Central high school will again meet the Williamsport High girls in a game scheduled for Friday evening, February 20, on the Chestnut Street Hall floor.

The local girls are ready to show their visitors what they can do under boys' rules in spite of the fact that they were defeated at Williamsport by a score of 10 to 2 when they were compelled to play girls' rules. The game will be a hard one, as the Williamsport five play an unusually strong game under boys' rules as well as under girls' rules. The Central girls have been doing excellent work this year and a fast game is assured when the two teams line up, as follows:

Central. Williamsport.
Beatrice Hinkle, g. Fyrmire, f.
"Billy" Shaffer, g. Krouse, f.
Helen Rauch, c. Lamade, c.
(captain) Baldwin, g.
Clodine Melville, f. Hunter, g.
Margaret Veldler, f.
Substitutes, Lillian Kamsky, Helen Hampton. Referee, "Ike" McCord.

Child Labor Will Be Given an Airing Here

All three political parties will be represented among the speakers on the "Child Labor Problem in Pennsylvania," at the luncheon of the Pennsylvania Child Labor Association and the City Club in the Curtis building, Philadelphia, next Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

In addition there will be others who will tell much about this problem. Dr. John Price Jackson, Commissioner of Labor and Industry, will tell of what his department is doing and hopes to do; Mrs. Samuel Semple, president of the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women, will tell of the activities of that organization in behalf of working children; Owen R. Loveloy, secretary of the National Child Labor Committee, will tell how far behind other States Pennsylvania is in the matter of protecting boys and girls in industry; Richard K. Conant, secretary of the Massachusetts Child Labor Committee, will tell about the successful operation of the recently enacted law in that State, which makes it illegal to work children more than eight hours a day, and Dr. M. Howard Fustell, professor of applied therapeutics at the University of Pennsylvania, will tell of the injury that results from a child being worked more than eight hours a day. Jasper Y. Brinton, president of the Pennsylvania Child Labor Association, will preside.

OLD FOLKS AT COUNTY HOME HEAR SONGS OF YESTERYEAR

Out at the county almshouse last evening they had a little minstrel show.

The Adams brothers, a local group of musical artists, have also got Poor Director C. L. Boyer's permission to entertain the old folks at the home. The program was observed in the chapel. There were sixteen of the old folks there; among them were some who have passed the fourscore and ten milestone. The entertainers played cornets, the banjo, the guitar and violin. Two of the songs were "Sally in Our Alley" and "Sally in Our Alley," and lots of other things they sang long before father was a boy.

Just before the final curtain a man tottering with the weight of nearly 90 years whispered to one of the singers. The singer nodded, murmured something to the violinist, then smilingly raised his voice.

And then the little group of gray-headed, wistful listeners heard "Silver Threads Among the Gold."

LADIES! LOOK YOUNG, DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and nobody can tell. Brush it through hair

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the tonic home or get a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully and removes dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.—Advertisement.

"JOSHUA SIMPKINS"
"Joshua Simpkins" will be the attraction at the Majestic Theater to-night. It is said to be a well written pastoral play, with an interesting plot, the story being a happy blending of sunshine and shadow. The situation is a most strikingly realistic with an overflow of fun and amusement. There are several comedy parts in addition to that of "Uncle Josh," which character is a whole show in itself. A sensational novelty is introduced in the third act in the shape of a realistic sawmill scene, in which a monster circular saw is used and which is said to actually saw through real timber. A fine orchestra is carried by the company, also a fine band of music, which will make a burlesque parade about noon.—Advertisement.

MRS. FISKE
"Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh," which Mrs. Fiske is to present at the Majestic Theater, to-morrow night, is the first play written by Harry James Smith, who prior to the production of the play in New York, three years ago, had for some time been considerably known for his reading public through his novels and magazine stories. "Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh" is an original play, worked out by the author in a most entertaining manner. He has provided Mrs. Fiske with a unique role, one which would many low laurels for her as developed by her magic touch. It will doubtless be somewhat of a surprise to see Mrs. Fiske in a play and in a role such as "Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh," since the majority of her plays have been serious. The play is a comedy, a serious line if it were searched for with a microscope. The play is a comedy, a serious line if it were searched for with a microscope. Nymphs in the Woods
Vaudeville's most pretentious diving and swimming act is enjoying popularity at the Orpheum. The Six Diving Nymphs do clever dives, that seem to be original with the different divers. When the curtain rises on their prettily staged offering, to represent a woodland scene, one can hear and see the water falls, and the songs of birds are heard. As the lights gradually grow brighter, one little and graceful form of a girl is seen, and then another, until all six clever nymphs are seen in varied colored diving costumes, reclining about the cliffs and trees of the setting. Then the time is supposed to be dawn, the nymphs are waking from their sleep, and one by one they begin to dive into their miniature ocean. It turns into a regular water carnival and is all action and fun. The engagement of Earl's Water Nymphs at the Orpheum is of more than passing interest and is a delightful capacity audience at each performance. Winsome Ethel Green is here, too, singing her way into more favor than ever.—Advertisement.

AMATEUR NIGHT
Another week has rolled around and to-night finds the usual popular amateur performances at the Orpheum. Some new local aspirants have entered the contest, and while some might be better than others, it is a foregone conclusion that a night of laughs is in store for those who attend. These performances will be given in connection with the other half of the week—Advertisement.

VICTORIA THEATER
Next Monday this theater will show the newest in motion pictures, Rexfax Musical motion pictures will be here. They show the latest in musical comedies, songs and dances. To-day will be shown the big four-act drama, "Redemption of Steve Harding." The fourth series of "Our Mutual Girl" will show the entering New York society. "Mabel's Strange Predicament," a Keystone picture, and "Romance of Sunshine Alley" will also be shown.—Advertisement.

PYTHIANS OBSERVE ORDER'S JUBILEE

Lodge Has 700,000 Members; Is Fourth Largest in the United States

George W. Penniman, of Boston, supreme representative of the Knights of Pythias, was the principal speaker last night at the golden jubilee celebration of the fifth anniversary of the founding of the order.

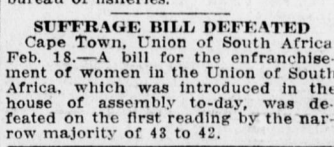

Every lodge of the Knights of Pythias in the city attended the meeting held in the Technical High School auditorium. Mr. Penniman's lecture formed the second part of the program. The Mendelssohn Quartet sang a number of songs before Penniman talked on the "Story of Pythian Knighthood."

The talk was illustrated with colored lantern slides, showing the ancient legend of Damon and Pythias, on which the order is based. He told how the lodge had grown in the fifty years until it has 700,000 members, the fourth largest fraternity in the United States. Mr. Penniman described the Northwest in concluding his lecture, showing Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada, where the next convention of the order is to be held this summer.

EXPERTS TO ACCOMPANY SENECA
Washington, D. C., Feb. 18.—Seizing the opportunity to study the biological and physical conditions of the North Atlantic ocean, furnished by the sending of the revenue cutter Seneca to those waters to look out for icebergs in accordance with the International Safety at Sea agreement, the Department of Commerce is preparing to send two experts to join the Seneca at Halifax. One will represent the bureau of standards, the other the bureau of fisheries.

SUFFRAGE BILL DEFEATED
Cape Town, Union of South Africa, Feb. 18.—A bill for the enfranchisement of women in the Union of South Africa, which was introduced in the house of assembly to-day, was defeated on the first reading by the narrow majority of 42 to 42.
