PUBLIC SERVICE OUTS FOR WEEK

Hearing Postponed After a Short Argument and Routine Business Taken Up

The Public Service Commission will adjourn late to-day until March 3. To-day the commissioners, who have worked until nearly midnight on accumulated work, went without much to clear up. One hearing was scheduled and it was continued until March 4. It was the application of the Lehigh Navigation Company for approval of an overhead crossing of the wires of the Pennsylvania Utilities Company, between Belfast and Wind Gap, in Northampton county. Some time ago the Navigation Company strung its wires across those of the protestant company, and the latter cut them. Attorney John J. Turner appeared for the Navigation Company and E. E. Beldeman and John R. Geyer, of this city, for the Utilities Company.

The commission approved these contracts: The Bell Telephone Company and the Borough of Kingston; The Bell Telephone Company and the Borough of New Cumberland; The Bell Telephone Company and the Borough of Mt. Wolf; and The Bell Telephone Company and the Borough of Dover, for constructing and operating conduits, poles and wires.

The Western New York and Pennsylvania Railroad Company and the Borough of Tonawanda, for lowering the grade in Main street in said borough, from Mechanics street to bridge over Oil creek. The Philadelphia Company and the Borough of Tonawanda, for constructing, operating and maintaining pipe line over a viaduct crossing Turtle Creek Ravine.

Henderson Saved.—Governor Tener to-day approved the recommendation of the State Board of Pardons for commutation of the death sentence of George Henderson, of Cambria county, sent to him by the State Board of Pardons with the report of Dr. Frank Woodbury, State lunacy expert, attached. Dr. Woodbury found evidence of insanity and on this statement, which went in the case in detail, the Board acted. The Governor took up the matter this morning after going over the reasons of the Pardon Board. District Attorney C. C. Greer, of Cambria, is understood to have issued a statement that he could pick flaws in the report of Dr. Woodbury, but he did not appear at the office of the Governor before action was taken.

Armory Board.—The State Armory Board last night rejected all bids for the Fourteenth regiment armory in Pittsburgh, approved plans for armories at Greensburg and Waynesburg and a site in Oil City. Progress was reported on Allentown and Lebanon. The Sixth regiment proposition for Philadelphia was referred to a committee.

Two Rejected.—The Water Supply Commission last night turned down two propositions involving filling in of streams. One was the application of the commissioners of Union and Northumberland counties for permission to fill in a channel of the West Branch at Milton to replace a section of a bridge and the other an effort to obtain right to make a fill in Clarion county.

More Auto Suits.—The State Highway Department has started a new stock of suits for running automobiles without State licenses. The use of 1914 tags does not appear to have occurred to some people.

Pollution Suits.—The Department of Fisheries has brought a number of additional suits for pollution of streams in Clinton county. It is expected that others will start next week.

Justice Named.—W. A. Anstine has been appointed justice of the peace for Dallastown, York county.

In Philadelphia.—Commissioner John Price Jackson is in Philadelphia attending to some mediation and inspection matters.

Perry Vacancies.—The State Department yesterday received ten commissions for Perry county justice from the recorder of that county, the men elected having declined to serve. Those declining were J. F. Baker, H. K. Kraft, Jacob Bizer, S. Orris, Jacob Johnston, Wilmer Stumper, Lewis Moss, L. W. Ferguson, S. F. Seal and S. L. Grosh.

Respite.—Governor Tener to-day respite Frank Wells and Luigi De Leo, Fayette, condemned to be hanged on February 26, until March 26, to allow their cases to be taken to the State Board of Pardons, and Joseph Elzaevicz, Westmoreland, for the same period, to permit an appeal to the Supreme Court.

New Commissioner.—David L. Lawrence has been commissioned as member of the Registration Board of Pittsburgh. He is a Democrat and for formerly stenographer to the commissioners.

Cole Named.—Thomas H. Cole, of Philadelphia, has been appointed by the commander of the Grand Army of the Republic as a member of the board of trustees of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Home at Erie to succeed the late General Louis Wagner, of Philadelphia.

Barnes Here.—George F. Barnes, of Ellsville, who was in charge of the successful farmers' institutes in York county, was at the Capitol to-day. He was formerly connected with the Department of Agriculture for the same period, to permit an appeal to the Supreme Court.

Secured Confession.—Through the work of State fire marshals a confession of arson has been secured in Huntingdon county from a man accused of barn burning. Several other arrests have been made this week.

Investigation Is Opened.—Washington, Feb. 20.—Congressional investigation of Representative Manahan's charges that the Chicago and Duluth Boards of Trade and the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce compose a combination in restraint of trade which fixes the price of wheat for the farmer and the price of flour to the consumer, was before the House rules committee to-day for the first steps for public hearings.

MISS FISHER SHIPP

TO CALL POLICE BY LIGHTS ON SUNDAY

New System Will Be Tested Tomorrow Evening; Central Station in Walnut St.

Steelton's new police call light system will be given its initial test this evening. Under the personal direction of M. J. Kain, local manager for the Harrisburg Light and Power Company, a force of linemen and electricians has been busy all week stringing the wires, placing the lights and installing the switches that will make it possible to call a patrolman to the part of town where he is needed by merely throwing a switch in the central station. This station will be in charge of Sergeant Masters, who no wacts as a night roundsman.

Although the system is practically completed, it will not be officially placed into service before to-morrow or Sunday evening. When the lights are flashed on this evening it will be only to see how the system works. The new system consists of two strings of wires radiating from the central police station in Walnut street to the lower end of town and up through the principal business section. A single incandescent incandescent lamp is enclosed in a large weather-proof glass bulb placed high up on poles where the light may be seen by the patrolmen in all parts of the business section and down town. Lights have been placed at Front and Conestoga, Front and Adams, Front and Pine, Front and Swatara, Front and Mohr and at a number of watch boxes belonging to the Pennsylvania Steel Company in the lower end of town. Later the system will be enlarged and lights will be placed at various parts of the town.

In connection with the call light system the borough police committee has arranged for the use of telephones at various places about town so that the patrolmen will hereafter be notified hourly to Sergeant Masters at the central station.
