BISHOP BOWMAN WAS WELL KNOWN HERE

Educated at Dickinson College; Preached in Harrisburg Many Times

The Rt. Rev. Thomas Bowman, D. D., LL. D., senior bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church, who died yesterday at the age of 97 years in Orange, N. J., was well known in this city where he visited and preached many times during his many years of church work. He was born in Briar Creek near Berwick, Columbia county and was educated at Dickinson College, Carlisle. He was one of the oldest living alumni of that institution.

Bishop Bowman organized and for ten years was head of Williamsport Dickinson Seminary. His health had failed him while an instructor at Dickinson College, but after his graduation he had been given a charge in which he had to travel seventy miles by horseback to meet his people.

His greatest achievement was the work he accomplished in building the De Pauw University in Indiana. He was president of Asbury College, as it was then called from 1858 to 1872, when he was made a bishop. Bishop Bowman was a friend of Lincoln while he was chaplain of the Senate in 1864 and 1865. He often told how he warned the President against assassination five days before Lincoln was shot.

One thing that Bishop Bowman was very proud of was the fact that he had dedicated more than 1,100 churches in America. He was a man of extraordinary vitality and breadth of interest, and, despite his great age, he maintained his connections with the church up to the time of his death. Of course, he was obliged to retire from active Episcopal work many years ago, but even after he had passed his ninetieth birthday he made a practice of preaching occasionally from the pulpit of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church at East Orange, where he was a member. He was always noted for his skill as a preacher, and his appeal to young men was especially strong.

In East Orange he made his home with his son-in-law, Burns D. Caldwell, president of the Wells Fargo Express Company.

Unemployed Continue to Sleep in Churches

By Associated Press

New York, March 4. — Frank Tannenbaum, the industrial workers of the World leader, and his followers, who started out last Friday night to invade churches, demanding food and lodging, left the parish house of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, where they had rested during the night, early to-day. Tannenbaum told his followers to gather again to-night in Rutgers Square, to prepare for another march to obtain what he claims is their right—bread and a place to sleep.

Tannenbaum, the self-appointed leader and organizer of what he styles the unemployed men of New York city, is 21 years old to-day.

Speaking to-day of the movement he is leading, Tannenbaum said: "We don't want charity. We believe we are entitled to our bread and a place to sleep, whether we are working or not. We will not work for less than $3 a day."

I Will Stake This Medicine Against Your Time

A Few Days Will Be Sufficient to Prove Its Value in Your Disease

A few minutes of your time for a few days and I will demonstrate to you, without expense to yourself, that I have a medicine that drives out the poisons that cause kidney trouble, bladder trouble and rheumatism. I don't want you to let me send you some of this medicine so that you can use it personally.

I am trying to convince sufferers from these diseases that I have something far better than the usual run of remedies, treatments and such things, and the only way can demonstrate it out free of charge. This is an glad to do for any sufferer who will take the time to write me. Understand, I will not send you a valueless "sample, proof or test treatment," nor will I send you a package of medicine and say that you can use some of it and pay for the rest, but I will send you a supply of charge and you will not be asked to pay for this gift nor will you be under any obligation.

All I want to know is that you have a disease for which my medicine is indicated, as it is not a "cure-all," and I give herewith some of the leading symptoms of kidney, bladder and rheumatic trouble, and you notice more of these symptoms you need this medicine, and I will be glad to send you some of it if you will write me the numbers of the symptoms you have, give your age, and your name and address. My address is Dr. T. Frank Lynott, 1419 Beagan Building, Chicago, Ill. You promise me nothing; you pay me nothing for it. All I ask, so there shall be no mistake, is that you send me the numbers of your symptoms or a description in your own words and that you take the medicine according to the directions I send you. It is my way of getting publicity, not mine, so that it will become widely known.

You will agree when you have used it that it strengthens the bladder so that frequent desire to urinate and other urinary disorders are banished. It stops rheumatic aches and pains. It dissolves uric acid crystals so that back and muscles no longer ache and crook. It cleanses the blood and nerves so that you soon feel healthier and stronger, sleep better and eat better and have energy throughout the day. It does all this and yet contains nothing injurious and is absolutely vouched for according to law.

Sufferers from these dreadful and dangerous diseases can surely afford to stop a few minutes of their day for a few days to demonstrate to their own satisfaction if they are curable, especially when you are suffering from kidney trouble, and I willingly give you my time and my medicine. All any fair-minded afflicted person wants to know is if a certain thing will relieve HIM or HER, and here is an opportunity to find out without cost, obligation or important loss of time. THESE FEW DAYS may be the turning point in your life.

All who are interested enough to write me for the free medicine will also receive a copy of my large illustrated medical book which describes these diseases thoroughly. It is the largest book of the kind ever written for free distribution, and a new edition is just being printed. I will also write you a letter of instructions and medical advice that will guide you in the use of my medicine; but in order to do this I must know that you need my medicine. Write me the numbers of the symptoms that trouble you, and your age, and I will promptly carry out my promises. Show an inclination to write me and I will gladly send you a supply free.

COUNSELLOR MOORE RESIGNS HIS PLACE

licials, but they never were supported by anything official.

Mr. Moore is an authority on international law.

It was explained in official quarters that Mr. Moore was quitting the State Department in accordance with an understanding he had with President Wilson when he took office of counselor last May. In order to secure Mr. Moore's services, an arrangement was made whereby the counselor was to act as secretary in the absence of the head of the State Department and in other ways was recognized as second only to Mr. Bryan himself. On Tuesday, however, the counselor was to give his services to the State Department, for the first year of its administration, to assist in carrying out the new policies in contemplation and in reorganizing the forces so far as might be incident to the change of administration.

Had His Own View

It was declared by officials that the Max Baucus, the connection with Mr. Moore's retirement, that he had his own voice as to the manner of handling the situation and that they were not in all points in accord with the administration policies. It has been a common report but nevertheless it was pointed out to-day that Counselor Moore had lent loyal support to the President and Secretary Baucus in the execution of their plans at all times.

It was understood that in a statement later to-day President Wilson would take occasion to emphasize that the enthusiasm of the State Department without friction and that the most amicable relations will continue to exist.

How to Avoid Perils of Impure Blood

A Searching Internal Blood Bath Insures Proper Elimination of Causes of Most ILL Health

As the Tub is to Outward Cleanliness, so is S. S. S. to Inward Purity

Wherever men gather together in city club or country store there is certain to be someone who knows what was accomplished by S. S. S. It is usually some stubborn case of an indolent blood eruption, or some skin affliction that long defied all other treatment. The cold ear, trained to a special school, is indifferent to the enthusiasm of the so-called layman. But the actual experience, the obvious proof, the living witness is at least a message of hope to anyone that is similarly afflicted. And, after all, to purify the blood is not so much a question of probability as it is one of good judgment and persistence in the selection and use of an appropriate remedy. The fact that S. S. S. is a vegetable preparation with pronounced catalytic effect means volume to those who actually require a blood purifier. In a condition of perfect health the system takes care of itself.

This means that impurities absorbed by the skin are checked and made harmless by secretions selected by nature to render this peculiar service. It also means that the digestive system will soon adjust itself to temporary derangement by the laxative power of elimination.

And it also means that those atmospheric impurities which are breathed into the respiratory system to find lodgment in the tissues and set up a condition of disease are attacked and made innocuous by the body's ability to take care of itself when in a perfectly healthy condition. But as it is rare that anyone is in this state of ideal health, all sorts of diseases attack the blood. Thus the system must have help and S. S. S. has been found to give this help. Whether the impurities take the form of rheumatism, catarrh, malaria, eczema or other external manifestations of blood poverty, S. S. S. seems to provide the peculiar assistance required by the emunctories to overcome the destructive influence of retained body wastes.

From the fact that S. S. S. is purely a botanical preparation, it is accepted by the weakest stomach and has great tonic influence in all the digestive organs. It is certainly a wonderful blood medicine, and is prepared direct from native materials gathered by the experts of the famous Swift Laboratory. Not one drop of minerals or drugs is used in its preparation. S. S. S. is and insist upon having it. And if you desire skilful advice and counsel upon any matter concerning the blood and skin write to the Medical Department, The Swift Specific Co., 402 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Do not allow some zealous clerk to lure the atmosphere in eloquence over something "just as good" as S. S. S. Beware of all substitutes.

GEORGE'S FUTURE NOT KNOWN

New York, March 4.—The question whether William R.
