

JOSEPH P. THOMPSON LIKELY TO BE FIRST CAPTAIN OF POLICE

Much Talked of Ordinance Providing For New Appointments May Be Introduced Next Tuesday

LARSEN MAY BE REAPPOINTED

Mitchell Also Spoken of For Position on Force; Commissioners Say Nothing

JOSEPH P. THOMPSON Whom, It Is Understood, Will Be Harrisburg's First Police Captain

The long expected, much talked of police ordinance, creating the post of police captain and providing for the appointment of four more patrolmen, may be introduced in City Council on Tuesday.

Commissioner W. H. Lynch, superintendent of streets and public improvements and father of the resolution which recently dropped a dozen patrolmen, two sergeants, V. Grant Forrer as park superintendent, and Charles M. Spicer as assistant fire chief, will offer the measure, it is understood. That Joseph P. Thompson, a former lieutenant of police under ex-Mayors Meals and Gross, will be police captain is generally understood. He will likely be on duty during the day and his duties will be similar to those of the police lieutenant at night, it is said. He has long since been considered one of the most efficient officers that has ever served the city. Just whom the four patrolmen will be is still a matter of conjecture in municipal circles, although it is said that Victor Larsen, one of the policemen dismissed by the Lynch resolution, will be among the four. James Mitchell, one of the first officers to be dismissed under the new form of government, is said to be under consideration, too, although there is no official confirmation of this. If W. H. Shuman cares to be a patrolman instead of a patrol chauffeur, it is believed he can have the position. The fourth man choice hasn't been discussed.

REVOLUTION REPORTED TO HAVE BROKEN OUT IN BRAZILIAN STATES

Business Virtually Suspended in Several Sections of South American Country

NEWS IS BEING CENSORED

U. S. Directed Not to "Feel Any Uneasiness Because of Rumors"

Buenos Aires, Argentina, March 5.—A state of siege was proclaimed in Rio Janeiro, Brazil, to-day, according to a dispatch reaching here from that city. It is understood here that a strict censorship has been imposed on dispatches from Brazil. Reports have been current for some time that a revolutionary movement was in existence in the Brazilian states of Pernambuco, Ceara and Para, and that fighting was in progress between the local forces and the government authorities. The causes of the disaffection were said to have been racial differences. In the last week of February a body of fanatics was reported to be marching on Rio Janeiro. The situation in the various states was reported as becoming worse, especially in Ceara. Business was said to be virtually suspended in several states, chiefly those where the negro population was very numerous. The state of Ceara at the last census had a population of about 350,000, Para 450,000 and Pernambuco 1,200,000.

LULL IN INQUIRY INTO BENTON'S DEATH IS ONLY TEMPORARY

United States Said to Be Waiting an Outcome of Carranza's Investigation

POLICY RESTS ON RESULTS

If Bauch Was Wantonly Murdered, Satisfactory Explanation Will Be Asked

Washington, D. C., March 5.—The apparent lull on the part of the United States in pursuing its inquiry into the death of William S. Benton, a British subject, and into the mysterious disappearance of Gustav Bauch, an American citizen, is only temporary, according to those well informed on the intentions of the Washington administration. The United States, it was explained to-day, simply is awaiting the outcome of the investigation instituted by General Carranza himself not only into the Benton execution but in the Bauch case. Outwardly it was apparent that General Carranza's determination to supply information about the Benton case, though technically denying the United States the right to ask it, was favorably received here and his prompt ordering of the inquiry into the Bauch case likewise was welcomed.

Policy Rests On Result

Upon the results of the investigation and General Carranza's subsequent action depend in a large measure the policy which the American government will pursue toward the Constitutionalists. Much evidence of a conclusive character about Benton's death already has been gathered. Should the Carranza commission cover important points satisfactorily proved here, it is unlikely that the Washington government will remain silent on the question. There is every likelihood, too, that if Bauch was wantonly murdered, as reported, a satisfactory explanation of the incident and the punishment of the offenders will be demanded.

ZION CHURCH BUYS PARSONAGE OF GRACE M. E. FOR $12,000

Congregation Last Night Approved Purchase of Property on Pine Street

BIG THREE-CORNERED SHIFT

Deal Will Be Closed Before Next Monday; Lutherans Had No Home For Pastor

Zion Lutheran congregation last night unanimously approved the recommendation of the special parsonage committee that the property at 212 Pine street, owned by Grace Methodist Episcopal Church, be purchased as a parsonage for Zion Church.

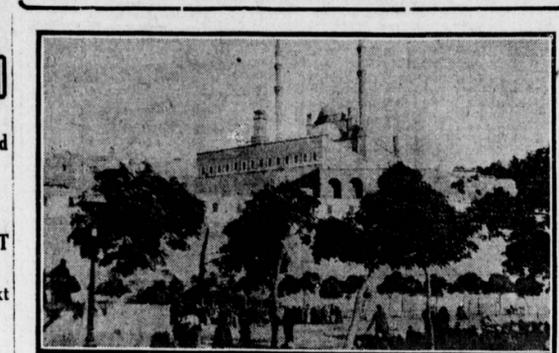

The deal whereby the church obtains the title to the property will be consummated before Monday. The purchase price of $12,000 was approved. Possession will not be given to Zion until April 1, 1915. At the congregational meeting held in the church last night J. S. Weaver, chairman of the special parsonage committee, explained the plan for the purchase of the Grace Methodist Episcopal parsonage. Other members of the committee were W. A. Zollinger, Ralph L. Brown, P. I. Brown and Dr. Croll Keller.

Three-Cornered Shift

This completes the three-cornered shift of church parsonages begun when the congregation of Pine Street Presbyterian Church purchased a new home at Front and Barbara streets and Grace Methodist Episcopal Church secured the old Pine Street property at 26 State street.

Zion Lutheran Church has not owned its own parsonage since it sold the old property at 311 Walnut street. The pastor has been living for two years at 107 Locust street. Grace Church expects to rebuild or at least greatly remodel the State street house. Dr. John D. Fox will live in the old property until the new parsonage is ready. Then it will be turned over to Zion. It is probable that many changes will be made in this house after Zion Church takes possession.

WILSON APPEALS TO CONGRESS TO REPEAL TOLL EXEMPTION

In Address He Declares Measure Is Now "a Mistaken Economic Policy"

USES 420 WORDS IN HIS TALK

President Assured That Early Action Will Be Taken in Both Houses

Washington, March 5.—President Wilson personally appealed to Congress, assembled in joint session to-day, to sustain the national honor of the United States in upholding treaty obligations by repealing the Panama tolls exemption against which Great Britain protests. He asked Congress to do that "in support of the foreign policy of the administration," and added that an exemption for American ships not only was "a mistaken economic policy," but was in violation of the Ray-Pauncefote treaty. "I shall not know how to deal with other matters of even greater delicacy and nearer consequence if you do not grant it to me in ungrudging measure," said the President.

"The large thing to do is the only thing we can afford to do; a voluntary withdrawal from a position everywhere questioned and misunderstood. We ought to reverse our action without raising the question whether we were right or wrong, and so once more demonstrate our respect for the treaty and our respect for the redemption of every obligation without quibble or hesitation."

His Shortest Address

President Wilson's address, the shortest he has yet delivered to Congress—exactly 420 words, was as follows: "Gentlemen of the Congress: I have come to you upon an errand which can be very briefly performed, but I beg that you will not measure its importance by the number of sentences in which I state it. No communication I have addressed to the Congress carried with it graver or more far-reaching implications to the interest of the country and I come now to speak upon a matter with regard to which I am charged in a peculiar degree, by the Constitution itself, with personal responsibility.

"I have come to ask for the repeal of that provision of the Panama canal act of August 24, 1912, which exempts

OPPOSE MAXIMUM AND MILL RATE PROVIDED IN LICENSE MEASURE

Harrisburg's Mercantile and Business Interests Urge Retention of Old Tax

Retention of the present tax of a fifth of a mill per dollar on the gross volume of business transacted and the removal of the maximum rate are being urged by Harrisburg's mercantile and business interests in the preparation of the proposed new license tax ordinance now being thrashed into shape by City Council.

Under the ordinance as drawn up, the tax rate maximum of $100 is provided. Following an open session on the question with Council yesterday afternoon the Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary Club, the Retail Furniture Dealers' Association, the Retail Merchants' Association and many individual grocers and other merchants placed the question in the hands of Attorney John T. Olmsted and City Solicitor Seitz.

At yesterday's session the gist of the complaint against the passage of the ordinance as introduced was summed up by Mr. Olmsted, coun. at law for the Chamber of Commerce. He asked that the ordinance be laid over indefinitely.

Mr. Moore prepared to take up his work for the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace and later to resume his place as head of the Department of International Law at Columbia University.

Although the official correspondence between President Wilson, Secretary Bryan and Mr. Moore, announcing the resignation, emphasized that the resignation was leaving the government service only because the term for which he has promised to serve was at an end, there was continued discussion in official and diplomatic circles of lack of harmony between Secretary Bryan and Counselor Moore, and persistent stories of how Mr. Moore became dissatisfied with the
