Facts in Nature

FOR centuries it has been known that Nature's most valuable health giving agents for the cure of disease are found in our American forests. Over forty years ago Dr. E. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Surgical Institute at Buffalo, N. Y., used the powdered extracts as well as the liquid extracts of native medicinal plants, such as Bloodroot and Queen's root, Golden Seal and Stone root, Cherry bark and Mandrake, for the cure of blood diseases. This prescription as put up in liquid form was called and has enjoyed a large sale for all these years in every drug store in the land. You can now obtain the powdered extract in sugar-coated tablet form of your medicine dealer, or send 50c in one-cent postage stamps for trial box to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., and tablets will be mailed, postage prepaid.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" makes rich, red blood, invigorates the stomach, liver and bowels and through them the whole system. Skin affections, blotches, boils, pimples and eruptions—result of bad blood—are eradicated by this alternative extract—as thousands have testified.

For Threatened Pneumonia—GOFF'S COUGH SYRUP

A neglected cold in the Bronchial tubes or on the chest may lead direct to Pneumonia. If congestion of the lungs sets in—GO FOR YOUR DOCTOR AS FAST AS YOU CAN. No cough syrup, nor even Goff's, should be depended on then. But, to prevent the cold from reaching that state, take Goff's Cough Syrup in time. The harmless herbs in Goff's loosen and raise the phlegm, allay the irritation caused by coughing and heal the inflamed lining of the throat. Goff's contains no harmful habit-forming drugs of any kind—no Morphine, Opium or Chloroform. Don't accept cough syrup that does contain these, or any other opiates. They drug the nerves and do not raise the phlegm—it goes further down until it reaches the lungs and congestion sets in.

Goff's Cough Syrup is made according to a 100-year-old formula, and for severe or slight Coughs, Colds, Croup, Grippe and all inflammation of the respiratory organs, is the time-tried remedy. For children it is a safe, effective medicine that they like to take.

All dealers sell Goff's Cough Syrup in 25 and 50-cent bottles—and the dealer will return your money instantly if Goff's does not help YOU. Try a Bottle!

As Shown in Lyman H. Howe's Travel Festival How Uncle Sam Built the Panama Canal

Here is one of the giant locks of the Panama Canal, the building of which made possible another remarkable Lyman H. Howe reproduction. ## Accident Nearly Fatal icy streets nearly caused a fatal accident at the grade crossing at Second and Mulberry streets last night. Unable to stop his horse, a man whose name was not learned drove onto the tracks just as the gates were being lowered and broke off one wing of the gate. He had barely gotten through the broken gate when a train whizzed by. He explained to the watchman that he was unable to stop his horse. Frank Simmons, 50 years old, 419 Cranberry street, a junk dealer, was struck by a trolley car at Eleventh and Hemlock streets at 7 o'clock last night, when his horse slipped on the tracks. He was taken to the Harrisburg hospital where his leg was found to be badly bruised. He had no other injuries. W. R. Brown, of 607 Briggs street, employed in the Auditor General's Department at the State Capitol fell on the Capitol plaza last night and dislocated his left shoulder. Charles Wright, of 57 South alley, fell at Fourth and State streets last evening and received a number of severe contusions.

Garbage Collection Held Up

On account of bad weather, the garbage collections are not being made in regular order, and many residents to-day made complaints to the local health officials. An investigation by Dr. J. M. J. Raunick, health officer, brought the announcement to-day, that until further orders, collections would be concentrated in one district each day.

Flood Fears Dispelled by Weather Forecaster

Pittsburgh, Feb. 19.—Fears of river and manufacturing interests that the rivers around Pittsburgh would be at flood height before nightfall were dispelled by the local weather forecaster early to-day with the announcement that the heavy rain of last night had soaked into the snow and would not be released suddenly into tributaries of the Monongahela, Allegheny and Ohio rivers. The Monongahela River was rising, but no flood was expected within the next twenty-four hours. There is the water equivalent of 1 1/2 inches of snow in the Allegheny and Ohio rivers. The Monongahela River and Allegheny watersheds, but unless this is suddenly released by unusually warm weather no danger is anticipated.

Floods in California as Result of Downpour

Los Angeles, Feb. 19.—Southern California was flood-bound to-day as a result of a downpour which started at midnight Tuesday and yielded from six to eight inches of rain in the thirty-two hours ending at 8 a. m. to-day. Railroad traffic was demoralized. In the cities the streets were turned into mill races. Storm drains were overtaxed and irrigation canals widened into lakes. The storm brought a recurrence of

Cured His RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusts did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no loss of time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation. If you write to me, Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 859 Marcellus Avenue, Massachussetts, N. J., better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation. —Advertisement.

LIQUOR SOLD ON CREDIT OVER BAR

Brown who had written the letters were in vain. Of the five men of that name in the city directory, every one had been looked up and none admitted having written the letters.

Notwithstanding the fact that the writer himself couldn't be found to substantiate his contentions, James A. Stranahan, counsel for the Civic Council of Federated Churches insisted that the fact the questions had been raised was sufficient to permit an interrogation of the saloonkeepers in question, and President Judge Kunkel sustained him. In the good-natured discussion between counsel as to the relevancy of admitting the letters, Lyman D. Gilbert playfully suggested that James A. Stranahan may have hidden "Mr. Brown" in his office.

The more startling evidence, perhaps, was offered against A. L. Taylor, 701-07 Cumberland street, though the names mentioned in the "Brown" letters—Jacob Simonetti, 401-03 Verbeke; George Kobler, 1232 North Sixth street; and Ferdinand Moeslein, Sixth and Ferberke—were also questioned on the witness stand. Mrs. Daniel Fralich, wife of a Pennsylvania Railroad engineer, was the chief witness against Taylor. Most of them have been licensees for years.

The only other case heard this morning was that of Anna Rakovsky, 527 Race street, and in the course of the afternoon the remonstrances against Patrick T. Sullivan, this city, John Shupp and David Baker, Steelton, and several of the applicants from out in the county were on the list for a hearing.

Before the hearings were begun President Judge Kunkel announced that all the applications against which no remonstrances had been filed and which had been heretofore privileged could continue throughout 1914. The applicant for the renewing of the Fletcher House, Steelton, was made by Alfred Fletchler, a son of the original licensee, and as there was no remonstrance against this place the renewing was granted. March 16 was fixed for the hearing of the application of E. McLaughlin for the renewing of the Mountain House, Jackson township, because the hotel has burned down and is now in course of reconstruction.

Taylor was first to admit that he sometimes sold liquor on credit. "Do you keep a book account, a credit book?" inquired Mr. Stranahan. "No, not exactly."

"Are not some of your patrons to whom you sell on credit railroaders?" "Some of them, yes, sir, I believe."

"Do you sell them on credit?" "No, exactly. If a man comes in and gets a drink and says he'll pay me in the morning or the next evening, why, I use a register slip."

"Is your husband ever intoxicated with any of them?" "No, sir."

"Ever sell to any persons intoxicated?" "No, sir."

Mrs. Fralich followed Taylor on the stand and her testimony set the courtroom a-buzzing. "Your husband, Daniel, she said, is a Pennsy engineer and he had run monthly liquor bills at Taylor's, she declared, that totaled as much as $20 a month. She had sent Mr. Taylor notices by constables, she said, commanding him not to sell any more liquor to her husband. A few days after her husband returned home intoxicated and said he got the liquor at Taylor's."

"He said," declared Mrs. Fralich, "that he would keep on a-going to Taylor if it broke up our home."

"Is your husband ever intoxicated when he goes out on the road?" Mr. Stranahan asked.

"Why, I've known him to go out on the road when I don't think he's been fit. He doesn't work, only when he wants to. He's told me a lot of times that he doesn't need to if he doesn't want to, that he can get a hundred or fifty or twenty-five dollars from Taylor whenever he wants it."

Counsel for Taylor tried to show that Mrs. Fralich and her husband frequently had family rows due to Mr. Fralich's love of liquor. A policeman was called to testify as to having been ordered to settle one of the disputes at the Fralich home. Incidentally Taylor denied emphatically all of the allegations of Mrs. Fralich.

The other three men against whom the inquiry was directed admitted that they had conducted no extensive systems of credit, but had occasionally trusted a patron from one evening to another if he didn't have the money to pay at the time of purchase.

Dr. John H. Eager, a declared that in the "beer district."

MACKAY DIVORCE IS A GREAT SURPRISE

gence there, but early in the year she left her Maine home for Paris and soon thereafter her husband appeared in the French capital.

Rumors of Reconciliation

There were rumors of a reconciliation last, but these were denied by Mr. Mackay. It now appears that the trips of the two to Europe was in accordance with a plan agreed upon when the separation suit of Mrs. Joseph A. Blake against Dr. Joseph A. Blake, the famous surgeon, was decided in the wife's favor without contest and Mrs. Blake dropped her suit for $1,000,000 against Mrs. Mackay for alienating Dr. Blake's affections.

Counsel for both Mr. and Mrs. Mackay made announcement of the mutual divorce last night. Both statements were brief. They recited that both sides charged desertion. Mrs. Mackay filing suit first. Mr. Mackay followed with a test suit. The decree, it was stated, gave the custody of the couple's three children to Mr. Mackay with right to visit them according to Mrs. Mackay. Mutual divorces it was explained, were permissible under the French law.

No Settlement Mentioned

No mention was made in the lawyers' statements of any financial settlement. Monetary matters were arranged, it is understood, a year ago when Mrs. Mackay signed over her title to the magnificent estate at Roslyn, L. I., to her son. This estate was given her by her father-in-law, the late John W. Mackay, of Bonanza fame.

Clarence H. Mackay inherited nearly $30,000,000 from his father. Since he came into his patrimony twelve years ago, the head of the vast Mackay properties is said to have almost doubled their worth.

The Mackays' children are Catherine, Ellen, ten, and John William, six.

Although the Paris court delivered its judgment granting a divorce between Clarence H. Mackay and Catherine Dyer Mackay on February 11, the verdict has not yet been docketed. Coudert brothers, the attorneys of Mr. Mackay, while confirming the divorce were unwilling to give any details. The French newspapers are forbidden by law to publish reports of divorce suits.

HOW I REALLY CURED MY GREY HAIR

I Will Tell You Free how to Restore to Your Hair the Natural Color of Youth

No Dyes or Other Harmful Methods. Results in Four Days.

Let me send you free full information about a harmless liquid which restores the natural color of your hair, no matter what your color of your greyness. It is not a stain. Its effects commence after 4 days' use.

I am a woman who became prematurely grey and old looking at 27, but a scientific friend told me of a simple method he had perfected after years of study. I followed his advice and in a short time my hair actually was the natural color of my girlhood days. This method is entirely different from anything else I have ever seen or heard of. Its effect is lasting and it will not wash or rub off or stain the scalp. It is neither sticky nor greasy. It is not detected, and it will restore the natural shade to any grey or faded hair, no matter how many things have failed. It succeeds perfectly with either sex and all ages.

Write me to-day giving your name and address plainly, stating whether lady or gentleman and enclose 2 cent stamp for return postage and I will send you full particulars that will enable you to restore the natural color of your hair, making soft, natural and easily managed. Write to-day. Address Mrs. Mary K. Cloman, Apartment 3227, Exchange St., Providence, R. I. —Advertisement.
