"Is There a Warrant Out For Me?" He Growled; There Was!

Frazier Man Calmly Walks Into Alderman's Office and Lets Mr. Murray Order Him Arrested

Into the office of Alderman Murray, North Court street, this morning shortly before 11 o'clock walked a slim little man who looked as though he might be hunting for trouble. "Is there a warrant out for me?" he growled.

"Your name, sir?" briskly questioned Mr. Murray glancing up from his desk. "George B. Grey, of Frazier," grunted the stranger in a don't-delay-me-I'm-in-a-hurry tone.

"There is," informed the alderman in the same tone. "We just sent an officer to Frazier with the warrant for your arrest a short time ago."

"Well?" inquiringly grunted George B. Grey again. "Place Mr. Grey under arrest," ordered Mr. Murray to Constable George Hains who was languidly puffing on a banded cigar. Hains slowly blew a few rings into the air, sighed with that satisfaction that only a smoker knows, then made the arrest. Grey was committed to jail for a hearing. Information was made against him yesterday by James Grey who alleges desertion, non-support and assault and battery.

Man Standing Back of Tree Only Had a Date

An honest confession by Walter Harrison, arrested last night by Patrolman Grear as a suspicious character not only saved the young man from imprisonment, but got him off after a hearing by Mayor Royal this afternoon; with advice instead of a fine.

Patrolman Grear said Harrison was hiding behind trees in North street about 12.30 this morning, and that he acted in a very suspicious manner. Harrison admitted doing the "hide and seek" game, but declared his object was merely to get a glimpse at a maiden he expected to meet, according to engagement.

CHICAGO, MILWAUKEE AND ST. PAUL UNDER FIRE OF PROBERS

Serious Irregularities in Accounting of Railroad and Subsidiaries, Is Charged

Washington, D. C., March 6.—"Serious irregularities" in the accounting of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad and its subsidiary, the Chicago, Milwaukee and Puget Sound, were charged in the report of an Interstate Commerce Commission investigation to-day by Commissioner Harlan, which makes the direct allegation that irregularities in reports of operations submitted to the commission were made for the purpose of influencing, favorably, disposition of St. Paul Railway securities.

PRETTI GIRL DEAD IN THE LOCHIEL HOTEL

[Continued From First Page] tion learned that no inquiries were made by the hotel employees to learn if the girl was sick and no call was sent for a doctor until she was found dead.

Bellboy's Story Rogers says that after the girl retired he thought it strange that she should act as she did, as she showed no signs of having been drinking. About 4 o'clock he sent young Miller, the bellboy, to the room to see if anything had happened.

In the room, the boy says, he heard a noise, and from a gleam coming from under the door he saw that the light had been left burning. He says the noise frightened him, and he reported to the clerk. Another bellboy was sent with him and they opened the door, which they found unlocked.

They saw the girl lying quietly in bed with her hands folded on her breast. She was completely undressed and there was no sign of a disturbance in the room.

The house physician, Dr. M. L. Wolford and Coroner Eckinger were called. Dr. Wolford pronounced the girl dead. As soon as Coroner Eckinger arrived he began an investigation.

Two small pocketbooks lying together on the table in the room contained only forty cents. The girl had paid $1.50 for a room. An envelope torn into small bits was found scattered about the room. The coroner put the pieces together and found the envelope addressed to Alex Swartz, general delivery, Pittsburgh. No letter could be found.

No trace of poison was found on first examination by the coroner and a post-mortem will be necessary to decide what caused death. She had not been drinking, Coroner Eckinger says, and she has the appearance of a refined young woman.

Look for "Cabby" He is trying to find the cabman who brought the girl to the hotel. He says he knows who it is, but is unable to locate him to-day. He thinks the cabby will throw light on whether or not the girl was ill when he picked her up or whether she took poison in the cab, if she did take poison.

HANGING ON

The advice to just "hang on" is pretty good in general, but not always suitable to the individual. It all depends on what you are hooked on to.

A farmer in Sullivan county, Tenn., a few miles from Bristol, had 100 bushels of potatoes which he intended to market during the winter. But the roads were so bad that he was unable to do anything with them.

CATHOLIC PRIEST DIES New York, March 6.—The Rev. Alexis Novak, a Catholic priest, visiting here from Taylor, Pa., died early to-day in a hospital to which he had been removed after falling between two cars from a subway platform at Times Square. The police were unable to find any witnesses to tell how the accident occurred.

Had Serious Lung Trouble—Now Well

Sufferers from Lung Trouble are often misled in the belief that nothing will save them. Rest, fresh air, wholesome food and regularity in habits do much in aiding to restore health, but something else is needed. Many people who have taken Eckman's Alternative have testified that it was this medicine which restored them to health.

"Gentlemen: Through your instrumentality I have been saved from a premature grave. On December 14, 1904, I was taken with Typhoid Pneumonia which developed into Lung Trouble. In February, 1905, I went to Fort Worth, Texas, and later to Canon City, Colorado. After being there two weeks my physician informed me that my case was hopeless. Three weeks later I returned home, weighing 103 pounds, the doctor having given me no assurance of reaching there alive. On July 14, 1905, I began taking Eckman's wonderful remedy for Lung Trouble. To-day I weigh 158 pounds. I am stout and well and can do any kind of work about my grain elevator.

ARTHUR WEBB. (Above abbreviated; more on request.)
