Lykens School Girl Wins Prize For Forming Words

Special to The Telegraph. Lykens, Pa., March 3.—Joseph Maher, one of the leading characters in the Maher Operatic Company which played in the Lykens opera house this week, offered a prize of $5 to the person who would formulate the greatest number of words out of the letters in the word "Maher." The contest was keen and there were more than one hundred contestants. The prize was won by Lillian Werner, 13 years of age, a pupil in the Lykens grammar school, who succeeded in forming over one hundred words. Mr. Maher stated that he had created such a contest in every town visited so far and that Miss Werner had formed at least forty more words than any previous person.

Announcement of Possible Strike Met With Cheers

Pittsburgh, March 3.—Discussing the failure of the joint interstate convention at Philadelphia to reach a wage agreement for the bituminous coal fields of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Western Pennsylvania before the fifth district convention of United Mine Workers here to-day, Van Bittner, president of the district, said: "We still hope another joint meeting will be held before April 1 at which a satisfactory agreement can be made. If, however, no agreement is made before that time, there will be no mere suspension of work. There will be a strike, and not only will the union miners walk out, but every nonunion miner will quit work." The announcement was greeted with cheers by the delegates, who represent fully 50,000 United mine workers.

Lancaster County Teacher at Furnace School 23 Years

THOMAS H. WOLF

Special to The Telegraph. Columbia, Pa., March 3.—Among the big army of school teachers in Lancaster county none is better known than Thomas H. Wolf, of Elizabeth township, who has been teaching the Furnace school for a period of twenty-three successive years. This school is located near what was once the famous Elizabeth furnace, owned and operated by Baron Henry William Stiegel, a pioneer ironmaster of America, and also the founder of the first successful glass factory in this country. The estate passed into the hands of the Colemans and is still owned by the heirs, the tract including the historic Stiegel mansion, in which George Washington was entertained during the Revolutionary War.

Mr. Wolf was the son of a shoemaker and at an early age learned that trade. He kept an open book at his bench and acquired his early education by study in that manner. Later he entered the public schools and at the age of 20 years with his limited means and a sum which he was able to borrow he completed his education at the Millersville Normal School, and besides holds a permanent certificate. He is also justice of the peace of Elizabeth township and for years has been identified with the James Coleman Memorial Sunday School as superintendent and which is conducted in the beautiful Presbyterian chapel near the Coleman mansion. Mr. Wolf is 44 years old and is held in high esteem in the community in which he has spent his whole life. His home is at Brickerville, near the Lebanon county line.

GOETHALS TO BE PRESENTED WITH SPECIAL GOLD MEDAL

By Associated Press. Washington, D. C., March 3.—Colonel George Goethals, builder of the Panama Canal, will be the guest of honor and receive the National Geographic Society's special gold medal at the annual banquet of the society here to-night. President Wilson will present the medal and Secretary Bryan will be toastmaster. More than 700 guests are expected to be present, including members of the diplomatic corps, government officials, scientists and others. French Ambassador Jusserand will be notified of his election as an honorary member of the society.

FIGHT AGAINST GRAIN PITS

C., March 3.—The fight against the grain pits in the Chicago and Duluth Boards of Trade and the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce were aired before the House committee on rules to-day when delegations representing those markets and the organizations of farmers testified regarding the proposed investigation of those institutions.

CUSTOMS RECEIPTS DROP

By Associated Press. Washington, D. C., March 3.—Customs receipts for the entire United States for February fell off slightly more than $10,000,000 compared with the same month of 1913. This is by far the most marked discrepancy in such receipts for any month of 1913 that has been noticed since the new tariff became law.
