

Women and Their Interests

By DOROTHY DIX

A woman demands: That a man shall be as iron to all the world, BUT putty in her hands. That he will be a creature of inflexible determination, BUT let her wind him around her finger. That he will know how to kiss, BUT that she will be the first woman he ever kissed. That he will be an adept at love making, BUT never utter a word of sentiment to any woman except herself. That he will always notice how she looks, BUT be blind to every other woman's appearance. That he will admire her when she is dressed up and has her hair waved, BUT that she will be equally beautiful to him when she has on a dirty kimono and her hair in curl papers. That he will never fail to go into ecstasies over the cooking when the dinner is good, BUT that he will not mind a burnt roast, nor watery vegetables. That he will have no nerves himself, BUT will know how to make allowance for nerves in his wife. That he will be the head of the house, BUT permit his wife to say where they shall live, what they shall spend, where they shall go, whom they shall know. That he will consider it a privilege to toll all day to support his family, AND be delighted to chase around half the night with his wife to parties and theaters. That he will be a cash register, AND a guitar, so to speak, one who can make money with both hands, while discoursing about the superman and the over soul. That he should adore his wife he would be utterly miserable when she is out of his sight, BUT be perfectly willing for her to go off for three month jaunts to Europe without him. That he should honor his wife by marrying her, BUT always be ready

SMART TOUCH GIVEN BY FIGURED VEST

Drapery of Skirt and Long Tunic Make an Excellent Combination

8163 Semi-Princess Gown, 34 to 42 bust.

WITH TWO-PIECE YOKE SKIRT, LONG OR THREE-QUARTER SLEEVES. Draped skirts and short tunics are bringing about extremely interesting combinations and this gown is one of the prettiest possible. Besides these two features, it includes a waistcoat for which can be used a beautiful figured silk or other fancy material. Altogether the gown is an eminently graceful one which appropriately can be made from soft finished taffeta or other silk to be adapted to more formal occasions or from wool poplin or other simple material to be adapted to every day use. It gives an exceedingly handsome, dressy effect yet it is very simple and easy to make. There are only two pieces in the skirt, the back being joined by a yoke to dispense with fullness. The blouse is cut with the elongated shoulders so that there is no fitting at the armholes. The various parts are all joined by means of a belt and the gown can be adjusted without difficulty.

For the medium size, the gown will require 6 1/2 yds. of material 27, 4 3/4 yds. 36 4 1/2 yds. 44 in. wide, with 3/4 yd. of figured silk 27 and 1/2 yd. of plain silk 21 in. wide for the trimming.

The pattern 8163 is cut in sizes from 34 to 42 inches bust measure. It will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper, on receipt of ten cents.

Women Have Narrow Escape From Pitching Over Bank
Special to The Telegraph
Sunbury, Pa., Feb. 27.—Mrs. Jane Eyre and daughter, Mrs. Harry Levan, of near Sunbury, were thrown out of their seats when a shaft broke and the horse they were driving became unmanageable. The accident happened on the top of a bank seventy feet high with an almost perpendicular pitch. Charles Sechrist and John H. Wentzel, witnessing the accident, ran to their assistance and saved them from plunging over the embankment.

Deaths of George Berkheimer
Special to The Telegraph
Mechanicsburg, Pa., Feb. 27.—Yesterday morning George Berkheimer died at his home in East Locust street, after an illness of six months due to spinal trouble. For a period of twenty-two weeks, he was unable to lie down. Mr. Berkheimer was 63 years old, and a veteran of the Civil war, belonging to Company E, Two Hundredth Pennsylvania, and ranking as sergeant. He enlisted twice and was honorably discharged. He was a member of Col. H. I. Zinn Post, No. 415, Grand Army of the Republic, and of the First United Brethren Church in this place. His wife and three children survive: J. Harry Berkheimer, Mrs. George Finkenbinder and Mrs. David Blosser, all of Mechanicsburg. Also one brother, Michael, of Dillsburg, and one sister, Mrs. Lucy Seifert, of East Berlin.

DILLSBURG CHURCH SERVICES

On Sunday morning communion services will be held in the Union United Evangelical Church by the Rev. A. I. Burkett, of South Baltimore street, who will be assisted by the Rev. P. E. J. M. Thompson.

How to Eradicate All Superfluous Hair
Advise by a Skin Specialist
As soon as women of to-day learn that permanent removal of ugly, repulsive hair growths can only be gained by reaching for hair roots and not by using common, worthless depilatories such as burning pastes, powders, evil smelling liquids, etc., the better they will be for their happiness and safety. Nor can the electric needle be depended upon to give absolute, perfect results without danger of horrible scars or facial paralysis. The best means I have ever found that never fails to remove all signs of disgusting growths of hair on the face, neck, arms or hands, is a simple, inexpensive preparation called Mrs. Osgood's Wonder. It is absolutely harmless, cannot injure the skin or complexion and in a surprisingly large number of cases has succeeded in killing the hair down to the very roots, source of its growth. When the roots are killed no more hair can grow. You can get Mrs. Osgood's Wonder from Kennedy's Medicine Store or any up-to-date druggist or department store, with the guarantee of your money back if it fails. Signed guarantee with every package. There is no longer need for any woman to suffer the embarrassment of this humiliating blemish. Let me caution you, however, not to apply this treatment except where total destruction of hair is desired.—Advertisement.

"COUNTRY GIRLS IN THE CITY"
The dangers in which girls, more particularly country girls, are subjected in the large cities, are shown in the film, "Traffic in Souls," which is now playing at the Majestic Theater through one of his wives. One of the more than 600 scenes shows a goodlooking, if rather countrified young woman alighting from a small omnibus. She is immediately bewildered with the buzz and whirl of the great city. A handsome young man, who is her assistance in getting her to the home of some friends. Young and unsuspecting she is taken to a small room, where she becomes aware of her danger it is too late. Several heartless men and more heartless women raid the room, and the erstwhile gallant proves the cruelest and roughest of all. The young woman is rescued, and her liberty before the plans of her captors have been carried out.—Advertisement.

IMPORTED ENGLISH COMPANY
The story of "Change" in brief, concerns the family of "John Price," an aged miner, who lives with his wife and three sons in a small, gloomy village. The sons have become educated by the father, who denied himself education for their sake. In order to keep the boys at school. At the opening of the play, the sons have returned home, and witness the first symptoms of "change" as it is no more than the conflict of the old and the new generation. The play opens with a series of stirring speeches with an undeniable ring of truthfulness, interrupted by "Sam" who is a philosopher. "Sam" declares he cannot understand the use of "all the money in the world," he joins in with sort of a chorus.—Advertisement.

CARLISLE ELKS MINSTRELS
This is the first day of the sale of seats at the Majestic Theater for the musical comedy, "George Brady's Dream," that is to be given there by the Carlisle Elks, under the auspices of the Harrisburg Elks, next Tuesday and Wednesday, with a bargain matinee on Wednesday. The production, which the Elks will have one of the most successful engagements ever enjoyed by an amateur theatrical company in Harrisburg. The news has preceded the company from Carlisle, where the show was given to three packed houses last week, that this is more than an ordinary amateur show. It is a well-acted musical comedy with forty-two song numbers, elaborate scenery, a good story, and gorgeous gowns worn by well-trained "show girls"—Advertisement.

"PUTTING ON AIRS"
Aside from the inimitable Knute Erickson at the Orpheum this week, there are two funsters of musical comedy fame and who are favorites in Harrisburg, who are making an ordinary circumstance would easily walk away with the comedy honors of the bill. They are Melville and Higgins, the eccentric comedy couple, presenting a new act called "Putting on Airs." Incidentally, they are the duo who had all Harrisburg saying "All the time you are picking on me, all the time." The act that these two are presenting this season is equally as funny as their turn of previous seasons. Miss Melville is a starling costume creation, while her partner still does the snug-fitting suit, fits so tight he is hard to beat. Both possess peculiar voices with a slightly hoarse tone, but they do harmonize quite beautifully in two or three numbers. His laugh-producers Melville and Higgins are a treat. They present one of the splendid attractions grouped with "Daddy Day" and "The Southern Gentleman" being the great local favorite, Knute Erickson. For next week the management is announcing the most wonderful musical production, "Colonial Days," as the leading attraction.—Advertisement.

AT THE COLONIAL
This will be Country Store Night at the Colonial, and a long list of valuable and laughable articles have been secured to provide a hearty feast for patrons of that playhouse, included in the list of fine presents is a beautiful pair of Melville and Higgins, who will run in connection with the fine vaudeville bill that is being presented with "Daddy Day" and "The Southern Gentleman" a comedy duo round out the vaudeville roster. "Chains of Honor," a splendid special attraction in the way of movies to-day.—Advertisement.

VICTORIA THEATER
As this is special feature day an extraordinary picture will be shown, entitled "The Betrothed," in six acts. Another big picture to-day is "The Leak in the Foreign Office," a two-reel

OPENS UP CLOGGED NOSTRILS AND HEAD IN ONE MINUTE—ENDS CATARRH MISERY

Stops Nasty Discharge, Clears, Stuffed Head, Heals Inflamed Air Passages and You Breathe Freely.
Try "Ely's Cream Balm."
Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely, dullness and headache disappear. By morning the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone.
End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately.
Don't lay awake to-night struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucous droppings into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.
Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.—Adv.

Questions and Answers

Frances L. Garside
At what age, Mother, does a child begin to detect its mother in a falsehood?
Maternal reverence, Little One, forbids an answer, but I have heard that children of two years notice this: A mother will remind a child it has on its Best Dress and must keep it clean, and five minutes later will say to a neighbor in a depreciating way: "Oh, that is only an old rag. I am ashamed to have the child seen in it."
What, Mother, is meant by a "father's strong hand"?
When a woman, Little One, is a widow, the people say her children need a "father's strong hand"; but when children have a father, this is all "Father's strong hand" amounts to: When they are bad he grumbles to their mother. "Why don't you make those children behave?"
What, Mother, is the important difference between a Mother and that of a Father?

Madame Isebell Gives Exercises for Stout Women

LESSON XII—PART VI.
My diet which I outlined for you in the last installment of this lesson with the following exercises will reduce the average patient three months weight. I do not recommend more rapid reduction. Unless the patient is very strong it may cause harm by over-reducing. Proceed slow and steady, it is more apt to be permanent.
Madame Isebell's Reduction Exercises.
Arise in time to have a free half hour before dressing for breakfast. Begin with the breathing exercises outlined in Lesson X and follow by the general exercises given in the first part of this lesson. Then do these three special reduction exercises:
1.—Hold the arms parallel with palms towards each other, keeping them in this position raise the right arm to the head, stretching the body as much as possible. At the same time rise on the right leg, and follow by the general exercises given in the first part of this lesson. When the arms are straight above the head continue the movement backwards as far as possible, keeping the head between the arms. Return to erect position with arms straight up. Now bend body to the left, keeping arms parallel and head between them, now to right. Relax. Repeat this exercise ten times.
2.—Place a rug or sheet, anything to prevent slipping, on the floor. Lie flat with arms close at sides. In this position roll over to the right ten times and then roll back to original position. Repeat this ten to twenty times.
3.—Place hands on hips and bend right knee forward, throwing left leg upward and back. Now reverse the position, left knee forward bent, right hip backward, and continue changing weight from one side to the other, acting slowly and then rapidly. Keep the hands clasped at the back of the head and continue this exercise until there is a decided ache in the leg and hip muscles. Repeat these three exercises before retiring. Walk at least one hour a day. You should do from five to seven miles on level road. Hill climbing is excellent. I shall be glad to answer any personal letters in regard to reduction from any of my pupils if they will send me a stamped address.
Lesson XII to be continued.
